The Hollywood TV Producer Muriel G. Cantor, 2011-12-31 Except for accounts of journalists dissident employees and an occasional congressional committee focusing on crime and unethical practices we have known very little about how television programs are produced The Hollywood TV Producer originally published in 1971 was the first serious examination of constraints conflicts and rewards in the daily lives of television producers Its insights were important at the time and have not been challenged Using as her framework the social system of mass communications Muriel G Cantor shows how producers select stories for television series and how movies end up in prime time In order to get a comprehensive look at the inner workings of the TV industry and its producers the author interviewed eighty producers in Hollywood over a two season period She probed to discover how the people producers work for and where they work influences their decision making As Cantor shows critics of television who suggest that to remain in production a producer must first please the business organization that finances his or her operations are largely correct Cantor shows that content is determined by a combination of artistic and professional factors as well as social economic and political norms that have developed over time in the industry

Drive-in Dream Girls Tom Lisanti, 2015-05-07 During the 1960s a bushel of B movies were produced and aimed at the predominantly teenage drive-in movie audience. At first, teens couldn't get enough of the bikini-clad beauties dancing on the beach or being wooed by Elvis Presley, but by 1966 young audiences became more interested in the mini-skirted, go-go boot-wearing, independent-minded gals of spy spoofs, hot rod movies, and biker flicks. Profiled herein are fifty sexy young actresses that teenage girls envied and teenage boys desired, including Quinn O'Hara, Melody Patterson, Hilarie Thompson, Donna Loren, Pat Priest, Meredith MacRae, Arlene Martel, Cynthia Pepper, and Beverly Washburn. Some like Sue Ane Langdon, Juliet Prowse, Marilyn Mason, and Carole Wells appeared in major studio productions, while others such as Regina Carrol, Susan Hart, Angelique Pettyjohn, and Suzie Kaye were relegated to drive-in movies only. Each biography contains a complete filmography. Some also include the actresses' candid comments and anecdotes about their films, the people they worked with, and their feelings about acting. A list of web sites that provide further information is also included.
