Anthropology and Contemporary Human Problems John H. Bodley, 2008 Using the cross cultural evolutionary and multi disciplinary perspectives that are unique to anthropology this text examines contemporary civilization's most pressing problems and generates ideas for solutions and hope for the future

Classic Anthropology John William Bennett, Classic Anthropology is Bennett's label for the work produced by anthropologists during the period 1915-1955 which many believe represents the most productive era in the discipline's history It is also one that can never be repeated given the fact that most of anthropology's basic data the ideas and customs of tribal peoples have been extinguished or greatly transformed by modernization and nationalization The book is composed of some fifteen essays Among the issues examined are the emergence of a functionalist viewpoint in ethnology the difficulties of developing a theory of human behavior because of the focus on culture the search for concepts of culture to serve specialized needs the neglect of social psychology by the culture and personality field how value judgments emerged willy nilly or conversely were neglected in ethnological research how applied anthropology was challenged by Action Anthropology and how the interdisciplinary anthropology of the late 1940s was submerged in the postwar effort to return the discipline to traditional roots Individual anthropologists whose work is examined include among others Bronislaw Malinowski Leslie Spier Alfred Kroeber Ralph Linton Margaret Mead Ruth Benedict Clyde Kluckhohn Gregory Bateson and Walter Taylor

Expanding American Anthropology, 1945-1980 Alice Beck Kehoe,Paul L. Doughty,2012-01-06 This book examines

American anthropology's participation in the expansion of the social sciences after World War II. Anthropology itself expanded into diverse subfields at this time on the initiative of individuals. The Association of Senior Anthropologists of the American Anthropological Association (AAA) asks some of these individuals to give accounts of their personal innovations in this discipline which provides primary source material on the history of American anthropology. Students' Britannica India: Careers Dale Hoiberg, 2000 Anthropologists in the Public Sphere Roberto J. González, 2004-04-01. Anthropologists have a long tradition of prescient diagnoses of world events. Possessing a knowledge of culture, society, and history not always shared by the media's talking heads, anthropologists have played a crucial role in educating the general reader on the public debates from World War I to the second Gulf War. This anthology collects over fifty commentaries by noted anthropologists such as Margaret Mead, Franz Boas, and Marshall Sahlins who seek to understand and explain the profound repercussions of U.S. involvement in the Middle East, Asia, Africa, and Latin America. Frequently drawing on their own fieldwork, the anthropologists go beyond the headlines to draw connections between indigenous cultures, corporate globalization, and contemporary political and economic crises. Venues range from the op-ed pages of internationally renowned newspapers such as the New York Times and the Washington Post to magazine articles and television interviews. Special sections entitled "Prelude to September 11" and "Anthropological Interpretations of September 11" include articles that provided many Americans with their first substantial introduction to the history of Islam in Central Asia and the Middle East. Each article includes a brief introduction contextualizing the commentary.
