Avenging Spirit:

Karanga Indigenous Religion in Zimbabwe Tabona Shoko, 2016-04-22 Tabona Shoko contends that religion and healing are intricately intertwined in African religions. This book on the religion of the Karanga people of Zimbabwe sheds light on important methodological issues relevant to research in the study of African religions. Analysing the traditional Karanga views of the causes of illness and disease mechanisms of diagnosis at their disposal and the methods they use to restore health, Shoko discusses the views of a specific African Independent Church of the Apostolic tradition. The conclusion Shoko reaches about the central religious concerns of the Karanga people is derived from detailed field research consisting of interviews and participant observation. This book testifies that the centrality of health and well-being is not only confined to traditional religion but reflects its adaptive potential in new religious systems manifest in the phenomenon of Independent Churches. Rather than succumbing to the folly of static generalizations, Tabona Shoko offers important insights into a particular society upon which theories can be reassessed, adding new dimensions to modern features of the religious scene in Africa.

Nightmare Japan Jay McRoy, 2008 Over the last two decades Japanese filmmakers have produced some of the most important and innovative works of cinematic horror. At once visually arresting, philosophically complex and politically charged, films by directors like Tsukamoto Shinya, Tetsuo: The Iron Man (1988) and Tetsuo II: Body Hammer (1992), Sato Hisayasu's Muscle (1988) and Naked Blood (1995), Kurosawa Kiyoshi's Cure (1997), Sance (2000) and Ka-ro (2001), Nakata Hideo's Ringu (1998), Ringu II (1999) and Dark Water (2002), and Miike Takashi's Audition (1999) and Ichi the Killer (2001) continually revisit and redefine the horror genre in both its Japanese and global contexts. In the process, these and other directors of contemporary Japanese horror film consistently contribute exciting and important new visions from postmodern reworkings of traditional avenging spirit narratives to groundbreaking works of cinematic terror that position depictions of radical or monstrous alterity, hybridity as metaphors for larger socio-political concerns, including shifting gender roles, reconsiderations of the importance of the extended family as a social institution and reconceptualisations of the very notion of cultural and national boundaries.

Counseling and Pastoral Care in African and Other Cross-Cultural Contexts Tapiwa N. Mucherera, 2017-11-03 The coming of Colonization and Christianity to Africa and other indigenous cross-cultural contexts was a mixed bag of pros and cons. The impact of the advent of the two has had a lasting effect, being felt even today. It created issues of bi-culturalism and bi-religiousness in personal and religious identities that counselors and the church need to address when working with people from these contexts. There is the existence of deep cultural trauma, including psychological and spiritual scars, needing healing for those living in most of these post-colonial contexts. The Western counseling approaches and Christian rituals need contextualization. A counselor or pastoral caregiver with an integrative consciousness is required to address the psychological and religious identity conflicts existing in African and other indigenous cross-cultural contexts. Public

Death Rituals among the Karanga of Zimbabwe John Chitakure, 2021-10-04 One of the inescapable truths that humanity has to grapple with is the reality of death The manner in which we die or the cause of our death may differ but death remains inevitable We may be afraid of it or not we may try to evade it or not but death still comes Although most religions promise the possibility of another life in the hereafter there is no scientifically verifiable evidence about the reality of that life Despite that lack of evidence every culture performs death rituals meticulously to prepare the spirits of its deceased for whatever form of life that may be available Death Rituals among the Karanga of Zimbabwe Praxis Significance and Changes explores the causes of sickness and death and the praxis of pre burial burial and post burial rituals of the Karanga of Zimbabwe in an attempt to unearth their original form and significance to identify the changes that have taken place It also provides a brief manual for the performance of some selected Karanga death rituals

Prophets of Doom H.U.E. Thoden van Velzen, 2022-11-28 Once the Maroons escaped from slavery and established their communities in the remote interior of Suriname attention shifted from military threat to internal danger As they faced these dangers in an unknown rainforest they sought refuge in prophetic movements directed by charismatic religious leaders This book charts the history of Okanisi religious movements from their escape to the present day It is based on sixty years of fieldwork by the late Bonno Thoden van Velzen and Ineke van Wetering archival research and oral histories Prophets of Doom is a tribute to Okanisi society and reflects decades of research and dedication

Violent Conversion Linda van de Kamp, 2016 Examines Pentecostal conversion as a force of change revealing new insights into its dominant role in global Christianity today There has been an extraordinary growth in Pentecostalism in Africa with Brazilian Pentecostals establishing new transnational Christian connections initiating widespread changes not only in religious practice but in society This book describes its rise in Maputo capital of Mozambique and the sometimes dramatic impact of Pentecostalism on women Here large numbers of urban women are taking advantage of the opportunities Pentecostalism offers to overcome restrictions at home pioneer new life spaces and change their lives through the power of the Holy Spirit Yet conversion can also mean a violent rupturing with tradition with family and with social networks As the pastors encourage women to cut their ties with the past including ancestral spirits they come to see their kin and husbands as imbued with evil powers and many leave their families Conquering spheres that used to be forbidden to them they often live alone as unmarried women sometimes earning more than men of a similar age They are also expected to donate huge sums to the churches often money that they can ill afford bringing new hardships Linda van de Kamp is Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology University of Amsterdam The Netherlands

African Traditional Religion Encounters Christianity John Chitakure, 2017-11-07 Right from the beginning of humankind God has never deprived a people of his grace and revelation In fact God uses people's environment and culture to communicate his will There is no single religion that can claim to have the exclusive possession of God's revelation for God is too immense to be confined within one faith Hence it was erroneous blasphemous and misleading for some of the early Christian missionaries to Africa to claim that they had brought God to Africa a mentality that implied the non existence of God in Africa before their arrival Of course God was already in Africa but the missionaries either failed to discern his presence or just disregarded the traces of his existence This book explores the religious beliefs practices and values of the indigenous people of Africa at the time of the early missionaries arrival with particular reference to the Shona people of Zimbabwe It also evaluates the extent of the missionaries' successes and challenges in converting Africans to Christianity It finally surveys how African Christians have remained attached to the indigenous religious beliefs that used to provide answers to their existential questions

Shona Women in Zimbabwe--A Purchased People? John Chitakure, 2016-09-29 The position and treatment of women in every religion culture and society have been subjects of concern for a long time In every society women fight for their emancipation from exploitive and oppressive patriarchal structures The most contentious issues include domestic violence gender discrimination and inequality in the areas of employment leadership and marriage Domestic violence tops the list and is the worst enemy of any progressive and democratic society It dehumanizes disfigures and demeans its victims and survivors Shona Women in Zimbabwe a Purchased People explores the causes of domestic violence the cultural practice of bridewealth in particular and assesses the extent to which it contributes to the proliferation of domestic violence among the Shona people of Zimbabwe It then explores the Christian traditions particularly the Roman Catholic Church in search of resources that can be used to emancipate Shona women from patriarchal subjugation Finally the book offers a pastoral response that is informed by the experiences of the Shona women their cultural resources and the Roman Catholic religious tradition

Development Naivety and Emergent Insecurities in a Monopolised World Mawere, Munyaradzi, 2018-09-17 It is common knowledge that development without security is like a runaway horse Yet development in Africa has been plagued by insecurities since the extractive periods of slave trade and colonialism In spite of political independence and the euphoria of sovereignty as states Africa has failed to address insecurity which continues to loom large and to threaten aspirations towards truly inclusive and sustainable development A consequence has been Africa s development naivety vis vis the monopolisation of development by the predatory elite actors of the global North and their local facilitators To salvage the continent from such predation and the insecurities engendered requires novel and innovative imagination and praxis This book draws from both the haunted landscapes and bitter memories of past exploitations and from the feeding of the insatiable North with African resources and humanity It brings together essays by a concerned generation of scholars driven by the urgent need for radical decolonisation of African development and its legacies of insecurities It is handy to students and practitioners in economics policy studies political science development studies global and African studies African Belief and Knowledge Systems Munyaradzi Mawere,2011 The debate on the existence of African philosophy has taken central stage in academic circles and academics and researchers have tussled with various aspects of this subject This book notes that the debate on the existence of African philosophy is no longer necessary Instead it urges scholars to demonstrate the different philosophical genres embedded in African philosophy As such the book explores African metaphysical epistemology with the hope to redirect the debate on African philosophy It articulates and systematizes metaphysical and epistemological issues in general and in particular on Africa The book aptly shows how these issues intersect with the philosophy of life traditional beliefs knowledge systems and practices of ordinary Africans and the challenges they raise for scholarship in and on philosophy with relevance to Africa Where Law Meets Reality Moses Chrispus Okello,2012-07-05 Considering the core debates about how to develop a transitional justice agenda that best responds to the African context this book addresses the tension between justice peace and reconciliation Violence Impacting Children and Youth Icarbord Tshabangu,Aluko Opeyemi Idowu,2025-09-02 While much of the Global North has experienced relative peace after World War 2 the same cannot be said about the Global South where there have been numerous political and military conflicts Out of these forms of violence other subsequent forms of deprivation and state repression have resulted causing further spinoffs and inducing more forms of violence impacting children and youth in homes schools street life and in war zones as refugees and child soldiers This book provides informative perspectives on violence impacting children and youth examining trends dynamics and experiences of violence in the Global South s varied settings It enables policymakers to develop useful strategies to protect children and youth since the future of every society lies in the quality of life given to its children and youth The book will be of great value to educators social workers scholars and researchers in violence related areas of practice
