ARIZONA EMBRACE

The background of the cover is a photograph of a desert landscape. In the foreground, a man and a woman are embracing. The man is wearing a brown cowboy hat and a white shirt, and the woman is wearing a white top. They are standing in a field of yellow wildflowers. In the background, there is a large, rugged rock formation under a clear blue sky. A small cluster of purple flowers is visible in the upper right corner of the image.

McCoppin, 2023-02-03 Drawing upon historical archaeological and mythical examples from around the world this book reveals how societal views of female empowerment and authority can be directly traced to the reverence once directed towards female warriors priestesses healers queens pharaohs and goddesses Communities which revered women as sacred idols of their belief systems were far more likely to place women in prominent positions of social or political influence since their members were quite used to envisioning power in the hands of a strong or divine woman The book also explores how goddesses were purposefully devalued during the rise of patriarchal civilizations thus restricting the social importance of earthly women and their accompanying rights One such instance can be found in Greek mythology's Gaia once revered as a dominant earth mother she was replaced by a division of less powerful figures with more socially acceptable feminine roles such as Aphrodite the goddess of love typically held up as an object of male lust Hera the goddess of marriage and childbirth often portrayed as obsessed with jealousy over the extramarital exploits of her husband and the mostly silent goddess of the hearth Hestia The devaluing of once revered goddesses appeared in quite distinct ways across different cultures thus this book breaks down its chapters by global region including Europe the Middle East the Mediterranean India Asia Africa the Americas and Oceania Annual Reports of the War Department United States. War Department, 1866 Framing Community Disaster Resilience Hugh Deeming, Maureen Fordham, Christian Kuhlicke, Lydia Pedoth, Stefan Schneiderbauer, Cheney Shreve, 2019-01-29 An essential guide to the foundations research and practices of community disaster resilience Framing Community Disaster Resilience offers a guide to the theories research and approaches for addressing the complexity of community resilience towards hazardous events or disasters The text draws on the activities and achievements of the project emBRACE Building Resilience Amongst Communities in Europe The authors identify the key dimensions of resilience across a range of disciplines and domains and present an analysis of community characteristics networks behaviour and practices in specific test cases The text contains an in depth exploration of five test cases whose communities are facing impacts triggered by different hazards namely river floods in Germany earthquakes in Turkey landslides in South Tyrol Italy heat waves in London and combined fluvial and pluvial floods in Northumberland and Cumbria The authors examine the data and indicators of past events in order to assess current situations and to tackle the dynamics of community resilience In addition they put the focus on empirical analysis to explore the resilience concept and to test the usage of indicators for describing community resilience This important text Merges the forces of research knowledge networking and practices in order to understand community disaster resilience Contains the results of the acclaimed project Building Resilience Amongst Communities in Europe emBRACE Explores the key dimensions of community resilience Includes five illustrative case studies from European communities that face various hazards Written for undergraduate students postgraduates and researchers of social science and policymakers Framing Community Disaster Resilience reports on the findings of an important study to reveal the most effective approaches to enhancing community resilience The emBRACE research received funding from the European Community s Seventh Framework Programme FP7 2007 2013 under grant agreement n 283201 The European Community is not liable for any use that may be made of the information contained in this publication
