The Dilemmas of Neo-Liberal Reform at Makerere University, 1989-2005* Mahmood Mamdani,2007 Scholars in the Marketplace is a case study of market based reforms at Uganda s Makerere University With the World Bank heralding neoliberal reform at Makerere as the model for the transformation of higher education in Africa it has implications for the whole continent At the global level the Makerere case exemplifies the fate of public universities in a market oriented and capital friendly era The Makerere reform began in the 1990s and was based on the premise that higher education is more of a private than a public good Instead of pitting the public against the private and the state against the market this book shifts the terms of the debate toward a third alternative than explores different relations between the two The book distinguishes between privatisation and commercialisation two processes that drove the Makerere reform It argues that whereas privatisation the entry of privately sponsored students is compatible with a public university where priorities are publicly set commercialisation financial and administrative autonomy for each faculty to design a market responsive curriculum inevitably leads to a market determination of priorities in a public university The book warns against commercialisation of public universities as the subversion of public institutions for private purposes The Boston Directory ,1873 Bonfort's Wine and Liquor Trade Directory for the United States ,1875 Who's Who in Canadian Business 2001 Gillian K. Researching education policy David Halpin, 2005-08-04 The methodology researching of educational policy is the subject of this book. It takes a behind-the-scenes look at the conducting the analysis and the interpretation of research carried out into educational policy issues revolving around the 1988 Education Reform Act. The contributors draw on their project research experience to demonstrate the breadth of issues linked with such policy research and cover the gender and power balance between interviewer and interviewee, the difficulties resulting from different ideological stances of researchers and researched, and difficulties in finding links between research and policy.

Managing Performing Arts Collections in Academic and Public Libraries Carolyn A. Sheehy, 1994-07-21 This professional reference provides solid advice to academic and public librarians for managing performing arts collections. The volume is divided into sections on the history of performing arts librarianship, dance collections, film studies collections, music collections, and theater collections. Each chapter is written by one or more expert contributors and presents current and reliable information on collection management. They discuss personnel management, collection development, technical services, public services, the impact of new technologies, facilities management, financial planning, and political considerations. Each chapter closes with references cited in the chapter, and the volume concludes with a valuable selected annotated bibliography of important background sources and management tools.
