Padraic Colum,2014-08-07 This Is A New Release Of The Original 1922 Edition Modern Anglo-Irish Verse Padric Gregory,2018-02-03 Excerpt from Modern Anglo Irish Verse An Anthology Selected From the Work of Living Irish Poets This is an anthology of verse by some living Irish poets It does not include selections from the work of every one writing verse in Ireland to day and I have quoted only from three or four writers who have severed connection with their country and are gone to reside abroad It is not merely a book of poets and poetasters for if the preparation of anything so comprehensive and for that matter so valueless had been my aim I could easily have doubled the number of names herein represented On the other hand although this book contains no poem that does not reach a relatively high standard of excellence as it contains dialect work historical ballads and a variety of miscellaneous verse it cannot be described as an anthology of great poems About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Anthology of Irish Verse; Poetry of Ireland from Mythological Times Padraic Colum (ed),1948 Modern Irish Poetry Patrick Crotty,1995 This is a collection of over 250 poems which represent the best Irish poetry since Yeats Short biographical critical essays on each poet and an introduction makes this a useful companion for anyone wanting to experience contemporary Irish poetry Choice Desmond Egan,Michael Hartnett,1979 Modern

Anglo-Irish Verse Padric Gregory,2012-08-01 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy The Irish Poet and the Natural World Andrew Carpenter, Lucy Collins, 2014 This annotated anthology of poems makes available a rich variety of Irish texts depicting the relationship between humans and the environment between the years 1580 and 1820 More than a hundred poems are printed here together with an extensive critical introduction notes on each text and a full bibliography All the poets whose work is represented were born in Ireland or are identified as Irish As well as re publishing the work of major poets such as Oliver Goldsmith Laurence Whyte and William Drummond this anthology includes many works by little known or anonymous authors This volume also reflects current scholarship on the relationship between literature and the environment enriching our understanding of attitudes in pre Romantic Ireland towards changing landscapes and agricultural practices towards human responsibility for the non human world and towards the relationship between nature and aesthetics As well as adding considerably to existing knowledge of the printing and reading of poetry in Ireland during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries this anthology also traces the developments in sensibility in Irish poetry during this period offering new perspectives on the advent of Romanticism in England and on the ways in which this revolutionized the relationship between nature and representation The anthology fulfills the dual purpose of making a significant contribution to the study of literature and the environment and of expanding our understanding of Irish writing during the period

Verse in English from Eighteenth-century Ireland Andrew Carpenter, 1998 This pioneering anthology introduces many previously neglected eighteenth century writers to a general readership and will lead to a re examination of the entire canon of Irish verse in English Between 1700 and 1800 Dublin was second only to London as a center for the printing of poetry in English Many fine poets were active during this period However because Irish eighteenth century verse in English has to a great extent escaped the scholar and the anthologist it is hardly known at all The most innovative aspect of this new anthology is the inclusion of many poetic voices entirely unknown to modern readers Although the anthology contains the work of well known figures such as John Toland Thomas Parnell Jonathan Swift Patrick Delany Laetitia Pilkington and Oliver Goldsmith there are many verses by lesser known writers and nearly eighty anonymous poems which come from the broadsheets manuscripts and chapbooks of the time What emerges is an entirely new perspective on life in eighteenth century Ireland We hear the voice of a hard working farmer s wife from county Derry of a rambling weaver from county Antrim and that of a woman dying from drink We learn about whale fishing in county Donegal about farming in county Kerry and bull baiting in Dublin In fact almost every aspect of life in eighteenth century Ireland is described vividly energetically with humor and feeling in the verse of this anthology Among the most moving poems are those by Irish speaking poets who use amhran or song meter and internal assonance both borrowed from Irish in their English verse Equally interesting is the work of the weaver poets of Ulster who wrote in vigorous and energetic Ulster Scots The anthology also includes political poems dating from the reign of James II to the Act of Union as well as a selection of lesser known nationalist and Orange songs Each poem is fully annotated and the book also contains a glossary of terms in Hiberno English and Ulster Scots Anthology of Irish Verse Padraic Colum,1972-09 An Anthology of Modern Irish Poetry Wes Davis,2010 Never before has there been a single volume anthology of modern Irish poetry so significant and groundbreaking as An Anthology of Modern Irish Poetry Collected here is a comprehensive representation of Irish poetic achievement in the twentieth and twenty first centuries from poets such as Austin Clarke and Samuel Beckett who were writing while Yeats and Joyce were still living to those who came of age in the turbulent 60s as sectarian violence escalated including Seamus Heaney and Michael Longley to a new generation of Irish writers represented by such diverse interesting voices as David Wheatley born 1970 and Sin ad Morrissey born 1972 Scholar and editor Wes Davis has chosen work by more than fifty leading modern and contemporary Irish poets Each poet is represented by a generous number of poems there are nearly 800 poems in the anthology The editor s selection includes work by world renowned poets including a couple of Nobel Prize winners as well as work by poets whose careers may be less well known to the general public by poets writing in English and by several working in the Irish language Gaelic selections appear in translation Accompanying the selections are a general introduction that provides a historical overview informative short essays on each poet and helpful notes all prepared by the editor
