Finding Community Diana Leafe Christian, 2007-05-01 Finding community is as critical as obtaining food and shelter since the need to belong is what makes us human The isolation and loneliness of modern life have led many people to search for deeper connection which has resulted in a renewed interest in intentional communities These intentional communities or ecovillages are an appealing choice for like minded people who seek to create a family oriented and ecologically sustainable lifestyle a lifestyle they are unlikely to find anywhere else However the notion of an intentional community can still be a tremendous leap for some deterred perhaps by a misguided vision of eking out a hardscrabble existence with little reward In fact successful ecovillages thrive because of the combined skills and resources of their members Finding Community presents a thorough overview of ecovillages and intentional communities and offers solid advice on how to research thoroughly visit thoughtfully evaluate intelligently and join gracefully Useful considerations include Important questions to ask of members and of yourself Signs of a healthy and not so healthy community Cost of joining and staying Common blunders to avoid

Finding Community provides intriguing possibilities to readers who are seeking a more cooperative sustainable and meaningful life Diana Leafe Christian is the author of Creating a Life Together and editor of Communities magazine She lives at Earthhaven Ecovillage in North Carolina

Religious Diversity Today Jean-Guy A. Goulet,Liam D. Murphy,Anastasia Panagakos,2015-12-01 This insightful three volume set examines faith through the social and cultural perspective of anthropology sociology and religious studies shedding light on the role of religion in the human experience Why is human suffering and the existence of evil part of the human experience How does religious doctrine establish one s identity In what ways does religion interact with and shape the social order This thought provoking work ponders these questions and explores the concept of religion from various perspectives as a tool for self and community based spiritual awareness as a set of practices that translates faith into interaction with others and as a cornerstone of society for those who seek to harness or hinder its influence Written in accessible and inviting language each volume focuses on a particular dimension of religion The first book examines religious experience in the modern world and explores suffering in religious faiths the second volume centers around ritual and pilgrimage and the last book analyzes the controversial relationship between religion and societies The content features such thought provoking topics as death and green burials sexuality and sex trade and how and why evil manifests in the human experience

Living-Learning Communities That Work Karen Kurotsuchi Inkelas,Jody E. Jessup-Anger,Mimi Benjamin,Matthew R. Wawrzynski,2023-07-03 Co published with In 2007 the American Association of Colleges and Universities named learning communities a high impact practice because of the potential of these communities to provide coherence to and ultimately improve undergraduate education Institutional leaders have demonstrated a commitment to providing LLCs but they currently do so primarily with anecdotal information to guide their work As a result there is substantial variation in organizational structure collaboration academic and social environments programmatic integration student outcomes and overall quality related to LLC participation To establish a stronger more unified basis for designing and delivering effective LLCs the authors of Living Learning Communities that Work collaborated on the development of a comprehensive empirical framework for achieving the integrating potential of LLCs This framework is designed to help practitioners guide the design delivery and assessment of LLCs This book thoughtfully combines research and field tested practice to document the essential components for best practices in living learning communities and presents them as a clear blueprint the LLC best practices model for LLC design Practitioners researchers and institutional leaders can use the book as a guide to more effectively allocate resources to create and sustain LLCs and to realize the potential of these communities to improve undergraduate education

The Communal Experience Laurence R. Veysey,1978-11 The original impulse for groups to separate from society and establish communities of their own was religious Though the religious side of this drive toward separation remains strong the last two centuries have seen the appearance of secular communities with a socialist or anarchist orientation In The Communal Experience nominated for a National Book Award in 1973 Laurence

Veysey explores the close resemblances between the secular and religious forms of cultural radicalism through intensive observation of four little known communities Veysey compares the history of secular communities such as the early Ferrer Colony and Modern School of Shelton New Jersey with contemporary anarchist communities in New York Vermont and New Mexico Religious communes Communities of Discipline such as the Vedanta monasteries of the early twentieth century are compared with contemporary mystical communities in New Mexico Distinctions between the anarchist and the mystical groups are most obvious from their approach to communal life As Veysey shows anarchist communities are loose unstructured voluntaristic the mystics establish more rigid life styles focus on spiritual leaders and hold community a secondary goal to self realization In a new preface written for this Phoenix Edition he describes his return to a New Mexican mystical community and the changes that have occurred in the six years since his last visit have ever taken The Ecology of Learning John Blewitt,2006 A key starting point for understanding and achieving sustainability are our experiences of everyday life the meanings and the connections we develop and the learning and action these experiences engender This book explores how learning throughout and across life is and may become an integral aspect of the process of sustainable development It addresses the need for life long learning that is learning that occurs in various aspects of our lives including work families home community groups or any non traditional school or learning environments to seriously engage with sustainability issues Coverage includes the relationship between learning and sustainability sustainability and everyday life environmental mediascapes public space and landscapes learning networks and community action sustainability learning and leisure work and the need to reshape our understanding of a learning society The breadth is impressive with an approachable and easy to read engagement with theoretical approaches to lifelong learning and sustainability and a vast range of evidence and case studies drawn from dozens of contexts in the UK Europe the USA and Canada Handbook of Community Movements and Local Organizations Ram A. Cnaan,Carl Milofsky,2007-12-18 Although the way associations and the organization of local social life are intertwined is one of the oldest approaches to community study the way citizens and residents come together informally to act and solve problems has rarely been a primary focus Associations are central to important and developing areas of social theory and social action This handbook takes voluntary associations as the starting point for making sense of communities It offers a new perspective on voluntary organizations and gives an integrated yet diverse theoretical understanding of this important aspect of community life Born Breech into Covenant: the Experience of Mother Carol Bosworth,2009-07-23 Each of us has a lifetime in which to discover our way to belong within our particular experience of times and events Instead of an operating manual our families and cultures give us expectations for who we are and what is our place in the world This is the story of my journey into the calling of motherhood that I did not understand and struggled to reject Conscientious wrestling with the experiences of motherhood eventually taught me how entangled love and anger can be and how suffering is inseparable from both Finally a deeper call to love confronted me Doing Sociology Jammie Price,Roger Straus,Jeff Breese,2009-08-16 This successor to the well known Using Sociology covers standard topics found in any sociology textbook Doing Sociology walks lay readers through the steps of doing real life sociological practices as conducted by experts in the field The contributors to this volume range from university and college faculty government sociologists and practitioners from the private sector Each of the chapters is by intention and design a personal statement a case study illustrating how the authors practice sociology in their own words and style giving readers a clearer understanding of what sociologists do outside of teaching in universities And most importantly an understanding of what they could do with sociology Readable relevant and accessible Doing Sociology is an invaluable resource as a stand alone course reader or as a supplement to a traditional textbook Coming Home Graham Tomlin,Malcolm Brown,2020-10-22 Everyone has an interest in housing because we all live in some kind of home While there has been plenty of theological reflection on the natural environment there has been little on the built environment or on a theology of housing Addressing the urgent problems of housing inequality and affordability Coming Home proposes a practical and biblical theology of housing provision as an essential part of community building It explores the purpose of home and housing today housing and human flourishing shared living and neighbourliness It asks how and why the church should contribute to local and national housing policy and thus to building community life and offers case studies in community action Contributors include Samuel Wells Timothy Gorringer Niamh Colbrook Selina Stone Angus Ritchie and Shermana Fletcher of the Centre for Theology and Community Collectively they bring theology and practice together

Living Traditions Kimberllynn McNabb, Robert C. Fennell, 2019-05-01 How has the Christian movement grown and changed in the last five hundred years From Luther to Tillich and the Virgin Mary from Protestant initiatives and Catholic dialogues from Charles Taylor to progressive Christianity this book runs the gamut The urgency of ecology the sacramentality of foot washing the complexities of biblical interpretation the theology of the cross and the ongoing work of reformation are all under the microscope A distinctively ecumenical project this book presents a variety of perspectives on these pressing questions drawing together authors from the Anglican Baptist Lutheran Roman Catholic United Church of Canada traditions and more Each contributor provides unique insights into Christianity's ongoing processes of re-forming as contexts and circumstances change Readers will find resonances of the familiar interwoven with new research about the project of ecumenical Christianity
