Aviation The Early Years The Hutton Getty Picture Collection Early Years:

The 1910 Los Angeles International Air Meet Kenneth E. Pauley, 2009 America's first international air meet was held January 10-20 1910 in Los Angeles on a mesa called Dominguez Hill situated 13.5 miles south of the plaza at the pueblo of Los Angeles. Enthusiasm for aviation grew after the first international air meet in 1909 in Rheims France where American aviator Glenn H. Curtiss won three prestigious speed prizes and 36,000 francs. An even more spectacular air meet which would also invigorate the local economy was promoted for Los Angeles. Businessman Dick Ferris, the Los Angeles Merchants and Manufacturers Association and the Los Angeles Examiner collaborated to make it possible. Most Americans had never seen the newfangled machines that soared in the skies. Initially skeptical, they soon were awed. So began America's love affair with aviation. The air meet influenced aviation in Southern California and transportation worldwide into the 21st century.

Aviation Peter Almond, 1997 Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1983 Hard Labour: The Forgotten Voices of Latvian Migrant 'Volunteer' Workers Linda McDowell, 2013-09-05 Although the Second World War ended sixty years ago, there are still untold stories waiting to be heard: stories not only of diplomats and soldiers but also of refugees, camp inmates and ordinary people living in occupied territories; stories of women's and children's lives as well as those of men. In Hard Labour, the forgotten voices of a group of young women who left Latvia in 1944 are captured, telling the story of their flight from the advancing Soviet Army, their difficult journeys across central Europe, their lives as displaced people in Allied camps in Germany and finally their refuge in Britain. Hard work is at the centre of these stories as the women became volunteer workers first for the Nazi war effort and then as labourers in the British post-war reconstruction plan. In what has been described as a venomous postscript to the War, the fit and able amongst the vast homeless and often stateless population that fetched up in camps run by the Allies in war-devastated Germany were recruited by western states as labourers. Great Britain was the first nation to recruit displaced persons, offering jobs in hospitals and private homes as domestic workers and in the textile industry to young single women and later men from Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia and other once-independent states. Many of these women spent the rest of their lives in Britain, longing to return to their homelands but independence came too late for many of them. At the centre of Hard Labour are the lives of twenty-five now elderly Latvian women who came to Britain between 1946 and 1949. Their memories are placed in the context of recent work in feminist history, illuminating debates about displacement and loss as well as the transformation of women's lives in post-war Britain. Aviation Peter Almond, 2013 Aviation: The Early Years chronicles the first years of man-powered flight in photographs from the end of the last century to the era of the great Zeppelins and shows us in numerous marvellous pictures the story of the pioneers and adventurers who extended the boundaries of human achievement. Who's Who in American Art Marquis Who's Who, 2006-11 AB Bookman's Weekly, 1989 New West, 1981 Antiquarian Bookman, 1962 The New York Times Index, 1990 Finance, 1972 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2001-08 The Saturday Evening Post, 1973
