Anticipatory Grief:

Loss and Anticipatory Grief Therese A. Rando, 1986 Death, Grief, and Mourning John S. Stephenson, 1985-04-01
How do Americans cope with death Do our feelings about dying influence the way we live How are our ideas of death different from those of our ancestors These questions and others are addressed in this innovative new book a comprehensive interdisciplinary approach to the processes practices and experiences concerning death and dying in the United States Drawing on sociology and psychology as well as history and literature John S Stephenson surveys the range of individual and social responses to death from our very conception of its meaning to the complex ethical dilemmas surrounding suicide and euthanasia Stephenson synthesizes a theoretical perspective of death from the contributions of such important thinkers as Freud Jung Ernest Becker and Robert Jay Lifton He reviews the evolution of American attitudes and behaviors toward death from the Puritan era to the present and charts the significance of such organizations for the dying as hospitals hospices and nursing homes Bereavement as both personal reaction grief and social convention mourning is also discussed as is the denial of death as a coping mechanism for individuals and institutions alike In his final chapters Stephenson analyzes the ceremonies of death including gravestones as social indicators and provides a psychosocial overview of suicide as a final desperate attempt to assert control He concludes by exploring the implications of euthanasia at a time when technology can extend life dramatically but is not always capable of assuring its quality Throughout authentic case examples many drawn from Stephenson s own clinical work illustrate the multi faceted imagery and experiences that comprise the American way of death Stephenson s book will be welcomed by sociologists psychologists social workers religious leaders nurses and others concerned with caring for the dying and the bereaved It is a brilliant and elegantly written work that crosses disciplinary boundaries to provide a valuable synthesis of existing knowledge and offer educators and professionals a firm foundation for teaching practice and research Grief and Bereavement in the Adult Palliative Care Setting E. Worden, 2008 Coping with Life Stress, volume II Alexander V. Libin, Elena V. Libin, Walter Erich Penk, Nawar Shara, 2024-02-09 This Research Topic is the second volume of the Research Topic Coping With Life Stress Please see the first volume here Existing studies on coping with stress and life difficulties are very contradictory Traditional approaches while identifying cognitive emotional and behavioral aspects of coping often confuse the modality of the strategy with its functionality and outcome This conceptual drawback presents quite a few challenges to the study of efficient and inefficient strategies Perception of the incongruence between modalities cognitive emotional or behavioral of a particular strategy and its functionality or organizational efforts efficient vs inefficient hinders the development of an integrated methodology for a generalized coping with life stress process The absence of general principles for classification of efficient and inefficient coping poses methodological as well as practical difficulties in their diagnostics and differentiation thereby causing additional obstacles in the systematic study of this important phenomenon The Coping with Life Stress approach is focused on research based on the translation of scientific knowledge regarding problem solving processes into practical applications geared toward improvement of individual life learning or coping skills Grief To Growth Javier Aufderhar, AI, 2025-02-18 Grief to Growth explores the unexpected potential for personal growth arising from bereavement Challenging conventional views of grief as solely negative the book highlights how loss can foster resilience and a deeper understanding of oneself It emphasizes that there isn't a single right way to grieve and introduces post traumatic growth PTG as a possible outcome Instead of focusing on returning to a pre loss state the book reveals how individuals can experience positive psychological change and develop new strengths supported by longitudinal studies that provide a nuanced look at the grieving process The book presents evidence based strategies for coping and emotional regulation such as cognitive restructuring and mindfulness It also stresses the importance of social support and self compassion in navigating bereavement Grief to Growth offers practical guidance for fostering post traumatic growth presenting actionable steps and exercises The book moves from introducing core concepts of grief and PTG to exploring coping strategies and finally culminating in a practical guide for personal transformation The book differentiates itself by advocating for a growth oriented approach challenging the traditional medical model that focuses on symptom reduction By integrating insights from positive psychology and trauma studies Grief to Growth provides a roadmap for harnessing the transformative power of grief empowering readers to emerge with renewed strength and meaning On Grief and Grieving Elisabeth Kübler-Ross, David Kessler, 2005-07-19 A modern classic text on the crucial role of grieving in dealing with loss by the author who first explored the now famous five stages of grief On Grief and Grieving is an invaluable blend of Kubler Ross's practical wisdom case studies and her own experiences and spiritual insight Elisabeth Kübler-Ross's On Death and Dying changed the way we talk about the end of life Before her own death in 2004 she and David Kessler completed On Grief and Grieving which looks at the way we experience the process of grief Just as On Death and Dying taught us the five stages of death denial anger bargaining depression and acceptance On Grief and Grieving applies these stages to the grieving process and weaves together theory inspiration and practical advice including sections on sadness hauntings dreams isolation and healing This is a fitting finale and tribute to the acknowledged expert on end of life matters Good Housekeeping Existential and Spiritual Issues in Death Attitudes Adrian Tomer, Grafton Eliason, Paul T.
