Schat, 2012-12-02 The second edition of Avian Immunology provides an up to date overview of the current knowledge of avian immunology From the ontogeny of the avian immune system to practical application in vaccinology the book encompasses all aspects of innate and adaptive immunity in chickens In addition chapters are devoted to the immunology of other commercially important species such as turkeys and ducks and to ecoimmunology summarizing the knowledge of immune responses in free living birds often in relation to reproductive success The book contains a detailed description of the avian innate immune system encompassing the mucosal enteric respiratory and reproductive systems The diseases and disorders it covers include immunodepressive diseases and immune evasion autoimmune diseases and tumors of the immune system Practical aspects of vaccination are examined as well Extensive appendices summarize resources for scientists including cell lines inbred chicken lines cytokines chemokines and monoclonal antibodies The world wide importance of poultry protein for the human diet as well as the threat of avian influenza pandemics like H5N1 and heavy reliance on vaccination to protect commercial flocks makes this book a vital resource This book provides crucial information not only for poultry health professionals and avian biologists but also for comparative and veterinary immunologists graduate students and veterinary students with an interest in avian immunology With contributions from 33 of the foremost international experts in the field this book provides the most up to date review of avian immunology so far Contains a detailed description of the avian innate immune system reviewing constitutive barriers chemical and cellular responses it includes a comprehensive review of avian Toll like receptors Contains a wide ranging review of the ecoimmunology of free living avian species as applied to studies of population dynamics and reviews methods and resources available for carrying out such research Immunology and

Developmental Biology of the Chicken Olli Vainio, Beat A. Imhof, 2012-12-06 The chicken is a useful model for research into the basic features of immunology because its immune system functions in a way similar to that of human beings and because the chicken embryo is easily accessed experimentally This book is a collection of comprehensive articles updating chicken embryogenesis and immunology It is now clear that it is possible to produce transgenic chickens by embryonic stem cell manipulation and transfer into the oocyte Alternatively the chick offers us the possibility of producing somatic chimeras by manipulating embryonic cells at the primitive streak or earlier stages Working with later embryos we can learn the principles involved in the positioning of organ anlagen such as the limb bud It is shown in this book that these structures are formed by appropriate cell and tissue arrangements driven by molecular factors Work on the chicken has contributed substantially to our understanding of basic immunology including the graft vs host reaction the clonal reactivity of immunocompetent cells separation of the T and B cell lineages somatic diversification of the B cell repertoire by immunoglobulin Ig class switching antibody diversification Ig gene conversion and the origin of the hematopoietic stem cell precursor of lymphoid and myeloid cells Hematopoietic stem cells emerge successively from several embryonic sites such as the yolk sac the aorta and the mesentery near the aorta Avian Immunology Auli Toivanen, Paavo Toivanen, 1987 The Physiology of Immunity James A. Marsh, Marion D. Kendall, 1996-07-24 The study of neuroendocrine immune interactions has become a highly visible and fast growing segment of mainstream immunology This book provides an overview of the immune system and in depth coverage of the many different areas that make up neuroendocrine immune research The main emphasis is on the physiology of the processes involved stressing an integrated approach to immunology The text is organized in seven sections beginning with an introduction to the immune system Section II outlines how the central nervous system CNS communicates with central and peripheral lymphoid organs Section III provides information on factors from the immune system that act as messengers to the CNS The metabolic regulation of growth and development is discussed in Section IV Section V examines the interactions occurring between the reproductive and immune systems The effects of other physiologic stressors on immunity are reviewed in Section VI Section VII considers cyclic and periodic influences on the immune system Finally there is a consideration of a new unifying theory for immunology Students researchers clinicians and veterinary scientists can discover new areas of interest in specific diseases and immune interactions in this novel presentation Veterinary Vaccines and Diagnostics , 1998-10-27 This volume of Advances in Veterinary Medicine derived in part from the First Veterinary Vaccines and Diagnostic Conferences deals with vaccines an especially active area of veterinary research and controversy Diseases of Poultry Aly M.
