Autopies Du Roman Policier:

Le roman policier Marc Lits, 1999 Le roman policier existe depuis 150 ans et malgré son ancienneté il trouve difficilement sa place dans l'institution littéraire alors qu'il est lu par des millions de lecteurs. Sous cette étiquette se cachent en fait des réalités très différentes. Il est donc utile de retracer l'évolution historique de ce genre protéiforme d'Edgar Poe à Daniel Pennac pour en saisir les multiples facettes. Ce parcours suppose que soit définie la notion de genre et que le roman policier soit bien défini par rapport à plusieurs domaines proches comme le fantastique, le mythe, le nouveau roman ou le fait divers. Ces explorations principalement basées sur le récit d'énigme nous font redécouvrir la richesse du patrimoine policier francophone à travers les œuvres d'Émile Gaboriau, Maurice Leblanc, Gaston Leroux, Pierre Véry, Claude Aveline, Simenon et Steeman ou les auteurs du néo-polar. Au sein de la paralittérature, le genre policier est ici abordé sous l'angle générique, structurel, thématique, sociologique, historique.

The Pleasures of Crime David Platten, 2011-12 For 150 years the French public and literati have enjoyed a love affair with crime fiction. This book investigates the nature of this relationship and how through periods of dramatic social and political change in France it has flourished. It challenges the conventional view of a popular genre feeding a niche market depicting crime fiction instead as a field of creative endeavour which has gradually matured into one of considerable literary fertility. By inviting us to share secrets and crack codes, creating suspense and at times not shirking from presenting horrific events in graphic language, the crime story brings into play the intellect and emotions of its readership. This book explores both this intrinsic literary value of the crime novel and its extrinsic witness to historical events and cultural trends, arguing that these apparently distinct aspects are in fact dynamic interrelated parts of the same whole. This blend of cultural history with literary analysis allows for the discussion of themes such as politics, memory, the urban environment and youth cultures, mixed with case studies of major French crime writers including Gaston Leroux, Georges Simenon, Jean-Patrick Manchette, Daniel Pennac and Fred Vargas.

Power, Marginality, and the Body in Medieval Islam Fedwa Malti-Douglas, 2022-04-19 From rulers to uninvited guests, from women to thieves, from dreams to nightmares, from blindness to torture, in a series of ground-breaking studies, Power, Marginality, and the Body in Medieval Islam explores the multi-layered and complex textual universe of medieval Islam. The power of the ruler sits alongside the power of the trickster as games of detection and verbal erudition are displayed for the edification of the reader. Humour is not lacking, either as male and female characters indulge in various forms of wit that redefine and recast the sacred. For much of this world, the body reigns supreme, not only in illness and miracle cures but in displays of transgression and torture. Covering the range of literature from sacred text to history, biography and anecdote, this book provides a stimulating analysis of the world of medieval Islamic mentalities.
