Antique Wicker:

Old-House Journal, 1990-09 Old House Journal is the original magazine devoted to restoring and preserving old houses. For more than 35 years, our mission has been to help old house owners repair, restore, update, and decorate buildings of every age and architectural style. Each issue explores hands-on restoration techniques, practical architectural guidelines, historical overviews, and homeowner stories, all in a trusted, authoritative voice.

Wicker Design Mary Whitesides, 2003 This beautifully designed volume is the comprehensive book on wicker. Learn how wicker is made, all about the different styles and types, and how to restore and maintain your own wicker furniture. The book covers different types of wicker, from the Victorian style with twisted rosettes and cabriole legs to Art Deco furniture of the 1950s with brightly colored fabrics and modern lines. Author and designer Mary Whitesides teaches you how to decorate with wicker using creative ideas to incorporate it into many different styles of homes. Don't be fooled into thinking wicker is just for the sunroom or an outdoor patio. Wicker has great decorating possibilities and can be combined with furniture in many different styles to create a look that can be casual or formal, vintage or modern. The chapter on decorating with wicker shows examples from dozens of settings, so you can see how easily wicker is incorporated into rooms for the look you desire. Wicker also includes information on what to look for in buying vintage wicker, how to care for and maintain your wicker, and how to restore antique pieces. A complete resource directory of national and international companies where you can purchase wicker is included. With 140 gorgeous full-color photographs, this book will show you how versatile and beautiful wicker can be.

Old House Interiors, 2006-06 National architectural magazine now in its fifteenth year, covering period inspired design 1700-1950. Commissioned photographs show real homes inspired by the past but livable. Historical and interpretive rooms are included, new construction additions, and new kitchens and baths take their place along with restoration work. A feature on furniture appears in every issue. Product coverage is extensive. Experts offer advice for homeowners and designers on finishing, decorating, and furnishing period homes of every era. A garden feature, essays, archival material, events, and exhibitions, and book reviews round out the editorial. Many readers claim the beautiful advertising, all of it design related, no lifestyle ads, is as important to them as the articles.
