Anthropology And Development In Southeast Asia Theory And Practice:

Anthropology and Development in South-East Asia Victor T. King, 1999 This is the first text on South East Asia to examine the relations between anthropology and development in both their theoretical and practical dimensions This book covers a range of anthropological contributions to development as well as case studies taken from a variety of fields including resettlement tourism health care gender and ecology

The Modern Anthropology of South-East Asia Victor King, William D. Wilder, 2020-09-10 This is a comprehensive introduction to the social and cultural anthropology of South East Asia It provides an overview of the major theoretical issues and themes which have emerged from the engagement of anthropologists with South East Asian communities a succinct historical survey and analysis of the peoples and cultures of the region Most importantly the volume reveals the vitally important role which the study of the area has occupied in the development of the concepts and methods of anthropology from the perspectives of Edmund Leach to Clifford Geertz

Maurice Freedman to Claude Levi Strauss Lauriston Sharp to Melford Spiro Southeast Asian Studies Cynthia Chou, Vincent Houben, 2006 What is the relevance of the area studies approach to Southeast Asia The current state and future directions of area studies of which Southeast Asian studies are a part is a central question not only to scientists working in the field but also those engaged in university politics This collection of nine articles is written by specialists from different disciplinary backgrounds and working in institutions of higher learning all around the world It provides an up to date insight into the current state of the study field its strengths and weaknesses and seeks ways to reconfigure Southeast Asian studies in order to meet the challenges of a region that is caught up in profound transformation as a consequence of both globalization and localization

Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Brunei Ooi Keat Gin, Victor T. King, 2022-07-29 The Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Brunei presents an overview of significant themes issues and challenges pertinent to Brunei Darussalam in the twenty first century Multidisciplinary in coverage the contributions cover topics relating to philology history religion language and literature geography international relations economics politics and sociocultural traditions The Handbook is structured in eight parts Foundations History Faith and Ethnicity Literature Language and Education Economics Material Culture Empowerment Chapters focus on the recent past and contemporary developments in this unique country which has remained a Malay Muslim sultanate sustaining its religious and traditional heritage encapsulated in the national philosophy Melayu Islam Beraja MIB Malay Islamic Monarchy The MIB philosophy represents the sultanate s three pillars of social cultural political and economic sustainability and the contributors discuss this concept in relation to the notion of Malay or Malaydom the official religion of the nation state Islam and monarchy as the essential system of government This Handbook is an invaluable reference work for students of Asian and Southeast Asian Studies and researchers interested in what is demographically the smallest country within the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN

students who have a scholarly interest in Southeast Asia is the lack of general user friendly texts in the social sciences The absence of an introduction to the sociology of Southeast Asia is especially unfortunate This volume attempts to meet these needs This is then the first sole authored introductory sociology text on Southeast Asia that focuses on change and development in the region provides an overview of the important sociological and political economy writings and considers the key concepts and themes in the field since 1945 Some multiauthored works do exist but these either are outdated or focus on specialized topics Aimed primarily at undergraduates up to the final year it will also be a useful reference work for post graduates and researchers who lack such a general work

Histories of Health in Southeast Asia Tim Harper, Sunil S. Amrith, 2014-10-01 Health patterns in Southeast Asia have changed profoundly over the past century In that period epidemic and chronic diseases environmental transformations and international health institutions have created new connections within the region and the increased interdependence of Southeast Asia with China and India In this volume leading scholars provide a new approach to the history of health in Southeast Asia Framed by a series of synoptic pieces on the Landscapes of Health in Southeast Asia in 1914 1950 and 2014 the essays interweave local national and regional perspectives They range from studies of long term processes such as changing epidemics mortality and aging and environmental history to detailed accounts of particular episodes the global cholera epidemic and the hajj the influenza epidemic of 1918 WWII and natural disasters The writers also examine state policy on healthcare and the influence of organizations from NGOs such as the China Medical Board and the Rockefeller Foundation to grassroots organizations in Thailand Indonesia and the Philippines

Fieldwork and the Self J  r  my Jammes, Victor T. King, 2021-11-09 This book presents new perspectives on Southeast Asia using cases from a range of ethnic groups cultures and histories written by scholars from different ethnicities generations disciplines and scientific traditions It examines various research trajectories engaging with epistemological debates on the global and local on insiders and outsiders and the role played by personal experiences in the collection and analysis of empirical data The volume provides subjects for debate rarely addressed in formal approaches to data gathering and analysis Rather than grappling with the usual methodological building blocks of research training it focuses on neglected issues in the research experience including chance error coincidence mishap dead ends silence secrets improvisation remembering digital challenges and shifting tracks Fieldwork and the Self is relevant to academics and researchers from universities and international organisations who are engaged in teaching and learning in area studies and social science research methods A rich and compelling set of writings about fieldwork in and beyond Southeast Asia Lyn Parker Emeritus Professor University of Western Australia A must read for all especially emerging scholars on Southeast Asia and a refreshing read for critical old hands on the region Abdul Rahman Embong Emeritus Professor Institute of Malaysian and International Studies IKMAS Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia An impressive collection of essays by two academics who have devoted their academic life to anthropological fieldwork in Southeast Asia Shamsul A B Distinguished Professor and UNESCO Chair

Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia The contributors share an unquenchable and passionate curiosity for Southeast Asia They have survived the uncertainties and disillusionment of their fieldwork and remained first grade scholars Marie Sybille de Vienne Professor National Institute for Oriental Languages and Civilisations Paris A penetrating reflection on current social science research on Southeast Asia Hans Dieter Evers Professor Emeritus and Senior Fellow University of Bonn Directors of Urban Change in Asia Peter J.M. Nas,2005-03-10 Bringing together a group of international scholars Directors of Urban Change in Asia examines who the directors for urban change are in an eclectic mix of Asian cities The books discusses how in the majority of cases urban change has come about primarily as the result of visionary leaders on national regional and local levels It also makes clear that the less successful cities have tended to lack such leaders Small Farmers for Global Food Security Thomas Reuter,Graeme MacRae,2024-04-05 Food systems in Indonesia and worldwide have experienced major transformations in the wake of agricultural modernisation Once intact eco systems have declined dramatically along with human diets long term food security and social cohesion Using long term ethnographic research we documented this loss of traditional food systems in Java Bali East Timor and India but also a recent revival and reinvention of sustainable production methods and community based distribution systems A growing movement of small farmers now reject the dominant paradigm of aggressive capitalist development and are re creating food systems based on moral ecology a new concept we introduce to characterise food systems that regenerate the natural environment and serve the common good rather than maximise profit Small farmers like these already feed two thirds of humanity using only a third of agricultural land With proper support we argue they could feed the entire world using sustainable and socially responsible approaches to eradicate world hunger

Tourism in Southeast Asia Michael Hitchcock,Victor T. King,Mike Parnwell,2009 Tourism in Southeast Asia provides an up to date exploration of the state of tourism development and associated issues in one of the world s most dynamic tourism destinations The volume takes a close look at many of the challenges facing Southeast Asian tourism at a critical stage of transition and transformation and following a recent series of crises and disasters Building on and advancing the path breaking Tourism in South East Asia produced by the same editors in 1993 it adopts a multidisciplinary approach and includes contributions from some of the leading researchers on tourism in Southeast Asia presenting a number of fresh perspectives The volume combines introductory material with an in depth examination of anthropological writing on Southeast Asian tourism followed by case studies dealing with as diverse issues as globalization terrorism romance tourism and ecotourism Tourism Development Peter M. Burns,Marina Novelli,2008 Making an empirical contribution to the understanding of tourism as a development mechanism in poor regions and countries this book looks at the successes and paradoxes of tourism in this role and considers why tourism as a catalyst for economic development can be a controversial device It offers a perspective on theoretical frameworks and uses international case studies covering both social and economic aspects The book is relevant to both tourism practitioners and academics It consists of 16 chapters in addition to an introduction and has a subject index Subversion, Conversion, Development James Leach, Lee Wilson, 2014-04-25 Explorations of design use and reuse of information technology in diverse historical and cultural contexts Southeast Asian Anthropologies Eric C. Thompson, Vineeta Sinha, 2019 Anthropology is a flourishing discipline in Southeast Asia This book makes visible the development of national traditions and transnational practices of anthropology across the region The authors are practising anthropologists with decades of experience in the intellectual traditions and institutions that have taken root in the region Three overlapping issues are addressed in these pages First the historical development of traditions of research scholarship and social engagement across diverse anthropological communities of the region which have adopted and adapted global anthropological trends to their local circumstances Second the opportunities and challenges faced by Southeast Asian anthropologists as they practise their craft in different political contexts Third the emergence of locally grounded intra regional transnational linkages and practices The book contributes to a 21st century world anthropologies paradigm from a Southeast Asian perspective "Right Development" Juliana Essen, 2005-01-01 Right Development examines the Santi Asoke Buddhist Reform Movement of Thailand as a culturally and environmentally appropriate alternative to western development programs The Asoke group's aim is not a Western ideal to accumulate high levels of material comfort but a Buddhist ideal to release attachment to the material world and attain spiritual freedom Ethnographic research at one Asoke community illuminates how Asoke beliefs and practices foster development on three levels the individual community and society A closer look at a day in the life of four women provides further insight into this development This book stipulates that development must be culturally locally situated focused on livelihoods rather than economic growth environmentally sustainable and endogenously inspired implemented and maintained The intent here is not to offer a new meta strategy for global development but to underscore the need for diverse responses to the vast array of economic social and environmental dilemmas Right Development offers alternatives for sustainable development perfect for scholars of Buddhism or Thailand Regulation in Asia John Gillespie, Randall Peerenboom, 2009-06-08 Covering a wide variety of Asian countries this book explores the complex economic and regulatory factors that generate social demand for state regulation and shows how local networks courts democratic processes and civil society have a huge influence on regulatory systems

Tourism, Culture and Development Stroma Cole, 2007-11-09 Can tourism help a poor remote community to develop How much does tourism change a village How can a village have the benefits tourism offers without the problems it can cause These are the questions that lie at the core of this text Using an anthropologist's eye and a high degree of trust this book uncovers the story of tourism development in two small villages on a remote island of Eastern Indonesia The ethnography provides a rich description of life in a non western marginal community in a contemporary global context and how they face the challenge of balancing socio economic integration and cultural distinction It uncovers the conflicts of tourism development between a poor community tourists governments and brokers This micro study has ramifications beyond the locality Many other villages in Indonesia are experiencing similar issues Many of the challenges are relevant to peripheral communities across the globe Themes in this book will resonate with studies of tourism tourists development globalisation and cultural change from around the world

Methodology and Research Practice in Southeast Asian Studies M. Huotari,J. Rüländ,J. Schlehe,2014-07-29 This book addresses the question of how to ground research practice in area specific yet globally entangled contexts such as Global Southeast Asia It offers a fruitful debate between various approaches to Southeast Asia Studies while taking into consideration the area specific contexts of research practice cross cutting methodological issues

Rural Development and Social Science Research Victor T. King,1999

Borneo Studies in History, Society and Culture Victor T. King,Zawawi Ibrahim,Noor Hasharina Hassan,2016-08-12 This edited book is the first major review of what has been achieved in Borneo Studies to date Chapters in this book situate research on Borneo within the general disciplinary fields of the social sciences with the weight of attention devoted to anthropological research and related fields such as development studies gender studies environmental studies social policy studies and cultural studies Some of the chapters in this book are extended versions of presentations at the Borneo Research Council s international conference hosted by Universiti Brunei Darussalam in June 2012 and a Borneo Studies workshop organised in Brunei in 2012 The volume examines some of the major debates and controversies in Borneo Studies including those which have served to connect post war research on Borneo to wider scholarship It also assesses some of the more recent contributions and interests of locally based researchers in universities and other institutions in Borneo itself The major strength of the book is the inclusion of a substantial amount of research undertaken by scholars working and teaching within the Southeast Asian region In particular there is an examination of research materials published in the vernacular notably the outpouring of work published in Indonesian by the Institut Dayakologi in Pontianak In doing so the book also addresses the urgent matters which have not received the attention they deserve specifically subjects themes and issues that have already been covered but require further contemplation elaboration and research and the scope for disciplinary and multidisciplinary collaboration in Borneo Studies The book is a valuable resource and reference work for students and researchers interested in social science scholarship on Borneo and for those with wider interests in Indonesia and Malaysia and in the Southeast Asian region

Southeast Asia Jonathan Rigg,2004-08-02 The revised edition of Southeast Asia provides a grounded account of how people in the region are responding to and being affected by the changes sweeping through the region
