Logical Fictions in Medieval Literature and Philosophy Virginie Greene, 2014-10-23 In the twelfth and thirteenth centuries new ways of storytelling and inventing fictions appeared in the French speaking areas of Europe This new art still influences our global culture of fiction Virginie Greene explores the relationship between fiction and the development of neo Aristotelian logic during this period through a close examination of seminal literary and philosophical texts by major medieval authors such as Anselm of Canterbury Ab lard and Chr tien de Troyes This study of Old French logical fictions encourages a broader theoretical reflection about fiction as a universal human trait and a defining element of the history of Western philosophy and literature Additional close readings of classical Greek philosophers Plato and Aristotle and modern analytic philosophy including the work of Bertrand Russell and Rudolf Carnap demonstrate peculiar traits of Western rationalism and expose its ambivalent relationship to fiction

Theological Method: A Guide for the Perplexed Paul L. Allen, 2012-06-28 An upper level undergraduate introduction to how to do theology in an academic context Animals, Theology and the Incarnation Kris Hiuser , 2017-05-30 How does an understanding of the non human lead us to a greater understanding of the incarnation Are non human animals morally relevant within Christian theology and ethics Is there a human ethical responsibility towards non human animals In Animals Theology and the Incarnation Kris Hiuser argues that if we are called to represent both God to creation and creation to God then this has considerable bearing on understanding what it means to be human as well as informing human action towards non human creatures

Richard of Saint Victor, On the Trinity Ruben Angelici, 2011-04-06 Very few in the history of the church have not struggled with the dogma of the Trinity Those who have not dismissed it as incomprehensible gibberish have found it a battlefield for division and misunderstanding Even Christians who adhere to the faith of the Creeds have often found such dogma difficult to grasp Richard of Saint Victor a twelfth century Scottish monk and Prior in the Abbey of Saint Victor is emblematic in this struggle I have often read that there is only one God I have also read that he is one and triune But I do not remember having read anything on the evidences for these assertions Richard's theological response stems from a profoundly mystical life of prayer which in the Spirit seeks to involve the mind in continuation with the great Augustinian and Anselmian tradition Ultimately he presents a trinitarian model intelligible to a Western context but which could also awake admiration from Greek theologians Today Richard s dogmatics could represent a bridge for dialogue between different traditions For the first time this theological masterpiece is being made available unabridged in English to allow a broader theological public to benefit from Richard s accomplishments The translation offered here attempts to provide a clear and flowing text while remaining as literally faithful as possible to the original Latin

The Oxford Handbook of Karl Barth Paul Dafydd Jones,Paul T. Nimmo,2019 The Oxford Handbook of Karl Barth is an expansive guide to Barth s work Comprising over forty original chapters each of which is written by an expert in the field the handbook provides rich analysis of Barth s life and context

Anselm's Pursuit of Joy Gavin R. Ortlund,2020-05-01 The interpretation of Anselm of Canterbury s Proslogion has a long and rich tradition However its study is often narrowly focused on its so called ontological argument As a result engagement with the text of this work tends to be lopsided and the prayerful purpose that undergirds the whole book is often completely ignored Even the most rigorous engagements with the Proslogion often have little to say for instance about how the prayers of Proslogion 1 14 and 18 contribute materially to Anselm s argument or how his doctrine of God develops organically from the divine formula in the early chapters to the doctrines of eternity simplicity and Trinity in later chapters There are very few works that offer a sustained analysis to Anselm s flow of thought throughout the entire Proslogion and no one has explored how Anselm s doctrine of creaturely joy in heaven in Proslogion 24 26 is a fitting climax and resolution to the book Anselm s Pursuit of Joy attempts a sustained chapter by chapter textual analysis of the Proslogion and offers the first effort to situate Anselm s doctrine of heaven in Proslogion 24 26 as the climax of the earlier themes of Anselm s work Gavin Ortlund suggests that the basic purpose of Anselm s argument in the Proslogion is to seek the visio Dei that he articulates as his soul s deepest desire Proslogion 1 While Anselm s argument for God s existence Proslogion 2 4 is an important piece of this effort it is only one step of a larger trajectory of thought that leads Anselm to meditate further on God s nature as the highest good of the human soul Proslogion 5 23 and then to anticipate the joy of possessing God in heaven Proslogion 24 26 In other words the establishment of God s existence is only the penultimate consequence of Anselm s famous formula that than which nothing greater can be thought his ultimate concern is with the infinite creaturely joy that is entailed by his existence The Proslogion is far more than an argument for God s existence a meditation on God as the chief happiness of the human soul

From Divine Timemaker to Divine Watchmaker R.T. Mullins,2024-10-24 This book offers the most extensive exploration of divine temporality to date It focuses on five main questions First what is time Second how is God responsible for the existence of time Third what does it mean to say that God is temporal Fourth what kind of structure might God give to a time series Fifth what are the implications for theological doctrines such as the Trinity creation providence and life after death The author offers a deep critical engagement with the Christian tradition but also goes beyond to build analytic bridges to Jewish Islamic Hindu and Jainist philosophical theology The book provides an up to date discussion of issues within analytic metaphysics philosophy of time and philosophy of religion and draws on the resources of contemporary systematic historical and biblical theology

Imagining Jesus Christ in Middle English Literature, 1275-1475 Theresa Tinkle, 2024-09-16 This book interprets Jesus Christ as a complicated disunified literary character in Middle English literature where he appears variously as king traitor victorious conqueror sacrificial lamb heroic knight lover and spouse often as several contradictory figures in a single work These tropes derive from Scripture doctrines about Christ's two natures and theories of redemption This book examines the full range of representations in Southern Passion Northern Passion Pepysian Gospel Harmony Stanzaic Life of Christ Cursor Mundi Nicholas Love's Mirror of the Blessed Life of Jesus Christ Sir John Mandeville's Book the York Play and Julian of Norwich's Revelation of Love Although Christ's two natures are well represented in existing scholarship many traditions have been overlooked including commonplace treatments of Christ as both a traitor and king conqueror and sacrificial lamb hero and lover As writers call upon audiences to feel compassion for Jesus's suffering they almost universally express antipathy toward his Jewish torturers complicating our ideas about affective piety In these works the Virgin Mary is less exemplary for her compassion than for her understanding of doctrine In short this book offers new perspectives on vernacular Christology between about 1275 and 1475 Theresa Tinkle is a Professor within the Department of English Language and Literature at the University of Michigan USA as well as Director of the Gayle Morris Sweetland Center for Writing Previous publications include Medieval Venuses and Cupids Sexuality and Hermeneutics in English Poetry 1996 and Gender and Power in Medieval Exegesis Palgrave 2010 Theresa's academic training and publications include the study of medieval English and Latin literature the medieval reception of the Bible gender and sexuality studies paleography and manuscript studies composition and pedagogy and disability studies

First Philosophy III: God, Mind, and Freedom - Second Edition Andrew Bailey, 2011-07-08 First Philosophy God Mind and Freedom brings together classic and ground breaking readings on metaphysics the philosophy of mind and the philosophy of religion Andrew Bailey's highly regarded introductory anthology has been revised and updated in this new edition The comprehensive introductory material for each chapter and selection remains and new sections on philosophical puzzles and paradoxes and philosophical terminology have been added New to this edition are readings from Alvin Plantinga Frank Jackson David Chalmers A J Ayer Bernard Williams and Thomas Nagel

First Philosophy - Second Edition Andrew Bailey, 2011-04-05 First Philosophy brings together fifty four classic and contemporary readings on seven central philosophical topics Mindful of the intrinsic difficulty of the material the editors provide comprehensive introductions both to each topic and to each individual selection By presenting a detailed discussion of the historical and intellectual background to each piece the editors enable readers to approach the material without unnecessary barriers to understanding A brief introduction to arguments is included as are appendices on terminology and philosophical puzzles and paradoxes

The Wonder of the Cross Richard A. Shenk, 2013-05-08 When considering and confronting the problem of evil we may be asking the wrong question Why is there evil in the world if God is good and powerful It may be wrong because it smuggles in an unbiblical premise God can and should use his coercive power to relieve suffering since he is both good and able But what if coercive power does not work to accomplish God's goals This book is an investigation into the possibility that the noncoercive power of the Cross must be at the center of this issue and that the Cross could reform this question We could ask instead How is God destroying evil and suffering and why is he taking so long The answer to this reframed question might be He is using evil and suffering to destroy evil and suffering for His People this is how long it takes While not a solution to the problem of evil could this help us learn to delight in God in a world in which evil and suffering seem at times so relentless

The Incarnation as God's First Intention Edwin Chr. van Driel, 2025-10-21 In The Incarnation as God's First Intention Edwin Chr van Driel advocates a transformative perspective on the incarnation proposing that God's decision to become incarnate was not a response to human sin but was instead God's first and foundational intention Engaging the historical and theological roots of this supralapsarian before the fall Christology van Driel a leading scholar on the topic invites readers to reconsider long held views on God's engagement with creation With clarity and depth van Driel unpacks how understanding the incarnation as God's original purpose reshapes the doctrines of creation election salvation and eschatology His insights offer a fresh framework for the church's mission in today's world suggesting that God's presence with us is not merely a remedy for human fallenness but rather God's first intention and ultimate goal for creation Written for students theologians and all who seek a deeper understanding of God's relation to the world this book challenges readers to see the incarnation God's dwelling among us as God's central purpose

The Son Who Learned Obedience D. Glenn Butner Jr., 2018-09-07 This book offers a fresh perspective on the ongoing evangelical debate concerning whether the Son eternally submits to the Father Beginning with the pro Nicene account of will being a property of the single divine nature Glenn Butner explores how language of eternal submission requires a modification of the classical theology of the divine will This modification has problematic consequences for Christology various atonement theories and the doctrine of God because as historically developed these doctrines shared the pro Nicene assumption of a single divine will This new angle on an old debate challenges the reader to move beyond the inaccurate characterization of views on eternal submission as Arian or feminist toward a more accurate understanding of the real theological issues at stake

A Return to the Heart Frank L. Bartoe, 2023-07-21 When we approach such men as St Bernard of Clairvaux and John Calvin we are approaching two men who were not only significant figures of their time but figures standing on opposite shorelines of the influence and impact of Scholasticism as well as a tumultuous decline in orthodoxy Despite this reality what is most compelling about these two men is the continuity of their developed thought even though they were worlds apart separated by time This continuity is most assuredly grounded in their historical sources and more importantly their faithful handling of God's word That continuity although not point for point was rather for the significant part of the structure and content sum and substance of the twofold knowledge of God and self For both of these men this doctrine was fundamental permeating the whole of their world and life philosophy Bernard and Calvin clearly saw the implications of this twofold knowledge These implications manifest in the realm of various doctrines and the network of their system of thought This book seeks to explore those various components of their twofold knowledge of God and self as well as the implications in the realm of experiential Christianity
