Antitrust Policy In A Free Society Champions Of Freedom V 1:

National Legal Bibliography, 1987 The Modernisation of EC Antitrust Law Rein Wesseling, 2000-07 In recent years European Community EC competition law has come under fire Continued criticism of all aspects of the means by which EC competition law is enforced has brought to light ineffectiveness of the present system Consequently the European Commission has responded by issuing the White Paper on Modernisation which sets out its vision on the future of EC competition law This new book takes a step back and tries to understand the current challenges to EC competition policy by examining the origins of the Community's competition law system In the first part of the book the author sketches the development of Community competition law enforcement between the European Economic Community established in 1958 and the European Union of today Taking this dynamic perspective on EC competition law the second part of the book addresses topical problems of EC competition policy the pertinent objectives the institutional framework the division of jurisdiction between the Community and Member States and decentralised enforcement of Community law Notably the author's conclusions diverge considerably from the analysis found in the Commission White Paper on Modernisation The author proposes various alternative solutions to the existing problems which arguably fit better within the overall constitutional development of the Community than the solutions offered by the Commission The book will be of interest to competition lawyers as well as to all those interested in the constitutional development of the European Community

Trade Regulation, Antitrust, and Economics, 1981 EU Competition Law and the Information and Communication Technology Network Industries Andrej Fatur, 2012-03-08 Competition policies have long been based on a scholarly tradition focused on static models and static analysis of industrial organisation However recent developments in industrial organisation literature have led to significant advances moving beyond traditional static models and a preoccupation with price competition to consider the organisation of industries in a dynamic context This is especially important in the field of information and communication technology ICT network industries where competition centres on network effects innovation and intellectual property rights and where the key driver of consumer benefit is technological progress Consequently when an antitrust intervention is contemplated a number of considerations that arise out of the specific nature of the ICT sector have to be taken into account to ensure improved consumer welfare This book considers the adequacy of existing EU competition policy in the area of the ICT industries in the light of the findings of modern economic theory Particular attention is given to the implications of these dynamic markets for the competitive assessment and treatment of the most common competitive harms in this area such as non price predatory practices tying and bundling co operative standard setting platform joint ventures and co operative R D Antitrust Law Developments (sixth) Jonathan M.
