Art And Social Life:

The Social Life of Art Peter Stupples, Jane Venis, 2014-11-10 This study examines not only the objects and processes that make up the artworlds of human history but also the social and cultural circumstances the historicised contexts that bring about their making frame their functioning inform their properties and influence their effects both at the time of their creation and throughout their subsequent biographies In the short span that art has played a part in human life one may conceive of time as a social river with a strong current towards the capricious mainstream and eddies and quiet pools near the banks The current will flow faster in spate and slower in drought But it will be forever in motion It will be unpredictable Nothing will stop its inexorable force Art runs in that social river subject to the flow and chance of time Modern Chinese Literary Thought Kirk A. Denton, 1996 This volume presents a broad range of writings on modern Chinese literature Of the fifty five essays included forty seven are translated here for the first time including two essays by Lu Xun In addition the editor has provided an extensive general introduction and shorter introductions to the five parts of the book historical background a synthesis of current scholarship on modern views of Chinese literature and an original thesis on the complex formation of Chinese literary modernity The collection reflects both the mainstream Marxist interpretation of the literary values of modern China and the marginalized views proscribed at one time or another by the leftist canon It offers a full spectrum of modern Chinese perceptions of fundamental literary issues Information and Creation German Golitsyn, Vladimir Petrov, 2012-12-06 This book is devoted to one of the central problems of contemporary thinking for which C P Snow in 1959 coined the phrase of the Two Cultures In this concept human endeavour is directed on one side to the forward looking sciences mathematics physics chemistry biology etc and on the other side to the backward looking humanities including psychology linguistics sociology etc In this dichotomy Snow saw no possibility of unification On the other hand the urge towards self consistency and harmony in the mental and spiritual lives of both man and society as a whole is clearly one of the major forces of creativity both scientific and artistic This force aims at the unification of the Two Cultures in order to build an integrated self consistent system for our intellectual life Some attempts in this direction have been made before and will be described in this book It is our aim to contribute to the achievement of an integrated mental life on the basis of information theory In order to construct our model we examine the laws of information theory leading us to the deduction of the main laws inherent in both cultures Thus we consider the evolution of both non living and living matter human behaviour the phenomenon of language the sphere of aesthetics etc We hope that our work will be useful both for researchers who are trying to derive different integral theories and for various other consumers of scientific knowledge meaning broad circles of intellectuals Art and Society Arnold W. Foster, Judith R. Blau, 1989-07-28 There is currently no reader in print that provides a broad ranging overview for an undergraduate course on the sociology of the arts or the sociology of culture This book remedies this situation as it provides students with an overall understanding of the current issues theoretical approaches and substantive contributions in the sociology of the arts Included are chapters on the aesthetic meaning of art the social and institutional production of art the links among audiences artists and cultural organizations tensions between artists and their bureaucratized working settings the training and careers of artists relations between art and society and the dynamics of cultural change In addition to section introductions there is a comprehensive introduction to provide students with an understanding of the history of the field its main theoretical currents and also to provide them with an appreciation of the contributions to cultural studies by other disciplines such as anthropology and history An extensive bibliography is also included in the reader which was developed to assist students who wish to pursue research topics

Screening Modernism András Bálint Kovács, 2008-09-15 Casting fresh light on the renowned productions of auteurs like Antonioni Fellini and Bresson and drawing out from the shadows a range of important but lesser known works Screening Modernism is the first comprehensive study of European art cinema's postwar heyday Spanning from the 1950s to the 1970s András Bálint Kovács's encyclopedic work argues that cinematic modernism was not a unified movement with a handful of styles and themes but rather a stunning range of variations on the core principles of modern art Illustrating how the concepts of modernism and the avant garde variously manifest themselves in film Kovács begins by tracing the emergence of art cinema as a historical category He then explains the main formal characteristics of modern styles and forms as well as their intellectual foundation Finally drawing on modernist theory and philosophy along the way he provides an innovative history of the evolution of modern European art cinema Exploring not only modernism's origins but also its stylistic thematic and cultural avatars Screening Modernism ultimately lays out creative new ways to think about the historical periods that comprise this golden age of film

The Social Organization of Arts Volker Kirchberg, Tasos Zembylas, 2024-11-22 In recent decades social and economic changes have brought about a growing awareness of the role of art and culture in society As a result scholars have turned their attention to a sociological view of arts developing hermeneutic approaches and conducting empirical research that have led to a wealth of insights into the organization of arts. These studies of the creation, production, distribution, evaluation, and consumption of arts are clearly sociological, but they include approaches from other disciplines, notably arts management studies and cultural policy research. Volker Kirchberg and Tasos Zembylas critically discuss seven major theories of the social organization of arts in Western societies with the aim of encouraging further research and theoretical developments.

The Oxford Handbook of Aesthetics Jerrold Levinson, 2005-01-27. The Oxford Handbook of Aesthetics has assembled 48 brand new essays making this a comprehensive guide available to the theory, application, history, and future of the field.

A Social History of Modern Art, Volume 2 Albert Boime, 1993-05-15. In this second volume, Albert Boime continues his work on the social history of Western art in the Modern epoch. This volume offers a major critique and revisionist interpretation of Western European culture, history, and society from Napoleon's seizure of power to 1815. Boime argues that Napoleon manipulated the production of images as well as information generally in order to maintain his political hegemony. He examines the works of French painters such as Jacques-Louis David and Jean-Auguste-Dominique Ingres to illustrate how the art of the time helped to further the emperor's propagandistic goals. He also explores the work of contemporaneous English genre painters, Spain's Francisco de Goya, the German Romantics Philipp Otto Runge and Caspar David Friedrich, and the emergence of a national Italian art. Heavily illustrated, this volume is an invaluable social history of modern art during the Napoleonic era. Stimulating and informative, this volume will become a valuable resource for faculty and undergraduates.

Decolonial Cultural Practices Towards Pluriversal Cultural Institutions and Policies Meike Lettau, Özlem Canyürek, 2024-12-31. The book critically examines the epistemological disparities between colonialism and capitalism, critical cultural practices, and Western art institutions. It does so through the lens of documenta 15, focusing on Ruan Grupa's lumbung approach, which confronts Eurocentric cultural norms and stimulates a shift towards pluriversal horizons, demonstrating the transformative potential of alternative methodologies. This book provides a comprehensive understanding of how collective methods and practices can cultivate pluriversal horizons in cultural institutions and policies informed by extensive field research at documenta 15. The key elements of the approach include interdisciplinary perspectives linking theory and practice and exploring under-discussed dimensions of epistemological disparities. It offers practical and theoretical insights into the development of frameworks for cultural practices and policies critical of coloniality and discrimination, recognizes the coexistence of equally valuable epistemes, and aims to dismantle Eurocentric structures in the cultural sector. This valuable contribution presents relevant insights for those interested in decolonial studies, diversity frameworks in cultural institutions, and individuals engaged in the critique and transformation of Eurocentric practices within the cultural sector. It will appeal to scholars, researchers, and practitioners in fields such as cultural studies, sociology, political science, cultural geography, cultural policy, and art education, as well as professionals and policymakers.
