WW2
FACT FILES

PETER CHAMBERLAIN and TERRY GANDER

The anti-aircraft guns of all the major combatants are covered in this Fact File along with their main data points. There are many illustrations. The anti-aircraft guns of World War 2 ranged from World War 1 veterans up to the most advanced that the ballistic designers of 1945 could produce. The range covers such items as the British 3" AA gun of 1918, and the elderly French 75, right up to the advanced German 12.8 cm Flakzwilling and 5 cm Flak 214. In between are the various 40 mm Bofors models in use, with both sides of the conflict and the numerous light guns such as the 20 mm Oerlikon, Scotti, and Breda variants. Information is also given on the famous German 8.8 cm models, the British 3.7 variants, the American 90 mm M1 and the Italian 90 mm 90/53.

Anti Aircraft Guns Ww2 Fact :

The Bofors Gun Terry Gander,2013-04-30 The definitive history of this enduring and versatile anti aircraft weapon including many photos and drawings The 40mm Bofors gun first produced in the 1930s has become one of the most famous artillery pieces of all time It shows no sign of fading from the defense scene as in the second decade of the twenty first century it performs in many roles that were not contemplated by its original designers It has also proven to be so versatile that it is now allied to electronic and other technological marvels that were mere pipe dreams only a few years ago When the Bofors entered the international defense market its primary quarry the military aircraft was still a slow and fragile machine that could be terminally damaged by a single hit from a 40mm projectile Terry Gander describes this early period in the gun s development and he shows how despite recent increases in target speed and other performance parameters it can still inflict a one hit kill on almost any aircraft helicopter or guided missile Perhaps the most astonishing aspect of the story is that the fundamentals of today s Bofors guns remain virtually unchanged from the very first examples to come off the Karlskoga production line in Sweden In all its forms the Bofors continues to be a sound reliable and lethal piece of military hardware that has given good service to gunners all over the world Terry Gander s comprehensive account of the history of this remarkable weapon over the course of almost eighty years is fascinating reading and an invaluable work of reference for military historians and artillery specialists alike

Wunderwaffen - The secret weapons of World War II Mantelli - Brown - Kittel - Graf,2017-02-28
Vergeltungswaffen retaliatory weapon was a term coined during the Second World War to represent some Wunderwaffe miraculous weapons that Germany was developing The miracle weapons according to the propaganda would have given a clear technological superiority of the German army and would have radically changed the course of the conflict which has now clearly turned in favor of the Allies The most famous Wunderwaffe as well as some of the few to have been completed and widely used were the Vergeltungswaffe vengeance weapons most still Wunderwaffe remained at the project level as the German military nuclear program or prototypes such as the Panzer VIII Maus Among the most famous are cited the V1 flying bomb the fighter interceptor Bachem Ba 349 Natter the rocket V2 Wasserfall anti aircraft missile the V3 cannon and the cannon 21 cm K 12 E While the V1 can be considered a first draft of cruise missile as it was flying on a cruise route to the target before you fall on the objective the V2 rocket was the first real man made and used in an armed conflict Initially these weapons had their own names but for the purposes of propaganda Joseph Goebbels coined the name Vergeltungswaffen retaliatory weapons since they were the first to bomb British popular districts of German cities slaughtering innocent civilians
