Iran is a key player in some of the most crucial issues of our time But because of its relative diplomatic isolation and the partisan nature of conflicting accounts voiced by different interest groups both inside and outside the country there is a shortage of hard information about the scale and depth of social change in today's Iran. In this volume, an imposing roster of both internationally renowned Iranian scholars and rising young Iranian academics offer contributions many based on recent fieldwork on the nature and evolution of Iran's economy, significant aspects of Iran's changing society and the dynamics of its domestic and international politics since the 1979 revolution, focusing particularly on the post Khomeini period. The book will be of great interest not only to Iran specialists but also to scholars of comparative politics, democratization, social change, politics in the Muslim world and Middle Eastern studies.

Empires of Eurasia Jeffrey Mankoff, 2022-04-19 How the collapse of empires helps explain the efforts of China, Iran, Russia and Turkey to challenge the international order. This is a must read to understand the backstory of conflicts from Crimea to Xinjiang. Fiona Hill, author of There Is Nothing for You Here, Eurasia's major powers, China, Iran, Russia and Turkey increasingly intervene across their borders while seeking to pull their smaller neighbors more firmly into their respective orbits. While analysts have focused on the role of leaders such as Vladimir Putin and Recep Tayyip Erdoğan in explaining this drive to dominate neighbors and pull away from the Western dominated international system, they have paid less attention to the role of imperial legacies. Jeffrey Mankoff argues that what unites these contemporary Eurasian powers is their status as heirs to vast terrestrial empires whose collapse left all four states deeply entangled with the lands and peoples along their peripheries but outside their formal borders. Today they have all found new opportunities to project power within and beyond their borders in patterns shaped by their respective imperial pasts.

Kurdish Awakening Ofra Bengio, 2014-11-15 Kurdish Awakening examines key questions related to Kurdish nationalism and identity formation in Syria, Iraq, Iran and Turkey. The world's largest stateless ethnic group, Kurds have steadily grown in importance as a political power in the Middle East, particularly in light of the Arab Spring. As a result, Kurdish issues, political, cultural and historical alike, have emerged as the subject of intense scholarly interest. This book provides fresh ways of understanding the historical and sociopolitical underpinnings of the ongoing Kurdish awakening and its already significant impact on the region. Rather than focusing on one state or angle, this anthology fills a gap in the literature on the Kurds by providing a panoramic view of the Kurdish homeland's various parts. The volume focuses on aspects of Kurdish nationalism and identity formation not addressed elsewhere, including perspectives on literature, gender and constitution. Making further broad thematic essays include a discussion of the historical experiences of the Kurds from the time of their Islamization more than a millennium ago up until the modern era, a comparison of the Kurdish experience with other ethno-national movements and a treatment of the role of tribalism in modern nation building. This collection is unique in its use of original sources in various languages. The result is an analytically rich portrayal that sheds light on the Kurds' prospects and the challenges they confront in a region undergoing sweeping upheavals.

Recasting Iranian Modernity Kamran Matin,2013-11-07 Critically deploying the idea of uneven and combined development this book provides a novel non Eurocentric account of Iran s experience of modernity and revolution Recasting Iranian Modernity presents the argument that Eurocentrism can be decisively overcome through a social theory that has international relations at its ontological core This will enable a conception of history in which there is an intrinsic international dimension to social change that prevents historical repetition This hitherto under theorized international dimension is the book argues manifest in combined patterns of development which incorporate both foreign and native forms It is the tension prone and unstable nature of these hybrid developmental patterns that mark Iranian modernity and fuelled the socio political dynamics of the 1979 revolution and the rise of political Islam Challenging solely comparative approaches to the Iranian Revolution that explain it away as either a deviation from or a reaction to modernity on the grounds of its religious form this book will be valuable to those interested in an alternative theoretical approach to the Iranian Revolution modern Iran and political Islam working in the fields of International Relations Middle East and Islamic Studies History Political Science Political Sociology Postcolonialism and Comparative Politics Stalin's Early Cold War Foreign Policy Jamil Hasanli,2022-07-14 Immediately after the Allied WW2 victory in Europe claims were made by the Soviet Union over the eastern regions of Turkey to secure direct control over the Bosphorus Dardanelles and Turkish Straits The detailed study of the international components of these events featuring the veiled complexities of Stalin s anti Turkish diplomacy provides a key to understanding crucial aspects of these Soviet territorial claims Iranian Azerbaijan became another hotspot of post war confrontation between the western Allies and the USSR Soviet policy towards Iran manifested in the desire to access their oil resources A further direction emerging within Soviet post war strategy was the Kurdish issue in the Near and Middle East At the conjunction of Turkish and Iranian events Soviet secret service bodies and diplomatic institutions exploited their strengths and toyed with Kurdish minorities in the region Their decisions placed the bordering regions of China Turkey and Iran squarely in the shadowy reaches of Moscow s policy This research uses newly discovered archive material to illustrate the underlying intrigue behind Soviet ambition and intimately tracks how the Soviet Union was defeated in the first Cold War confrontation over its southern borders It also links events of this period with the critical issue of Uyghur assimilation and further contemporary developments highlighting Putin's policies making it invaluable for both academic and general readers

Micro-Spatial Histories of Global Labour Christian G. De Vito, Anne Gerritsen, 2017-09-28 This volume suggests a new way of doing global history. Instead of offering a sweeping and generalizing overview of the past, we propose a micro-spatial approach combining micro-history with the concept of space. A focus on primary sources and awareness of the historical discontinuities and unevennesses characterizes the global history that emerges here. We use labour as our lens in this volume. The resulting micro-spatial history of labour addresses the management and recruitment of labour, its voluntary and coerced spatial mobility, its political perception and representation, and the workers' own agency and social networks. The individual chapters are written by contributors whose expertise covers the late medieval Eastern Mediterranean to present-day Sierra Leone, through early modern China and Italy, eighteenth-century Cuba and the Malvinas/Falklands, the journeys of a missionary between India and Brazil, and those of Christian captives across the Ottoman empire and Spain. The result is a highly readable volume that addresses key theoretical and methodological questions in historiography. Chapter 7 is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license via link.springer.com
