Anthropology And The Dance Ten Lectures:

Anthropology and the Dance Drid Williams, 2004 Drid Williams explores dance and dance related subjects ranging from Aboriginal and African dances to the Royal Ballet and makes a compelling case for moving beyond the Western view of the dance as mere entertainment

Ten Lectures on Theories of the Dance Drid Williams, 1991 We like to think that stereotypes about the dance dancers and dancing are not as prevalent as they were in the 19th century but is this true Theories of the dance unlike sport signing martial arts and rituals are trivialized and vitiated by an astonishing number of outdated ideas This book aims to clear some of the intellectual underbrush that tends to accumulate in neglected fields of academic study and it will be especially useful to people who are interested in the anthropology of the dance and human movement

Anthropology and Human Movement Drid Williams, 2000 The first section contains four essays on themes ranging from the political nature of dancing in South Africa to the origins of English forms of traditional dance Confusions that exist regarding ideas of evolution subjectivity and objectivity progress primitivity and universality in dance and sign languages is the subject of the second part Finally intellectual resources on ancient dances movement literacy and evidence and the basic structures of argument are presented Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Living with Koryak Traditions Alexander David King, 2011-06-01 What does it mean to be a traditional Koryak in the modern world How do indigenous Siberians express a culture that entails distinctive customs and traditions For decades these people who live on the Kamchatka Peninsula in northeastern Siberia have been in the middle of contradictory Soviet Russian colonial policies that celebrate cultural and ethnic difference across Russia yet seek to erase those differences Government institutions both impose state ideologies of culture and civilization and are sites of community revitalization for indigenous Siberians In Living with Koryak Traditions Alexander D King reveals that rather than having a single model of Koryak culture Koryaks themselves are engaged in deep debates and conversations about what culture and tradition mean and how they are represented for native peoples both locally and globally To most Koryaks tradition does not function simply as an identity marker but also helps to maintain moral communities and support vulnerable youth in dire times Debunking an immutable view of tradition and culture King presents a dynamic one that validates contemporary indigenous peoples lived experience

Peacebuilding and the Arts Jolyon Mitchell, Giselle Vincett, Theodora Hawksley, Hal Culbertson, 2019-11-19 Ending violent conflict requires societies to take leaps of political imagination Artistic communities are often uniquely placed to help promote new thinking by enabling people to see things differently In place of conflict s binary divisions artists are often charged with exploring the ambiguities and possibilities of the excluded middle Yet their role in peacebuilding remains little explored This excellent and agenda setting volume provides a ground breaking look at a range of artistic practices and the ways in which they have attempted to support peacebuilding a must read for all practitioners and policy makers and indeed other peacemakers looking for inspiration Professor Christine Bell FBA Professor of Constitutional Law Assistant Principal Global Justice and co director of the Global Justice Academy The University of Edinburgh UK Peacebuilding and the Arts offers an impressive and impressively comprehensive engagement with the role that visual art music literature film and theatre play in building peaceful and just societies Without idealizing the role of the arts the authors explore their potential and limits in a wide range of cases from Korea Cambodia Colombia and Northern Ireland to Uganda Rwanda South Africa and Israel Palestine Roland Bleiker Professor of International Relations University of Queensland Australia and author of Aesthetics and World Politics and Visual Global Politics Peacebuilding and the Arts is the first publication to focus critically and comprehensively on the relations between the creative arts and peacebuilding expanding the conventional boundaries of peacebuilding and conflict transformation to include the artist actor poet novelist dramatist musician dancer and film director The sections on the visual arts music literature film and theatre include case studies from very different cultures contexts and settings but a central theme is that the creative arts can play a unique and crucial role in the building of peaceful and just societies with the power to transform relationships heal wounds and nurture compassion and empathy Peacebuilding and the Arts is a vital and unique resource which will stimulate critical discussion and further research but it will also help to refine and reframe our understanding of peacebuilding While it will undoubtedly become mandatory reading for students of peacebuilding and the arts its original approach and dynamic exploratory style should attract a much wider interdisciplinary audience Professor Anna King Professor of Religious Studies and Social Anthropology and Director of Research Centre of Religion Reconciliation and Peace WCRRP University of Winchester UK This volume explores the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Through a series of original essays authors consider some of the ways that different art forms including film theatre music literature dance and other forms of visual art can contribute to the processes and practices of building peace This book breaks new ground by setting out fresh ways of analysing the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Divided into five sections on the Visual Arts Music Literature Film and Theatre Dance over 20 authors offer conceptual overviews of each art form as well as new case studies from around the globe and critical reflections on how the arts can contribute to peacebuilding As interest in the topic increases no other book approaches this complex relationship in the way that Peacebuilding and the Arts does By bringing together the insights of scholars and practitioners working at the intersection of the arts and peacebuilding this book develops a series of unique critical perspectives on the interaction of diverse art forms with a range of peacebuilding endeavours

Facing the Fire, Taking the Stage Joseph J. Long, 2025-06-03 In the mid 2000s the Russian government began to merge Siberia's smallest Indigenous territories into larger administrative regions Among Buryat Mongols living to the west of Lake Baikal the state promoted a policy of National Cultural Autonomy which sought to separate culture from territory amid this consolidation of land and people Although public performances of Buryat culture were mobilized to show support for the policy Joseph Long's compelling ethnography provides alternative ways to understand the meanings attached to these displays At the same time the book documents how resurgent local rituals demonstrated enduring ties to the land Drawing on classic theories of ritual and performance Facing the Fire Taking the Stage explores how Buryat shamanism and state sanctioned performing arts have allowed Buryats to negotiate and express different kinds of belonging to people and land Based on several years of anthropological fieldwork in Western Buryat communities this book provides new insights into the ways that these forms have influenced one another over time While Buryat experience has been fundamentally shaped by Soviet communism and its aftermath Facing the Fire Taking the Stage shows how this history parallels the experience of Indigenous peoples worldwide Contemporary Dance and Southern African Rock Art Sylvia "Magogo" Glasser, 2022-07-04 This book weaves archaeology, anthropology, culture, politics, colonial history, dance, and choreography into a life-transforming tapestry. It charts the extraordinary story of the author's work in South Africa during the abhorrent system of Apartheid when she started a mixed-race dance company called Moving into Dance in the garage of her house. Her in-depth research into rock art, its meaning, the creation and performance of Tranceformations, the dancers' own transformative experiences, as well as issues of cultural appropriation, are at the core of this book. It straddles different disciplines and shows in real terms how art or specifically dance can transform people's lives, not only in physical or cognitive parameters but that it can change attitudes and perceptions of both participants and observers; that it can touch the human spirit and transcend the very essence of being human. This book also includes a link to a video of the 30-minute dance Tranceformations choreographed by the author.
