Antiphon And Anes:

Lives of the Attic Orators Joseph Roisman, Ian Worthington, 2015 This volume provides a complete translation of and historical and historiographical commentary on the lives of the ten Attic orators given by Pseudo Plutarch Photius and the Suda Assessing these works as important historical sources for the individual lives and careers of the orators whose works have survived this systematic study explores how these literary biographies were constructed the information they provide and their veracity In depth commentary notes offer contextual information explain references and examine individual rhetorical phrases and a glossary of technical terms provides a quick reference guide to the more obscure oratorical and political terms The volume also includes a detailed introduction which discusses the evolution of Greek oratory and rhetoric the so called Canon of the Ten Orators the authorship dates and sources of the biographies provided by Pseudo Plutarch Photius and the Suda and a brief consideration of orators whose speeches were either falsely attributed to Demosthenes or may be referenced in the ancient lives

The Emergence of the Lyric Canon Theodora A. Hadjimichael, 2019 The Hellenistic period was an era of literary canons of privileged texts and collections One of the most stable of these consisted of the nine rarely ten lyric poets whether the selection was based on poetic quality popularity or the availability of texts in the Library of Alexandria the Lyric Canon offers a valuable and revealing window on the reception and survival of lyric in antiquity This volume explores the complexities inherent in the process by which lyric poetry was canonized and discusses questions connected with the textual transmission and preservation of lyric poems from the archaic period through to the Hellenistic era It firstly contextualizes lyric poetry geographically and then focuses on a broad range of sources that played a critical role in the survival of lyric poetry in particular comedy Plato Aristotle's Peripatetic school and the Hellenistic scholars to discuss the reception of the nine canonical lyric poets and their work By exploring the ways in which fifth and fourth century sources interpreted lyric material and the role they played both in the scholarly work of the Alexandrians and in the creation of what we conventionally call the Hellenistic Lyric Canon it elucidates what can be defined as the prevailing pattern in the transmission of lyric poetry as well as the place of Bacchylides as a puzzling exception to this norm The overall discussion conclusively demonstrates that the canonizing process of the lyric poets was already at work from the fifth century BC and that it is reflected both in the evaluation of lyric by fourth century thinkers and in the activities of the Hellenistic scholars in the Library of Alexandria dynamics may have come to shape official civic decisions during a time of perceived hardship At first sight so puzzling these trials reveal a vivid picture of the socio political environment of Athens during the early mid fourth century BCE including responses to changes in women s status and behaviour and attitudes to ritual activities within the city The volume reveals some of the characters events and even emotions that would help to shape an emergent concept of magic it suggests that the boundary of acceptable behaviour was shifting not only within the legal arena but also through the active involvement of society beyond the courts
