Anthology of Second World War French poetry Ian Higgins, 1982      The Cambridge Companion to the Poetry of the First World War Santanu Das, 2013-11-18 This Companion offers a major re examination of the poetry of the First World War at the start of the war's centennial commemoration      Six Authors in Captivity Nicole Thatcher, Ethel Tolansky, 2006 This book examines the varied responses of six French authors to war the French occupation and imprisonment Jean Cassou was imprisoned as a member of a Resistance network and held incommunicado During this time he composed sonnets in his head which he was able to publish later Jean Cayrol's deportation to Mauthausen concentration camp as a result of his Resistance activities inspired his poems and novels Madeleine Riffaud aged only 18 in 1942 portrayed her Resistance experience imprisonment and torture in her post war prose and poems A well known literary critic and writer Pierre Henri Simon composed poetry in his Stalag and wrote fiction after the war Max Jacob who died in Drancy wrote poems and letters reflecting his personal views and feelings on the imprisonment of the Occupation itself Philippe Soupault was actively engaged in Resistance with the founding of Radio Tunis to combat the Italian Fascist station Radio Bari broadcasting across the Mediterranean and North Africa Imprisoned for these activities in 1942 he used poetry to keep a spirit of resistance alive Each of these authors sought to maintain the spirit of the Resistance bear witness to the times and contribute to the future using literature as their instrument      Redefining Resistance Esther Rowlands, 2021-10-18 The study of resistance developed here by Dr Esther Rowlands consists of a fresh interrogation of the notion of resistance discourse Here for the first time this detailed study of selected wartime texts produced by Francis Ponge Benjamin Perret Henri Michaux and Antonin Artaud compiled between 1936 and 1946 presents a specific critique of resistance which investigates the possibility for opposition and subversion to take place without direct allusion to the object of resistance This investigation questions the criteria according to which literature is perceived as being resistant and suggests that historical and political referentiality may be deemed retaliative and reactionary thereby risking replication of the dominant order The relationship between language and power structures is elucidated through allusion to modern theorists Michel de Certeau Michel Foucault Ross Chambers and Françoise Proust The necessary framework for a study of the poetic voice draws upon aspects of the post structuralist work of Jacques Derrida and Giles Deleuze incorporating specific theories expounded by the Surrealist leader Andr  Breton The works of the above theorists are foundational to this new critique of poetic discourse which when applied by Dr Esther Rowlands to the wartime works of the four named writers suggests that language itself may be recognised as a locus of resistance This book is designed to be of interest both to undergraduates and to researchers studying Surrealism Second World War Time Literature and Critical Theory      A Guide to French Literature Jennifer Birkett, James Kearns, 1997-07-09 In a lively chronological narrative this new guide situates original readings of authors and texts within the literary historical and socio cultural contexts of their production and charts the mutations of printing and publishing the growth of literacy and the changing nature of the reading public Writers and writings relegated to the margins of the canon are reassessed New directions in contemporary thought women's writing and Francophone literature are a feature together with important concepts of contemporary critical theory Fighting Songs and Warring Words Brian

Murdoch, 2002-01-08 The accepted canon of war poetry usually includes only those underlining patriotic or nationalistic views This study opens up the view of war poetry with the inclusion of such material as Nazi poetry and song and the poetry of the atomic bomb The Condition of Women in France Claire Laubier, 2003-09-02 Intended for the language student this is a collection of documentary and statistical materials taken from adverts newspapers etc Each extract relates to the different experiences of French women at work at home and in politics Twentieth-Century French Poetry Hugues Azérad, Peter Collier, 2010-05-20 Modern French poetry is unique in the boldness and creativity of its experiments in form and genre from classical verse to vers libre from calligrammes to prose poems and poésies sonores This anthology includes 32 poems by French and francophone poets each followed by an accessibly written detailed commentary The different approaches adopted in the close readings by specialists in their field reflect the major trends in current literary criticism and theory A foreword by one of France's foremost poets Yves Bonnefoy a general introduction and an afterword provide a helpful theoretical framework for the study of modern poetry An extensive bibliography concise biographies of the poets and a glossary of literary terms are included Students of French and of comparative literature will gain a deeper understanding of the development of French verse and of the artistic movements especially in the visual arts which have shaped twentieth century French poetry French XX bibliography : critical and biographical references for French literature since 1885 : index to volume VII (Nos. 31-35) and index to anonymes (vols. I-VII), 1969

The Art Criticism of Francis Ponge Shirley Ann Jordan, 1994 This study of Francis Ponge's essays on contemporary artists L'Atelier contemporain attempts to broaden the popular view of the author as a poet of objects It explores Ponge's perception of art criticism as an inherently problematic genre and exposes the inhibitions surrounding the production of the essays The study demonstrates how Ponge's essays on artists parallel developments in his other works They are seen as instrumental in his movement towards open texts and a stress on the creative process itself as well as opportunities to reaffirm his philosophical and aesthetic stance Les Fleurs Du Mal F. W. Leakey, 1992-04-09 Les Fleurs du mal once the most infamous book of poems in French literature became in the twentieth century the most famous and the most admired its challenge to convention when it was first published in 1857 led to its judicial condemnation but it owes its landmark status to the sheer aesthetic quality of its verses In this volume Professor Leakey provides a newly comprehensive guide to the understanding and appreciation of Les Fleurs du mal offering fresh insights into its composition themes and style sound as well as sense and setting it in its historical context A whole chapter is devoted to Baudelaire's crowning poetic achievement Le Cygne and the book includes a detailed index to individual poems as well as a guide to further reading Poetry in France Keith Aspley, Peter France, 1992

Although organised chronologically POETRY IN FRANCE does not offer an analytical history of an entity that can be called French poetry Rather than presenting the story of a poetic tradition that starts with the Chanson de Roland and the troubadour poets and Passes via the Renaissance Classicism and Romanticism to Baudelaire Mallarme and twentieth century poetry the book describes a plurality of traditions a history of discontinuities and conflicts rejections and re adoptions Within such a rich plurality the reader of this volume will discern recurrent threads of unifying concerns such as the debate over the frontiers of prose song and verse and the question of whether the correct poetic language should be elevated and formal or democratically everyday The nature of inspiration and the centrality of the imagination in poetic creation are also explored along with a consideration of the figure of the poet entertainer or educator prophet or politician maker or madman Discussions of the changing position of poetry in society are also included as is the debate over the nature of a canon in literature The result is not intended to be a formal set of views on poets or a chronological literary history rather it is an exploration of the nature of poetry in France a consideration of its changing conceptions functions and forms

The Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics Stephen Cushman, Clare Cavanagh, Jahan Ramazani, Paul Rouzer, 2012-08-26. The most important poetry reference for more than four decades now fully updated for the twenty-first century. Through three editions over more than four decades, The Princeton Encyclopedia of Poetry and Poetics has built an unrivaled reputation as the most comprehensive and authoritative reference for students, scholars, and poets on all aspects of its subject: history, movements, genres, prosody, rhetorical devices, critical terms, and more. Now this landmark work has been thoroughly revised and updated for the twenty-first century. Compiled by an entirely new team of editors, the fourth edition, the first new edition in almost twenty years, reflects recent changes in literary and cultural studies, providing up-to-date coverage and giving greater attention to the international aspects of poetry, all while preserving the best of the previous volumes. At well over a million words and more than 1,000 entries, the Encyclopedia has unparalleled breadth and depth. Entries range in length from brief paragraphs to major essays of 15,000 words, offering a more thorough treatment, including expert synthesis and indispensable bibliographies, than conventional handbooks or dictionaries. This is a book that no reader or writer of poetry will want to be without. Thoroughly revised and updated by a new editorial team for twenty-first-century students, scholars, and poets. More than 250 new entries cover recent terms, movements, and related topics. Broader international coverage includes articles on the poetries of more than 110 nations, regions, and languages. Expanded coverage of poetries of the non-Western and developing worlds. Updated bibliographies and cross-references. New, easier-to-use page design. Fully indexed for the first time.

Ireland and the Problem of Information Damien Keane, 2015-06-10. Though the work of Irish writers has been paramount in conventional accounts of literary modernism, Ireland itself only rarely occupies a meaningful position in accounts of modernism's historical trajectory. With an itinerary moving not simply among Dublin, Belfast, and London but also Paris, New York, Addis Ababa, Rome, Berlin, Geneva, and the world's radio receivers, Ireland and the Problem of Information examines the pivotal mediations through which social knowledge was produced in the mid-twentieth century. Organized as a series of cross-fading case studies, the book argues that an expanded sphere of Irish cultural production should be read as much for what it indicates about practices of intermedial circulation and their consequences as for what it reveals about Irish writing around the time of the Second World War. In this way, it positions the problem of information as first and foremost an international predicament but one with particular national implications for the Irish field.
