Many Canadian women fiction writers have become justifiably famous But what about women who have written non fiction

When Anne Innis Dagg set out on a personal quest to make such non fiction authors better known she expected to find just a few dozen To her delight she unearthed 473 writers who have produced over 674 books These women describe not only their country and its inhabitants but a remarkable variety of other subjects from the story of transportation to the legacy of Canadian missionary activity around the world While most of the writers lived in what is now Canada other authors were

British or American travellers who visited Canada throughout the years and reported on what they found here This
