Azanian Love Song:

Azanian Love Song Don Mattera, 2007-12-29 Donato Francesco Mattera has been celebrated as a journalist editor writer and poet He is also acknowledged as one of the foremost activists in the struggle for a democratic South Africa and helped to found both the Union of Black Journalists the African Writers Association and the Congress of South African Writers Born in 1935 in Western Native Township now Westbury across the road from Sophiatown Mattera can lay claim to an intriguingly diverse lineage his paternal grandfather was Italian and he has Tswana Khoi Khoi and Xhosa blood in his veins Azanian Love Song Don Mattera, 2007 Donato Francesco Mattera has been celebrated as a journalist editor writer and poet He is also acknowledged as one of the foremost activists in the struggle for a democratic South Africa and helped to found both the Union of Black Journalists the African Writers Association and the Congress of South African Writers Born in 1935 in Western Native Township now Westbury across the road from Sophiatown Mattera can lay claim to an intriguingly diverse lineage his paternal grandfather was Italian and he has Tswana Khoi Khoi and Xhosa blood in his veins Southern African Writing, 2023-12-21 Matatu is a journal on African literatures and societies dedicated to interdisciplinary dialogue between literary and cultural studies historiography the social sciences and cultural anthropology Matatu is animated by a lively interest in African culture and literature including the Afro Caribbean that moves beyond worn out clichés of cultural authenticity and national liberation towards critical exploration of African modernities The East African public transport vehicle from which Matatu takes its name is both a component and a symbol of these modernities based on Western these days usually Japanese technology it is a vigorously African institution it is usually regarded with some anxiety by those travelling in it but is often enough the only means of transport available it creates temporary communicative communities and provides a transient site for the exchange of news storytelling and political debate Matatu is firmly committed to supporting democratic change in Africa to providing a forum for interchanges between African and European critical debates to overcoming notions of absolute cultural ethnic or religious alterity and to promoting transnational discussion on the future of African societies in a wider world Matatu will be published as journal as of 2016 All back volumes are still available in print Southern African Writing Geoffrey V. Davis, 1994 The Literature Police Peter D. McDonald, 2010-10-14 Censorship may have to do with literature Nadine Gordimer once said but literature has nothing whatever to do with censorship As the history of many repressive regimes shows this vital borderline has seldom been so clearly demarcated Just how murky it can sometimes be is compellingly exemplified in the case of apartheid South Africa For reasons that were neither obvious nor historically inevitable the apartheid censors were not only the agents of the white minority government's repressive anxieties about the medium of print They were also officially certified guardians of the literary This book is centrally about the often unpredictable cultural consequences of this paradoxical situation Peter D McDonald brings to light a wealth of new evidence from the once secret archives of the censorship bureaucracy from the records of resistance publishers and writers groups both in the country and abroad and uses extensive oral testimony He tells the strangely tangled stories of censorship and literature in apartheid South Africa and in the process uncovers an extraordinarily complex web of cultural connections linking Europe and Africa East and West The Literature Police affords a unique perspective on one of the most anachronistic exploitative and racist modern states of the post war era and on some of the many forms of cultural resistance it inspired It also raises urgent questions about how we understand the category of the literary in today's globalized intercultural world

The Black Consciousness Reader Baldwin Ndaba, Therese Owen, Masego Panyane, Rabbie Sermula, Janet Smith, 2019-04-25 There is a current revival of Black Consciousness as political and student movements around the world as well as academics and campaigners working in decolonization reconfigure the continued struggle for socio economic revolution Yet the roots of Black Consciousness and its relation to other movements such as Black Lives Matter have only begun to be explored Black Consciousness has deep connections to the struggle against apartheid The Black Consciousness Reader is an essential collection of history culture philosophy and meaning of Black Consciousness by some of the thinkers artists and activists who developed it in order to finally bring revolution to South Africa A contribution to the world's Black cultural archive it examines how the proper acknowledgement of Blackness brings a greater love a broader sweep of heroes and a wider understanding of intellectual and political influences Although the legendary murdered activist Steve Biko is a strong figure within this history the book documents many other significant international Black Consciousness personalities and focuses a predominantly African eye on Black Consciousness in politics land women power art music and religion Onkgopotse Tiro Vuyelwa Mashalaba Winnie Madikizela Mandela Assata Shakur Marcus Garvey Neville Alexander Thomas Sankara Malcolm X Don Mattera Keorapetse Kgosisile W E B DuBois Walter Rodney Mongane Wally Serote Ready D and Zola are among the many bold minds included in this amalgam of facts ideas and images

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell, Dirk Klopper, Craig MacKenzie, 2010 From the outset South Africa's history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party's policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele's call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country's literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from

1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945 The Promise of Memory Michael Weeder, 2021-04-21 This selection of poems covering the years from 1980 to the present day expresses the poets personal attempts at making sense of the everyday ordinary difficulties and the small victories of life The offering emphasises sometimes in an exploratory suggestiveness how differences should not be divisive and that they form part of the range of ways in which we belong to and are of each other Explorings Robin Malan, 1988 A vital exciting collection of poetry for middle senior school level A History of South African Literature Christopher Heywood, 2004-11-18 This book is a critical study of South African literature from colonial and pre colonial times onwards Christopher Heywood discusses selected poems plays and prose works in five literary traditions Khoisan Nguni Sotho Afrikaans English and Indian The discussion includes over 100 authors and selected works including poets from Mqhayi Marais and Campbell to Butler Serote and Krog theatre writers from Boniface and Black to Fugard and Mda and fiction writers from Schreiner and Plaatje to Bessie Head and the Nobel prizewinners Gordimer and Coetzee The literature is explored in the setting of crises leading to the formation of modern South Africa notably the rise and fall of the Emperor Shaka s Zulu kingdom the Colenso crisis industrialisation the colonial and post colonial wars of 1899 1914 and 1939 and the dissolution of apartheid society In Heywood s study South African literature emerges as among the great literatures of the modern world Emerging Traditions Vicki Briault Manus, 2012-07-10 The monograph explores the linguistic impact of the colonial and postcolonial situations in South Africa on language policy on literary production and especially on the stylistics of fiction by indigenous South Africans writing in English A secondary concern is to investigate the present place of English in the multilingual spectrum of South African languages and to see how this worldly English relates to Global English in the South African context The introduction presents a socio linguistic overview of South Africa from pre historic times until the present including language planning policies during and after the colonial era and a cursory review of how the difficulties encountered in implementing the Language Plan provided for by the new South African constitution impinge on the development of black South African English Six chapters track the course of English in South Africa since the arrival of the British in 1795 considered from the point of view of the indigenous African population The study focuses on ways in which indigenous authors indigenize their writing innovating and subverting stylistic conventions including those of African orature in order to bend language and genre towards their own culture and objectives Each chapter corresponds to a briefly outlined historical period that is largely reflected in linguistic and literary developments A small number of significant works for each period are discussed one of which is selected for a case study at the end of each chapter where it is subjected to detailed stylistic analysis and appraised for the degree of indigenization or other linguistic or socio historic influences on style The methodology adopted is a linguistic approach to stylistics focusing on indigenization of English inspired by the work of

"Toubab La!" Literary Representations of Mixed-Race Characters in the African Diaspora Ginette Curry, 2009-05-05 The book is an examination of mixed race characters from writers in the United States The French and British Caribbean islands Martinique Guadeloupe St Lucia and Jamaica Europe France and England and Africa Burkina Faso South Africa Botswana and Senegal The objective of this study is to capture a realistic view of the literature of the African diaspora as it pertains to biracial and multiracial people For example the expression Toubab La as used in the title is from the Wolof ethnic group in Senegal West Africa It means This is a white person or This is a black person who looks or acts white It is used as a metaphor to illustrate multiethnic people's plight in many areas of the African diaspora and how it has evolved The analysis addresses the different ways multiracial characters look at the world and how the world looks at them These characters experience historical economic sociological and emotional realities in various environments from either white or black people Their lineage as both white and black determines a new self making them constantly search for their identity Each section of the manuscript provides an in depth analysis of specific authors novels that is a window into their true experiences The first section is a study of mixed race characters in three acclaimed contemporary novels from the United States James McBride's The Color of Water 1996 Danzy Senna's Caucasia 1998 and Rebecca Walker's Black White and Jewish 2001 reveal the conflicting dynamics of being biracial in today's American society The second section is an examination of mixed race characters in the following French Caribbean novels Mayotte Capécia's I Am a Martinican Woman 1948 Michèle Lacrosil's Cajou 1961 and Ravines du Devant Jour 1993 by Raphaël Confiant Section three is about their literary representations in Derek Walcott's What the Twilight Says 1970 Another life 1973 Dream on Monkey Mountain 1967 and Michelle Cliff's Abeng 1995 from the British Caribbean islands Section four is an in depth analysis of their plight in novels written by contemporary mulatto writers from Europe such as Marie N Diaye's Among Family 1997 Zadie Smith's White Teeth 2000 and Bernardine Evaristo's Lara 1997 Finally the last section of the book is a study of novels from West African and South African writers The analysis of Monique Ilboudo's Le Mal de Peau 2001 Bessie Head's A Woman Alone Autobiographical Writings 1990 and Abdoulaye Sadj's Nini Mul tresse du S n gal 1947 concludes this literary journey that takes the readers through several continents at different points in time Overall this comprehensive study of mixed race characters in the literature of the African diaspora reveals not only the old but also the new ways they decline contest and refuse racial clich s Likewise the book unveils how these characters resist create reappropriate and revise fixed forms of identity in the African diaspora of the 20th and 21st century Most importantly it is also an examination of how the authors themselves deal with the complex reality of a multiracial identity Memory is the Weapon Don Mattera,2010-12-01

Donato Francesco Mattera has been celebrated as a journalist editor writer and poet He is also acknowledged as one of the foremost activists in the struggle for a democratic South Africa and helped to found both the Union of Black Journalists the African Writers Association and the Congress of South African Writers Born in 1935 in Western Native Township now Westbury across the road from Sophiatown Mattera can lay claim to an intriguingly diverse lineage his paternal grandfather was Italian and he has Tswana Khoi Khoi and Xhosa blood in his veins Yet diversity was hardly being celebrated at that time In one of apartheid's most infamous actions the vibrant multicultural Sophiatown was destroyed in 1955 and replaced with the white suburb of Triomf and the wrenching displacement can be felt in Mattera's writing The story of his life in Sophiatown as told in this essay is intricate Covering Mattera's teenage years from 1948 to 1962 when Sophiatown was bulldozed out of existence it weaves together both his personal experience and political development In telling the story of his life as a coloured teenager Mattera takes on the ambitious goal of making us recapture the crucial events of the 1950s in Sophiatown one of the most important decades in the history of black political struggles in South Africa The Politics of South African Football Alpheus Koonyaditse,2010-07-12 The Politics of South African Football is the story of people whose vehement resistance and declaration that there could be no normal sport in an abnormal society proved to be a powerful antidote to the apartheid government's assurances that all was well Oshebenq Alpheus Koonyaditse gives an inspiring account of the event filled journey that led to that memorable Saturday of May 15 2004 For the first time in World Cup history South Africa and indeed Africa won the right to host the nations of the world at the FIFA World Cup in 2010 Yet South African football history began long before that and in fact goes back to before the formation of FIFA in 1904 Comrades Beyond the Cold War Tycho van der Hoog,2025-02-01 A pioneering account of how African revolutionaries benefitted from North Korean aid in their struggles for independence and how they repay this support today Injury Prevention and Control Dinesh Mohan,G.N. Tiwari,2003-09-02 At least 5 million people die each year from injuries and about half the deaths in the 10-24 age group are accountable to them This is a major health problem for which a number of strategies for prevention and control can be developed This book presents a series of the plenary and state of the art presentations from the 5th World Conference on Injury Prevention and Control There is a focus on transportation workplace sport and leisure and domestic sectors and an exploration of the legal medical environmental safety and governmental issues which play a part in the subject Practitioners and researchers in a variety of activities including epidemiology and public health occupational health and safety ergonomics and product design medicine criminology engineering and physical sciences and the behavioural sciences should find this a useful and challenging work Fact - Fiction - "faction" Horst Zander,1999 Voices of Justice and Reason Geoffrey V. Davis,2021-10-25 Over the past fifty years transformations of great moment have taken place in South Africa Apartheid and the subsequent transition to a democratic non racial society in particular have exercised a profound effect on the practice of literature This study traces the development of literature under apartheid then seeks to identify the ways in which writers and theatre practitioners are now facing the challenges of a new social order The main focus is on the work of black writers prime among them Matsemela Manaka Mtutuzeli Matshoba and Richard Rive who as politically committed members of the oppressed majority bore witness to the black experience through their writing Despite the draconian censorship system they were able to address the social problems caused by racial discrimination in all areas of life particularly through forced removals the migrant labour system and the creation of the homelands Their writing may be read both as a comprehensive record of everyday life under apartheid and as an alternative cultural history of South Africa Particular attention is paid to theatre as a barometer of social change in South Africa The concluding chapters consider how in the current period of transition writers and arts institutions have set about reassessing their priorities redefining their function and seeking new aesthetic directions in taking up the challenge of imagining a new society Wena Ntsiki Mazwai,2010 The collection of poems is an intriguing reflection of the sometimes torturous evolution of inner self which so many South Africans face as they struggle to find who they are in a multicultural society that espouses the values of traditional culture while reaching for the promise of a global community Thus the blend of Xhosa and English as Ntsiki strives to merge her modern views with cultural roots She feels strongly the need to reclaim her culture and language and blend them within the context of a cosmopolitan society She captures the vibe and energy of young South Africa and its blossoming as well as its quandaries Ntsiki does not hesitate to deal with controversial and painful issues such as rape and her work challenges the reader to stop and think really think The quest for self expression and self understanding echoes throughout the book and through it she exhorts the reader to have the courage to explore and understand himself Underlying many poems is the unspoken but burning desire that by telling the truth she will create possibilities for others to do the same In many ways Wena is a celebration of life The poems brim over with Ntsiki's own desire to drink to the full and then go out there and pour love and life out into the world The manner in which she distills meaning and value from the negative is perhaps best expressed in her own words from the poem I choose life
