Another Part Of The Wood:

Another Part of the Wood Beryl Bainbridge, 2010-04 On holiday together in Wales two families find little to do but play monopoly and snipe at one another Waiting in one of the huts near their forest encampment is a tragedy of which none of them is aware

Understanding Beryl Bainbridge Brett Josef Grubisic, 2008 This is a comprehensive companion to the novelist's darkly comic social and historical works In this introduction to prolific British novelist Beryl Bainbridge Brett Josef Grubisic provides a biographical sketch of the writer discussion of her motivations and techniques and a detailed survey of her fiction that places the works in the traditions of British black comedy social novels and historical fiction Born near Liverpool in 1934 Bainbridge has explained that her troubled youth was instrumental in her choice to write novels A fractious family discouraging social milieu and wartime deprivations forged the darkly comic perspective that informs Bainbridge's fiction Emerging on the literary scene in the 1970s with widely praised novels such as The Dressmaker The Bottle Factory Outing Sweet William A Quiet Life and Injury Time Bainbridge quickly established a reputation for her keen observations of social dysfunction and her darkly comic tone In approaching her works Grubisic maps Bainbridge's movement from social to historical novels beginning with the comic historicism of Young Adolf and continuing to her most recent fiction The Birthday Boys Every Man for Himself Master Georgie and According to Queeney Grubisic holds that in portraying historical events through a variety of narrative techniques or from oblique vantage points Bainbridge's latest novels partially ally themselves with the style and ideological concerns of literary postmodernism while still recalling the defining view of hardship established in her youth

Henry Walters and Bernard Berenson Stanley Mazaroff, 2020-05-05 Collecting Italian Renaissance paintings during America's Gilded Age was fraught with risk because of the uncertain identities of the artists and the conflicting interests of the dealers Stanley Mazaroff's fascinating account of the close relationship between Henry Walters founder of the legendary Walters Art Museum in Baltimore and Bernard Berenson the era's preeminent connoisseur of Italian paintings richly illustrates this important chapter of America's cultural history When Walters opened his Italianate museum in 1909 it was labeled as America's Great Temple of Art With more than 500 Italian paintings including self-portraits purportedly by Raphael and Michelangelo Walters's collection was compared favorably with the great collections in London Paris and Berlin In the midst of this fanfare Berenson contacted Walters and offered to analyze his collection sell him additional paintings and write a scholarly catalogue that would trumpet the collection on both sides of the Atlantic What Berenson offered was what Walters desperately needed a badge of scholarship that Berenson's invaluable imprimatur would undoubtedly bring By 1912 Walters had become Berenson's most active client their business alliance wrapped in a warm and personal friendship But this relationship soon became strained and was finally severed by a confluence of broken promises inattention deceit and ethical conflict To Walters's chagrin Berenson swept away the self portraits allegedly by Raphael and Michelangelo and publicly scorned paintings that he was supposed to praise Though painful to Walters Berenson's guidance ultimately led to a panoramic collection that beautifully told the great history of Italian Renaissance painting Based primarily on correspondence and other archival documents recently discovered at the Walters Art Museum and the Villa I Tatti in Florence the intriguing story of Walters and Berenson offers unusual insight into the pleasures and perils of collecting Italian Renaissance paintings the ethics in the marketplace and the founding of American art museums Encyclopedia of Occult Sciences vol.VI Second Part (The Magical Sciences) Low Magic Poinot, Maffeo, 2015-10-07 It follows from this phenomenon tested hundreds of times that every thing may carry around it an invisibly written history The same thing applies to the human being Every one of us carries around him a radiance invisible to the human eye but perceptible to the trained mind Inscribed in this radiance in the shape of pictures are the most important results of our thoughts and our actions In accordance with Tradition this radiance is termed the aura and there is an aura for every principle Thus there will be an aura of the physical body of very small extent an aura of the astral body an aura of the mind It is this last which was recognised by religious tradition surrounding the heads of saints and divinities with halos It is thanks to this radiance of the three principles of the human being that we can explain many seemingly strange phenomena such as sudden sympathies or antipathies intuitions and so called unconscious previsions etc Clairvoyance is also produced as we have said by means of a special magnetised condenser of the astral plane termed the Magic Mirror of which our author speaks in connection with the Arsenal of Magic just as he speaks of the visions seen in coffee grounds in the chapter dealing with divinations of the second degree And I quite understand the reserve which he shews here but perhaps he ought to have dealt separately at least with the psychometry which has been tested by experiments Our author it is felt gives but a limited belief to these divinations of the second degree Yet he describes conscientiously not the hundreds of ancient methods which are nearly forgotten but those of the Kabbala such as onomancy taromancy and also the oracles the prophecies which prove that the secret influences of this radiance govern many of our states of mind Sport, Militarism and the Great War Thierry Terret, J. A.

Mangan, 2013-09-13 The Great War has been largely ignored by historians of sport However sport was an integral part of cultural conditioning into both physiological and psychological military efficiency in the decades leading up to it It is time to acknowledge that the Great War also had an influence on sport in post war European culture Both are neglected topics Sport Militarism and the Great War deals with four significant aspects of the relationship between sport and war before during and immediately after the 1914-1918 conflict First it explores the creation and consolidation of the cult of martial heroism and chivalric self sacrifice in the pre war era Second it examines the consequences of the mingling of soldiers from various nations on later sport Third it considers the role of the Great War in the transformation of the leisure of the masses Finally it examines the links between war sport and male socialisation The Great War contributed to a redefinition of European masculinity in the post war period The part sport played in this redefinition receives attention Sport Militarism and the Great War is in two parts the Continental Part I and the Anglo Saxon Part II No study has adopted this bilateral approach to date Thus in conception and execution it is original With its originality of content and the approaching centenary of the advent of the Great War in 2014 it is anticipated that the book will capture a wide audience This book was originally published as a special issue of The International Journal of the History of Sport Philosophy of Religion in Islam Rahim Acar, M. Cüneyt Kaya, 2025-04-24 A major anthology of newly translated texts from Islamic thinkers on core problems in philosophy of religion

Bernard Berenson, the Making of a Legend Ernest Samuels, Jayne Samuels, 1987 Controversy swirls around Bernard Berenson today as it did in his middle years before and between two world wars Who was this man this supreme connoisseur of Italian Renaissance painting How did he support his elegant estate near Florence his Villa I Tatti What exactly were his relations with the art dealer Joseph Duveen What part did his wife Mary play in his scholarly work and professional career The answers are to be found in the day to day record of his life as he lived it as reported at first hand in his and Mary's letters and diaries and reflected in the countless personal and business letters they received His is one of the most fully documented lives of this century Ernest Samuels having spent twenty years studying the thousands of letters and other manuscripts presents his story in absorbing detail Berenson helped Isabella Stewart Gardner build her great collection and performed similar though lesser services for other wealthy Americans It was merely an avocation and a useful source of income his vocation was scholarship But after 1904 when the book opens his expertise was in ever greater demand a purchaser's only assurance of the authorship of an Italian painting was the opinion of an expert and in this field Berenson was pre eminent Increasingly he was drawn into the lucrative world of the art dealers inevitably Joseph Duveen found it essential to enlist his services at first ad hoc then by contractual agreement Samuels charts the course of Berenson's long association with Duveen Brothers detailing the financial arrangements the humdrum chores and major contested attributions the periodic clashes between the stubborn scholar and the arrogant entrepreneur The portrayal of Berenson's relationship with Mary is especially intriguing a union of opposites in all but brains and wit bonded despite love affairs jealousies recriminations no longer by passion but by shared concerns Impinging on their lives are those of a huge circle of friends and acquaintances in America and the beau monde of Europe Both as biography and as a chapter of social and cultural history it is a compelling book
