Anthropological Tour In Authentic Photog:

Colonialist Photography Eleanor M. Hight, Gary D. Sampson, 2013-06-17 Colonialist Photography is an absorbing collection of essays and photographs exploring the relationship between photography and European and American colonialism. The book is packed with well over a hundred captivating images ranging from the first experiments with photography as a documentary medium up to the decolonization of many regions after World War II. Reinforcing a broad range of Western assumptions and prejudices, Eleanor M. Hight and Gary D. Sampson argue that such images often assisted in the construction of a colonial culture. Anthropological Notebooks, 2006 Photography, Anthropology and History

Elizabeth Edwards, 2016-04-22 Photography, Anthropology and History examines the complex historical relationship between photography and anthropology and in particular the strong emergence of the contemporary relevance of historical images. Thematically organized and focusing on the visual practices developed within anthropology as a discipline, this book brings together a range of contemporary and methodologically innovative approaches to the historical image within anthropology. Importantly, it also demonstrates the ongoing relevance of both the historical image and the notion of the archive to recent anthropological thought. As current research rethinks the relationship between photography and anthropology, this volume will serve as a stimulus to this new phase of research as an essential text and methodological reference point in any course that addresses the relationship between anthropology and visuality.

Handbook of Research Methods for Tourism and Hospitality Management Robin Nunkoo, 2018-07-27 As research in tourism and hospitality reaches maturity, a growing number of methodological approaches are being utilized, and in addition, this knowledge is dispersed across a wide range of journals. Consequently, there is a broad and multidisciplinary community of tourism and hospitality researchers whom at present need to look widely for support on methods. In this volume, researchers fulfil a pressing need by clearly presenting methodological issues within tourism and hospitality research alongside particular methods and share their experiences of what works, what does not work, and where challenges and innovations lie. Creating Authenticity

Alexander Geurds, Laura Van Broekhoven, 2013-11-27 Authenticity and authentication is at the heart of museums' concerns in displaying objects and interaction with visitors. These notions have formed a central element in early thought on culture and collecting. Nineteenth-century explorers, commissioned museum collectors, and pioneering ethnographers attempted to lay bare the essences of cultures through collecting and studying objects from distant communities. Comparably, historical archaeology departed from the idea that cultures were discrete, bounded entities subject to divergence but precisely therefore also to be traced back and linked to a more complete original form in the even deeper past. Much of what we work with today in ethnographic museum collections testifies to that conviction. Post-structural thinking brought about a far-reaching deconstruction of the authentic. It came to be recognized that both far-away communities and the deep past can only be discussed when seen as desires, constructions, and inventions. Notwithstanding this undressing of the ways in which people portray their cultural surroundings and past claims of authenticity and quests for authentication remain omnipresent This book explores the authentic in contemporary ethnographic museums as it persists in dialogues with stakeholders and how museums portray themselves How do we interact with questions of authenticity and authentication when we curate study artefacts collect repatriate and make re presentations The contributing authors illustrate the divergent nature in which the authentic is brought into play deconstructed and operationalized Authenticity the book argues is an expression of a desire that is equally troubled as it is resilient

Anthropology and Egalitarianism Eric Gable, 2010-12-03 Anthropology and Egalitarianism is an artful and accessible introduction to key themes in cultural anthropology Writing in a deeply personal style and using material from his fieldwork in three dramatically different locales Indonesia West Africa and Monticello the historic home of Thomas Jefferson Eric Gable shows why the ethnographic encounter is the core of the discipline s method and the basis of its unique contribution to understanding the human condition Gable weaves together vignettes from the field and discussion of major works as he explores the development of the idea of culture through the experience of cultural contrast anthropology s fraught relationship to racism and colonialism and other enduring themes

Authenticity & Tourism Jillian M. Rickly, Elizabeth S. Vidon, 2018-09-14 This book brings together contributions from authors who are actively engaged in authenticity research in a tourism context In so doing it demonstrates the various trajectories research has taken towards understanding the significance of authenticity

Tourism Simon Coleman, Mike Crang, 2002 Book Review

The Framed World David Picard, Mike Robinson, 2016-12-05 Photographs create visual narratives of experiences places peoples and objects that collectively and individually comprise the tourist gaze Photography is acknowledged as having an important role in the determining of places and spaces the construction and re construction of identities and the invention and re invention of histories So why do tourists take photos of certain things and not of others Why do tourists take photos at all How do photos build places how do they change and shape lives An interdisciplinary team of contributors from across the globe explore such questions as they examine the relationships between photography and tourism and tourists

Re-investing Authenticity Britta Timm Knudsen, Anne Marit Waade, 2010 This book examines contemporary performances of authenticity in travel and tourism practices It re thinks and re invests in the notion of authenticity as a surplus of experiential meaning and feeling that derives from what we do at in places Drawing on wide ranging perspectives and cases it demonstrates how the feeling of authenticity within places is produced
