Awakening Continent Lord Stephen Volume 1:

Lord Strathcona Donna McDonald, 2002-09-01 Donald Smith known to most Canadians as Lord Strathcona was an adventurer who made his fortune building railroads He joined the Hudson's Bay Company at age eighteen and went on to build the first railway to open the Canadian Northwest to settlement As his crowning achievement he drove the last spike for the nation building Canadian Pacific Railway In 1896 Smith became Canada's High Commissioner in London and was soon elevated to the peerage He became a generous benefactor to Canadian institutions This eminently readable biography brings to light new information including details about Strathcona's personal life and his scandalous marriage The Medicine Line Beth LaDow, 2013-10-18 Along the border between Montana and Saskatchewan lies one hundred miles of hard and desolate terrain a remote place where Native and new American nations came together in a contest for land wealth and survival Following explorers Lewis and Clark and Alexander Mackenzie both Americans and Canadians launched the process of empire along the 49th parallel disrupting the lives of Native peoples who began to traverse this imaginary line in search of refuge In this evocative and beautifully rendered portrait Beth LaDow recreates the unstable world along this harsh frontier capturing the complex history of a borderland known as the medicine line to the Indians who lived there When Sitting Bull crossed the boundary for the last time in 1881 weary of pursuit by the U.S. cavalry and the constant threat of starvation the region opened up to railroad men and settlers determined to make a living But the unforgiving landscape would resist repeated attempts to subdue it from the schemes of powerful railroad magnate James J. Hill to the exploits of Canadian Mountie James Walsh to the misguided dreams of ranchers and homesteaders whose difficult existence is best captured in Wallace Stegner's plaintive accounts of a boyhood spent in this stark place Drawing on little known diaries letters and memories as well as interviews with the descendants of settlers and native peoples The Medicine Line reveals how national interests were transformed by the powerful alchemy of mingling peoples and the place they shared With a historian's insight and a storyteller's gift LaDow questions some of our deepest assumptions about a nationalist frontier past and finds in this least known place a new historical and emotional heart land of the North American West A colorful history of the most desolate terrain in America one hundred miles between Canada Montana where three nations fought over land wealth ultimately survival Civilizing the West A.A. den Otter, 1986 Alexander Galt and his son Elliott worked tirelessly to promote resource exploitation on Canada's vast western plains Their coal mines in Alberta gave birth to the city of Lethbridge Awakening continent, 1965 The Honourable John Norquay Gerald Friesen, 2024-04-12 The life and times of the Premier from Red River John Norquay orphan and prodigy was a leader among the Scots-Cree peoples of western Canada Born in the Red River Settlement he farmed hunted traded and taught school before becoming a legislator cabinet minister and from 1878 to 1887 premier of Manitoba Once described as Louis Riel's alter ego he skirmished with prime minister John A. Macdonald clashed with railway baron George Stephen and endured racist taunts while championing the interests of the Prairie West in battles with investment bankers Ottawa politicians and the CPR His contributions to the development of Canada's federal system and his dealings with issues of race and racism deserve attention today Recounted here by Canadian historian Gerald Friesen Norquay's life story ignites contemporary conversations around the nature of empire and Canada's own imperial past Drawing extensively on recently opened letters and financial papers that offer new insights into his business family and political life Friesen reveals Norquay to be a thoughtful statesman and generous patriarch This masterful biography of the Premier from Red River sheds welcome light on a neglected historical figure and a tumultuous time for Canada and Manitoba

From Telegrapher to Titan Valerie Knowles, 2004-03-01 Winner of the 2005 Ottawa Book Award for Non fiction the 2005 University of British Columbia Award for Best Canadian Biography and the Canadian Railroad Historical Association Award for Best Railway Book of the Year William Van Horne was one of North America's most accomplished men Born in Illinois in 1843 he became a prominent railway figure in the United States before coming to Canada in 1881 to become general manager of the fledgling Canadian Pacific Railway Van Horne pushed through construction of the CPR's transcontinental line and went on to become company president He also became one of Canada's foremost financiers and art collectors capping his career by opening Cuba's interior with a railway

Close Ties Ken Cruikshank, 1991-10-31 The centrepiece of the Canadian government's regulatory strategy from 1904 onwards the Board of Railway Commissioners is also central to Cruikshank's study He describes the origins of this independent regulatory agency the forerunner of the National Transportation Agency and examines its efforts to resolve complex freight disputes Cruikshank shows how freight rate controversies generated a variety of regulatory initiatives governments attempted to stimulate competition in the railway industry entered into contracts such as the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement and fixed tariffs in legislation such as the Maritime Freight Rate Act He demonstrates however that the new initiatives did not necessarily displace older ones but instead created a plurality of regulatory instruments which governed the Canadian freight rate structure The regulatory pluralism established during this period has endured through much of the twentieth century

McGill Medicine Joseph Hanaway, Richard L. Cruess, 2006-01-19 McGill Medicine is also the story of the doctors and administrators who made all this happen visionaries such as Principal Sir Arthur Currie and Dr C F Martin who shepherded the concept of full time faculty through the various approval processes of the school Dr J C Meakins who became in 1924 the first full time professor of medicine and Dr Wilder Penfield the founder and first director of the Montreal Neurological Institute among many others

Royal Vic Neville Terry, 1994-05-30 Neville Terry traces the history of the hospital from its founding by Lord Strathcona Donald Smith and Lord Mount Stephen George Stephen to its present position as a world renowned health care and research facility Focusing on the people whose efforts contributed to the Royal Vic's success physicians surgeons nurses administrators support staff researchers and volunteers the author recounts their trials and triumphs in bringing about medical social and fiscal change in the health care field The final chapter documents the Royal

Vic's achievements in medical research Health care in Canada has undergone incredible change in the last century with tremendous advances in medical knowledge and the implementation of government funded health care The Royal Vic provides a fascinating overview of this eventful era Extractives, Manufacturing, and Services David O. Whitten, 1997-04-22 The second volume in the Handbook of American Business History series this book offers concise histories of extractive manufacturing and service industries as well as extensive bibliographic essays pointing to the leading sources on each industry and bibliographic checklists Supplementing other bibliographic materials in business history this volume provides researchers with a much needed path through the vast array of material available in the library and on the Internet Indicating which resources to check and which to bypass the book is a guide to a sometimes overwhelming amount of information Each of the book's chapters provides a concise industry history beginning with the industry's rise to importance in the U S and continuing to the present The bibliographic essays provide a narrative outline of the leading sources published or made available in archives libraries or museum collections since 1971 when Lovett's American Economic and Business History Information Sources was published Each discussion concludes with a bibliographic checklist of the titles mentioned in the essay as well as other titles In a rapidly expanding information society researchers teachers and students may be easily overwhelmed by the exhaustive material available in print and electronically What is useful and what can be ignored is a strategic question and few know where to begin This book provides a guide Nation Maker Richard J. Gwyn, 2011-09-27 1 NATIONAL BESTSELLER An exciting story passionately told and rich in detail this major biography is the second volume of the bestselling award winning John A The Man Who Made Us by well known journalist and highly respected author Richard Gwyn John A Macdonald Canada's first and most important prime minister is the man who made Confederation happen who built this country over the next quarter century and who shaped what it is today From Confederation Day in 1867 where this volume picks up Macdonald finessed a reluctant union of four provinces in central and eastern Canada into a strong nation despite indifference from Britain and annexationist sentiment in the United States But it wasn't easy The wily Macdonald faced constant crises throughout these years from Louis Riel's two rebellions through to the Pacific Scandal that almost undid his government and his quest to find the spine of the nation the railroad that would link east to west Gwyn paints a superb portrait of Canada and its leaders through these formative years and also delves deep to show us Macdonald the man as he marries for the second time deals with the birth of a disabled child and the assassination of his close friend Darcy McGee and wrestles with whether Riel should hang Indelibly Gwyn shows us Macdonald's love of this country and his ability to joust with forces who would have been just as happy to see the end of Canada before it had really begun creating a must read for all Canadians The English Catalogue of Books Sampson Low, 1966 Vols for 1898 1968 include a directory of publishers The History of Foreign Investment in the United States to 1914 Mira Wilkins, 1989 From the colonial era to 1914 America was a debtor nation in international accounts owing more to foreigners than foreigners owed to us By 1914 it was the world's largest debtor nation Mira Wilkins provides the first complete history of foreign investment in the United States during that period The book shows why the United States was attractive to foreign investors and traces the changing role of foreign capital in the nation's development covering both portfolio and direct investment The immense new wave of foreign investment in the United States today and our return to the status of a debtor nation once again the world's largest debtor nation makes this strong exposition far more than just historically interesting Wilkins reviews foreign portfolio investments in government securities federal state and local and in corporate stocks and bonds as well as foreign direct investments in land and real estate manufacturing plants and even such service sector activities as accounting insurance banking and mortgage lending She finds that between 1776 and 1875 public sector securities principally federal and state securities drew in the most long term foreign investment whereas from 1875 to 1914 the private sector was the main attraction The construction of the American railroad system called on vast portfolio investments from abroad there was also sizable direct investment in mining cattle ranching the oil industry the chemical industry flour production and breweries as well as the production of rayon thread and even submarines In addition there were foreign stakes in making automobile and electrical and nonelectrical machinery America became the leading industrial country of the world at the very time when it was a debtor nation in world accounts The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1985 1891-1921 Heather Gilbert, 1977 The National Dream Pierre Berton, 2011-06-22 In 1871 a tiny nation just four years old its population well below the 4 million mark determined that it would build the world's longest railroad across empty country much of it unexplored This decision bold to the point of recklessness was to change the lives of every man woman and child in Canada and alter the shape of the nation Using primary sources diaries letters unpublished manuscripts public documents and newspapers Pierre Berton has reconstructed the incredible decade of the 1870s when Canadians of every stripe contractors politicians financiers surveyors workingmen journalists and entrepreneurs fought for the railway or against it The National Dream is above all else the story of people It is the story of George McMullen the brash young promoter who tried to blackmail the Prime Minister of Marcus Smith the crusty surveyor so suspicious of authority he thought the Governor General was speculating in railway lands of Sanford Fleming the great engineer who invented Standard Time but who couldn't make up his mind about the best route for the railway All these figures and dozens more including the political leaders of the era come to life with all their human ambitions and failings Canada 1874-1896 Peter B. Waite, 1971 For the general reader as well as scholar Idaho Genealogical Society Quarterly, 1966 British Book News, 1977 The End of the Road Heather Gilbert, 1977
