Conversations with Kentucky Writers ,1996 Everybody Hurts Rebecca Williams, 2018-05 Have you ever been a fan of a show that was canceled abruptly or that killed off a beloved character unexpectedly Or perhaps it was rebooted after a long absence and now you're worried it won't be as good as the original Anyone who has ever followed entertainment closely knows firsthand that such transitions can be jarring Indeed for truly loyal fans the loss can feel very real even throwing their own identity into question Examining how fans respond to and cope with transitions endings or resurrections in everything from band breakups R E M to show cancellations Hannibal to closing down popular amusement park rides this collection brings together an eclectic mix of scholars to analyze the various ways fans respond to change Essays explore practices such as fan discussion and creating alternative fan fictions as well as cases where fans abandon their objects of interest completely and move on to new ones Shedding light on how fans react both individually and as a community the contributors also trace the commonalities and differences present in fandoms across a range of media and they pay close attention to the ways fandom operates across paratexts and transmedia forms including films comics and television This fascinating approach promises to make an important contribution to the fields of fan media and cultural studies and should appeal widely to students scholars and anyone else with a genuine interest in understanding why these transitions can have such a deep impact on fans' lives Contributors Stuart Bell Anya Benson Lucy Bennett Paul Booth Joseph Brennan Kristina Busse Melissa A Click Ruth Deller Evelyn Deshane Nichola Dobson Simone Driessen Emily Garside Holly Willson Holladay Bethan Jones Nicolle Lamerichs Kathleen Williams Rebecca Williams Creating Australian Television Drama Susan

Lever, 2020-11-13 Television drama has been the dominant form of popular storytelling for more than sixty years shaping the imaginations of millions of people This book surveys the careers of the central creators of those stories for Australian television the writers who learnt how to work in a new medium adapting to its constraints and exploring its creative possibilities Informed by interviews with many writers it describes the establishment of Australian television drama production observing the way writers grasped the creative and business opportunities that television presented It examines the development of Australian versions of the major television genres the sitcom the police drama the historical series docudrama and social drama presenting a canon of significant Australian television drama productions that deserve to be remembered It offers an account of the emergence of work by Indigenous writers for television and it argues for the consideration of television drama alongside histories of Australian film and stage drama For years Susan Lever has been talking to Australia's best television writers about their work their craft and their industry Now it's all here in this book a toast to a vital part of Australian culture Geoffrey Atherden This is a wonderful book Meticulously researched and engagingly written it tells in fascinating detail from the writers points of view the story of Australian scripted television from its beginnings in the 1950 s to the present Better yet Susan Lever has allowed the writers themselves to speak about the work about their visions and processes their joys and frustrations I am delighted to see television drama docudrama and comedy acknowledged so generously for their role in Australian culture Sue Smith Brilliantly researched lucid comprehensive the big picture on writers for the small screen in Australia Ian David

Identity, Narrative and Politics Maureen Whitebrook, 2014-04-04 Identity Narrative and Politics argues that political theory has barely begun to develop a notion of narrative identity instead the book explores the sophisticated ideas which emerge from novels as alternative expressions of political understanding This title uses a broad international selection of Twentieth Century English language works by writers such as Nadine Gordimer and Thomas Pynchon The book considers each novel as a source of political ideas in terms of content structure form and technique The book assumes no prior knowledge of the literature discussed and will be fascinating reading for students of literature politics and cultural studies

An English-French Dictionary of Clipped Words Fabrice Antoine, 2000 This dictionary deals with the little words which everyone uses every day without even noticing them and which are so liable to escape the grasp of a speaker of another language clipped words obtained by back clipping or apocope the dropping of one or more final syllables by front clipping or aphaesis the dropping of one or more final syllables by the combination of these two processes and sometimes further transformed especially in slang by the addition of a new ending The aim is not of course merely to list all these words and say from which longer words they were obtained an attempt is made here to retrace the history of each of them its stylistic semantic and often morphological evolution to illustrate this with authentic and often pungent or humorous quotations and also to show how each can be translated into the other language Indeed this is an English French bilingual dictionary whose aim is to translate clipped words according to principles of historical and register fidelity which bilingual dictionaries do not ordinarily set for this type of headword Thus clipped words will be shown to have meaning precisely because they are clipped consequently this meaning must be preserved and conveyed in translation This dictionary thus aims at being different from traditional bilingual dictionaries dictionaries of slang and colloquialisms included in the structure and content of its articles in which much space is devoted to the lexicological data which inform the strictly lexicographical information Special attention and care have been devoted to the system of cross references the recording and presentation of derived forms variants and compounds and to the presentation of slang or colloquial synonyms of the headwords The body of the dictionary is preceded by a preface in which the editing principles and methods are outlined and an attempt is made at analyzing the corpus its historical sociological and morphological aspects are reviewed together with the motivations of those that coin or use clippings These motivations appear essential to the proper appraisal of this body of slang and colloquial words this dictionary's intention is to pay homage to all the unknown people who have made the lexicon richer by playing with and on words with joyful humour zest and gusto It is hoped that all lovers of words will have the same pleasure exploring this dictionary as its author had writing it Professor Fabrice Antoine teaches English at the Universite Charles de Gaulle Lille III France His research fields are bilingual lexicography lexicology and translation he has been a consulting editor for a dozen bilingual dictionaries general as well as slang ones He is especially interested in French and English slang and colloquialisms and co-edits ELEXTRA Etudes sur le Lexique et la Traduction a research centre at the University of Lille

Text to Reader Theo d' Haen, Theo d'.

Haen, 1983-01-01 Text to Reader seeks to find a critical approach that links a novel's form to its socio-cultural context Combining elements from Iser's reception aesthetics speech act theory and Goffman's frame analysis this book starts from the assumption that a reader has certain conventional expectations with regard to a novel and then goes on to examine how violations of these expectations rule the reader's relationship to the novel The theory sketched in the first chapter is then in four subsequent chapters applied to The French Lieutenant's Woman by the English author John Fowles Letters by the American John Barth Libro de Manuel by the Argentinean Julio Cortazar and De Kapellekensbaan by the Flemish novelist

Louis Paul Boon The particular form each of these novels takes is analyzed as correlative to that novel's communicative function This book will be of interest to comparatists students of English and American literature and the literatures of Latin America and the Low Countries Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board United States.
