The Anthropology Of Globalization: Cultural Anthropology Enters The 21st Century Ted C. Lewellen, 2002 Presents the first and only critical overview of the anthropology of globalization a subject area so new that previously it existed only as multiple unintegrated ethnographies and theoretical positions Lewellen gives us the first analytic overview of an important new subject area in a field that has long been identified with the study of relatively bounded communities Globalization refers to the increasing flows of trade finance culture ideas and people brought about by the sophisticated technology of communications and travel and by the worldwide spread of neoliberal capitalism Unlike dependency theory and world systems analysis which tended to assume a bird's eye perspective globalization offers a down and dirty ground up approach in which ethnographic research is not marginal but essential Through multiple examples selected from the latest ethnographic research from all over the world Lewellen examines the ways that globalization impacts migrants and stay at homes peasants and tribal peoples men and women A crucial theme is that the global local nexus is one of unpredictable interaction and creative adaptation not of top down determinism Theoretically globalization studies have become the focal point for the convergence of interpretive anthropology critical anthropology postmodernism and poststructuralism which are combined with a tough empiricism For the casual reader or the classroom this work draws together the ethnographic studies and cutting edge theories that comprise the anthropology of globalization

Global Phenomena and Social Sciences Jean-Sylvestre Bergé, Sophie Harnay, Ulrike Mayrhofer, Lionel Obadia, 2017-10-26 This book offers new perspectives on global phenomena that play a major role in today's society and deeply shape the actions of individuals, organizations and nations. In a complex and rapidly changing environment, decision makers need to gain a better understanding of global phenomena to adapt and to anticipate the evolution of the global context. The authors, ten renowned international scholars of anthropology, economics, law, management and political science, propose an interdisciplinary and comparative approach to social sciences. They analyse how international phenomena such as globalisation or transnationalisation transform the disciplines of social sciences from an epistemological standpoint. Explaining what global means in different disciplines, the authors analyse several global phenomena that characterise today's international environment such as the circulation of norms and ideas, the linkages between war and globalization, corporate governance and the impact of multinational enterprises on sustainable development and poverty reduction. Providing examples of analytical disciplinary approaches and guidelines for decision makers in a fast-changing global context, this book will be useful to scholars and students of anthropology, economics, law, management and political science as well as practitioners in the private and public sectors.

Globalisation Thomas Hylland Eriksen, 2003-06-20 Globalisation has had a massive impact on the teaching and practice of anthropology. This book addresses the methodological problems that these changes have wrought. The essays show how the focus has shifted from traditional studies of specific sites towards the movements and shifts associated with increasing migration and population flows, the result of living in an increasingly globalised world. Written by a range of distinguished anthropologists, it offers innovative new approaches to the discipline in the light of these changes, making it indispensable as a teaching text at higher levels and as mandatory reading for practitioners and researchers in a wide range of merging disciplines. Topics explored include the methodology of studying on the internet, global and spatial identities in the Caribbean, shifting boundaries in coastal communities, the anthropology of political life, issues of law and the flow of human substances and the diffusion of moral values created by globalisation.
