Cultural Intelligence (Youth, Family, and Culture) David A. Livermore, 2009-02-01 Twenty first century society is diverse and Christians must be able to understand other cultures and communicate effectively between and among them Following up on the bestselling Hurt Inside the World of Today's Teenagers this new addition to the Youth Family and Culture series explores the much needed skill of Cultural Intelligence CQ the ability to work effectively across national ethnic and even organizational cultures While rooted in sound scholarly research Cultural Intelligence is highly practical and accessible to general readers It will benefit students as well as guide ministry leaders interested in increasing their cultural awareness and sensitivity Packed with assessment tools simulations case studies and exercises Cultural Intelligence will help transform individuals and organizations into effective intercultural communicators of the gospel EXCERPT What do you do when you encounter someone who isn't like you How do you feel What goes on inside you How do you relate to him or her These are the kinds of questions we want to explore in this book Few things are more basic to life than expressing love and respect for people who look think believe act and see differently than we do We want to adapt to the barrage of cultures around us while still remaining true to ourselves We want to let the world change us so that we can be part of changing the world And we want to move from the desire to love across the chasm of cultural difference to the ability to express our love for people of difference Relating lovingly to our fellow human beings is central to what it means to be human And when it comes down to it Christian ministry at its core is interacting with all kinds of people in ways that give them glimpses of Jesus in us The billions of us sharing planet Earth together have so much in common We're all born We all die We're all created in the image of God We eat sleep persevere and care for our young We long for meaning and purpose and we develop societies with those around us But the way we go about the many things we have in common is deeply rooted in our unique personalities and cultures So although we have so much in common we have as much or more about us that's different

SPIRITUAL WARFARE: A Struggle for Truth Russell Sharrock, 2007-03-01 Much in the Church is being touted as biblical spiritual warfare even to changing it from being spiritual to be geographical This book criticizes spiritual warfare teaching comparing it to the Bible and offers a biblically reasoned discussion on spiritual warfare

Globalizing Theology Craig Ott, Harold A. Netland, 2006-10-01 One of the most powerful forces in the twenty first century is the increasing phenomenon of globalization In nearly every realm of human activity traditional boundaries are disappearing and people worldwide are more interconnected than ever Christianity has also become more aware of global realities and the important role of the church in non Western countries Church leaders must grapple with the implications for theology and ministry in an ever shrinking world Globalizing Theology is a groundbreaking book that addresses these issues of vital importance to the church It contains articles from leading scholars including Tite Ti nou Kevin Vanhoozer Charles Van Engen M Daniel Carroll R Andrew Walls Vinoth Ramachandra and Paul Hiebert Topics covered include the challenges that globalization brings to theology how we can incorporate global perspectives into our thinking and the effect a more global theology has on a variety of important issues

Cultural Intelligence David A. Livermore, 2009-02 An intercultural ministry expert demonstrates the necessity of Cultural Intelligence for effectively serving an increasingly diverse church and world

Advanced Missiology Kenneth Nehrbass, 2021-04-02 Advanced Missiology draws the connections between the theory and practice of missions Using the metaphor of a river the book shows how theories upstream such as theology education anthropology community development and history have exerted an influence on missiology and missiology in turn has gone back upstream to influence those disciplines What causes these disciplines to converge in missiology is the goal of making disciples across cultures Whereas missiologists are not always explicit about how their abstract theories actually relate to the task of making disciples across cultures each chapter in Advanced Missiology shows how numerous theories sub fields models and strategies of missiology ultimately facilitate the Great Commission The book argues that by using interdisciplinarity for this fundamental purpose missiological studies will be more credible and useful With contributions from Rebecca Burnett Leanne Dzubinski Julie Martinez

Experiencing the Gospel Thomas W. Seckler, 2020-05-18 In recent years increasing numbers of people from Muslim backgrounds have become followers of Jesus Some of these conversions have occurred in Cambodia This book explores the experiences and reflections of forty Cambodians from a Muslim background who have chosen to believe in and follow Jesus It is based on doctoral research utilizing in depth interviews which sought to answer the following questions 1 What role did contextualizing the Christian message play in making it more understandable and compelling 2 What core themes or factors did those interviewed report as central in their own conversions 3 How was the gospel message itself experienced as personally meaningful This book probes the answers to those questions revealing the manner in which forty Cambodians experienced God and the gospel message The stories and reflections found here not only provide a glimpse into their lives but also give insight into the way in which Muslim background individuals come to believe in and embrace Jesus

Culture in a Post-Secular Context Alan Thomson, 2014-05-16 Is culture a theologically neutral concept The contemporary experts on culture anthropologists and sociologists argue that it is Theologians and missiologists would seem to agree given the extent of their reliance on anthropological and sociological definitions of culture Yet this appears a strange reliance given that presumed neutrality in the sciences is a consistently challenged assumption It is stranger still given that so much theological energy has been expended on understanding and defining the human person in specifically theological as opposed to anthropological terms when culture is in some sense the expression of this personhood in corporate and material forms This book argues that culture is not and has never been a theologically neutral concept rather it always expresses some theological posture and is therefore a term that naturally invites theological investigation. Going about this task is difficult however in the face of a longterm reliance on the social sciences that seems to have starved the contemporary theological community of resources for defining culture. Against this it is argued that rich subterranean veins for such a task do exist within the recent tradition most notably in the writings of John Milbank, Karl Barth and Kwame Bediako.

Power and Identity in the Global Church: Brian M. Howell, Edwin Zehner, 2009-06-01. Power and Identity in the Global Church: Six Contemporary Cases applies contemporary sociological, theological and New Testament insights to better understand how God's people can do and should interact in the field thereby laying the groundwork for better multicultural approaches to mission partnership. The authors six evangelical anthropologists and theologians also show that faithfulness in mission requires increased attention to local identities, cultural themes and concerns including the desire to grow spiritually through direct engagement with God's word. In this context failure to attend to power imbalances can stunt spiritual and leadership growth. Attending to those imbalances should make Christian churches more truly brothers and sisters in Christ, equal members of the one global body of which Christ alone is the head.

Hybridizing Mission: Peter T. Lee, 2022-09-27. This qualitative study explores intercultural social dynamics among international Christian workers who are part of multicultural teams engaged in Christian ministries in a North African country. It seeks to understand these workers' lived realities at intersections of multiple cultural flows. Ethnographic methods were used to collect and analyze data and forty nine international Christian workers were interviewed. The findings of this study indicate that intercultural Christian workers go through complex intercultural social processes interwoven in the fabric of their everyday life. These processes are mediated by their social experiences in the local North African context and their multicultural teams resulting in significant changes in their personal dispositions and social behaviors. Based on these findings a working concept of diasporic habitus is developed and the practice of double discourses of culture is further examined. This research suggests that some existing missiological concepts need to be revisited and recommends further interdisciplinary conversations involving cultural anthropology and sub fields in psychology about the changes that happen to people in intercultural missions. It also calls for a reflexive approach to missiological research that incorporates awareness of one's situatedness and the lasting impact of historical entanglements on contemporary intercultural relations.

Interrogating the Language of "Self" and "Other" in the History of Modern Christian Mission: Man-Hei Yip, 2020-08-05. This book offers a critical analysis of the use of language in mission studies. Language and Christian missionary activity intersect in complicated ways to objectify the other in cross cultural situations. Rethinking missiological language is both urgent and necessary to subvert narratives that continue to fetishize the other as cultural stereotypes. The project takes a step forward to reconceptualize otherness as gift and such an affirmation should create a pathway for human flourishing and furthermore open new avenues for missiological exploration to address issues arising from a world dominated by bigoted discourses, lies and hate speech.

Worldview for Christian

Witness Charles H. Kraft, 2008-06-01 In Worldview for Christian Witness Charles Kraft invites readers to understand REALITY as God sees it by learning to take seriously the insights of other societies The diversity of cultures can seem obvious but to really understand the significance of those surface level differences one needs to understand the deep level assumptions on which they are based The Perception of Christianity as a Rational Religion in Singapore Clive S. Chin, 2017-03-23 This book evaluates the common criticism that Christianity in Asia is westernized Since the 1980s Asian evangelical theologians and missiologists argue that the intrusion of Western theology is responsible for the Western and hence alien expressions of Christianity in Asia Yet in Singapore the number of Christians has increased over the last few decades Empirical evidence demonstrates that younger Chinese Singaporeans convert from Buddhism or Taoism to Christianity partly because they perceive it as a rational religion over Buddhism or Taoism which are viewed as irrational or superstitious Not only do many converts favor Christianity as a rational religion but they do not regard Christianity as a Western religion at the point of their conversion What accounts for those recent developments This study explores the processes of modernization and globalization as important factors impacting religious change in Singapore Personal contextual and structural elements actually influence one's religion of choice In facilitating effective mission one must qualify the use of the categories Asian and Western because religious and cultural boundaries overlap What matters most in missiology is discerning how the gospel of Jesus Christ engages the self understanding and lived realities of ethnic and religious others in diverse cultural settings Grazing and Growing Megan Meyers, 2018-02-27 This book explores the impact of contextualized worship arts on the development of church ministry and missions in urban churches in Beira Mozambique This applied research which took place over the course of two years focuses on expanding the song writing workshop model in an effort to enhance culturally appropriate worship in the local church Results of this study include increased use of local hymnody intentional use of worship to teach theological truths engaged pastors and empowered worship leaders and a greater missional involvement through the use of contextualized worship arts This book clearly demonstrates the necessity of contextualized worship arts as a key component of local church growth and the development of its members encouraging personal discipleship growing local ministry and empowering for mission The Epistle of Paul to the Ephesians David J. Garrard, 2023-01-27 Ephesians high Christology means that it is impossible to read without making the individual aware of the absolute supremacy of the One who took on flesh for mankind's salvation Yet it is no simple study and one which requires careful examination of the numerous topics covered by Paul The purpose of this book is to develop not only Ephesians interpretation but facilitate a better understanding of the factors which have bearing upon everyday Christian living It is vital to grasp how these factors influence our relationship with what Christ has already made available for his followers and assure them of the perfection which is yet to be fully established at Christ's return The letter is full of unique material including the fascinating section on spiritual warfare in the last chapter As westerners our worldview tends to limit our understanding of the unseen world so that we often wrestle with such concepts as angels the Devil and demons but Paul makes it very clear that not only are these powers quite real but that at every level Christ is supreme This should give each of his followers the fortitude to aim at victorious living in him The Gospel in Human Contexts Paul G. Hiebert, 2009-06 A leading evangelical anthropologist missiologist provides students of intercultural ministry with an understanding of worldview and a strategy for effective long term ministry Contextualization and Syncretism Gailyn Van Rheenen, 2006 Culture s influence upon Christianity is easier to discern in retrospect than in prospect If history is our guide one thing is sure This age will be as syncretistic as any other How is the gospel being contextualized in the contemporary world To what degree are these new contextualizations syncretistic This book attempts to answer these questions by defining and analyzing contextualization and syncretism Gailyn Van Rheenen Walk Humbly with the Lord Viggo Mortensen, Andreas Osterund Nielsen, 2010-12-17 In June of 1910 delegates gathered in Edinburgh for the first World Missionary Conference One hundred years later the 2010 Church and Mission in a Multireligious Third Millennium conference sought to reconcile a century of seismic shifts in the worldwide landscape of the church with its ongoing mandate to make disciples of all nations Arising out of that recent conference Walk Humbly with the Lord presents a broad multinational spectrum of contemporary approaches to both theology and missiology Recognizing that the old Western notion of Christendom which formed the cultural backdrop of Edinburgh 1910 is now long obsolete the book s twenty seven forward thinking contributors respond to globalization and the enormous growth of religious pluralism worldwide offering reflections on the future of missiology and the relationship of church and mission Together they speculate about the possible shape of Christianity in a multireligious age as God works out new and unforeseen schemes in the reconciliation of the world I wish I could have been at the conference from which this book comes Viggo Mortensen and Andreas Nielsen have assembled a marvelous collection of reflections on mission that will be especially helpful to Christians committed to living faithfully and missionally in today s pluralistic world If a new postsecular reality is emerging as some are saying these essays will help the church be a sign of hope and stability in such a new age Stephen Bevans SVD Catholic Theological Union Chicago
