Crusading and Warfare in the Middle Ages Simon John,Nicholas Morton,2016-04-22 This volume has been created by scholars from a range of disciplines who wish to show their appreciation for Professor John France and to celebrate his career and achievements For many decades Professor France s work has been instrumental in many of the advances made in the fields of crusader studies and medieval warfare He has published widely on these topics including major publications such as Victory in the East A Military History of the First Crusade 1994 and Western Warfare in the Age of the Crusades 1999 This present volume mirrors his interests offering studies upon both areas The fifteen essays cover a wide variety of topics spanning chronologically from the Carolingian period through to the early fourteenth century Some offer new insights upon long contested issues such as the question of whether a new form of cavalry was created by Charles Martel and his successors or the implications of the Mongol defeat at Ayn Jalut Others use innovative methodologies to unlock the potential of various types of source material including manuscript illuminations depicting warfare Templar graffiti German crusading songs and crusading charters Several of the articles open up new areas of debate connected to the history of crusading Malcolm Barber discusses why Christendom did not react decisively to the fall of Acre in 1291 Bernard Hamilton explores how the rising Frankish presence in the Eastern Mediterranean during the central medieval period reshaped Christendom's knowledge and understanding of the North African cultures they encountered In this way this work seeks both to advance debate in core areas whilst opening new vistas for future research Medieval Arms and Armour Ralph Moffat,2022 Authoritative reference guide using the documents in which arms and armour first appeared to explain and define them A substantial and impressive piece of scholarship one that will serve scholars and enthusiasts of medieval arms and armour very well indeed Dr Robert W Jones Franklin and Marshall College Medieval arms and armour are intrinsically fascinating From the smoke and noise of the armourer's forge to the bloody violence of the battlefield or the silken panoply of the tournament weapons and armour and those who made and bore them are woven into the fabric of medieval society This sourcebook will aid anyone who seeks to develop a deeper understanding by introducing and presenting the primary sources in which these artefacts are first mentioned Over a hundred original documents are transcribed and translated including wills and inventories craft statutes chronicle accounts and challenges to single combat The book also includes an extensive glossary lavishly illustrated with fifty two images of extant armour and weapons from the period and contemporary artistic depictions from illuminated manuscripts and other sources This book will therefore be of interest to a wide audience from the living history practitioner crafter and martial artist to students of literature military history art and material culture
