Marks of Toil Justin Vicari, 2014-09-23 Are people nothing more than their physical capital what their bodies can produce and provide This philosophical treatise examines the idea of mutational bodies as it has appeared in fiction and cinema since the industrial era theorizing that capitalism and other modern collective systems require transformations both literal and figurative for the individual to survive Infringements on individualism include both the concept of eternity which asks that we resign ourselves to life and death as endless waiting and the Hegelian dialectic itself which has been reversed by neoconservative thinkers into a new conviction that the rich are oppressed by the poor In response this work suggests the inauguration of a post dialectic ethical materialism Subjects considered include the films of Charlie Kaufman and Stan Brakhage the fiction of Philip Roth and Don DeLillo the feminist art criticism of Lucy Lippard and the meanings of virtuality and the internet

Reverence Paul Woodruff, Betty S. Flowers, 2014 Reverence is an ancient virtue that survives among us in half forgotten patterns of civility and moments of inarticulate awe Reverence gives meaning to much that we do yet the word has almost passed out of our vocabulary Reverence says philosopher and classicist Paul Woodruff begins in an understanding of human limitations From this grows the capacity to be in awe of whatever we believe lies outside our control God truth justice nature even death It is a quality of character that is especially important in leadership and in teaching although it figures in virtually every human relationship It transcends religious boundaries and can be found outside religion altogether Woodruff draws on thinking about this lost virtue in ancient Greek and Chinese traditions and applies lessons from these highly reverent cultures to today s world The book covers reverence in a variety of contexts the arts leadership teaching warfare and the home and shows how essential a quality it is to a well functioning society First published by Oxford University Press in 2001 this new edition of Reverence is revised and expanded It contains a foreword by Betty Sue Flowers Distinguished Teaching Professor Emeritus at the University of Texas at Austin a new preface two new chapters one on the sacred and one on compassion and an epilogue focused on renewing reverence in our own lives Volker Schlöndorff's Cinema Hans Bernhard Moeller, George L. Lellis, 2012-10-31 Volker Schlöndorff's Cinema: Adaptation, Politics, and the Movie Appropriation examines the work of major postwar German director Volker Schlöndorff in historical, economic, and artistic contexts. Incorporating a film-by-film, twenty-eight chapter study, Hans Bernhard Moeller and George Lellis reveal a complexity and formal ambition of Schlöndorff that is comparable to that found in Wim Wenders, Herzog, and Fassbinder. In spite of Schlöndorff's successes with films like The Lost Honor of Katharina Blum and The Tin Drum as well as his acclaimed work in the U.S. with Death of a Salesman, Gathering of Old Men, and The Handmaid's Tale, this is the first in-depth critical study of the filmmaker's career. In the context of film and television history, this book relates Schlöndorff's oeuvre to the New German Cinema, to his formative years as a student and production assistant in France, and to his roots in the Weimar cinema's tradition. It reveals how Schlöndorff entered into the German film production system in the 1960s, how he came to rely on German public television in the 1970s, and then moved to the international and American financing in the 1980s, attempting to redevelop the Babelsberg studios in a 1990s post-Wall Germany while continuing to make his own films into the 21st century. The book captures how Schlöndorff's nearly half-century of ongoing creativity and productivity ties together. The authors analyze the artistry of each Schlöndorff movie, arguing that his output as a whole embodies a provocative and sometimes contradictory set of balances. Schlöndorff combines commercial interest with significant artistic ambition, blends the kinesthetic pleasures of moving images with the seriousness of fine literature, links the intensity of individualized personal experience to an awareness of broader political issues, and represents a specifically German sensibility even as he reaches out to international audiences. The authors demonstrate the cyclical recurrence in his cinema of certain themes: individual and collective rebellion, fascist suppression, masochistic love, narrative patterns, the Western, the thriller, the subjective mood piece, and stylistic approaches: Brechtian Verfremdung, the creation of careful leitmotif structures, the use of the grotesque. In over thirty years of filmmaking, Schlöndorff has produced a remarkable unified body of work that deserves the attention of a book-length study. Authors Hans Bernhard Moeller and George Lellis offer the first such study of its kind. Volker Schlöndorff's Cinema: Adaptation, Politics, and the Movie Appropriation features forty-one illustrations. Joseph Losey Colin Gardner, 2019-01-11 The career of Wisconsin-born Joseph Losey spanned over four decades and several countries. A self-proclaimed Marxist and veteran of the 1930s Soviet agit-prop theater, he collaborated with Bertolt Brecht before directing noir B-pictures in Hollywood. A victim of McCarthyism, he later crossed the Atlantic to direct a series of seminal British films such as Time Without Pity, Eve the Servant, and The Go Between, which mark him as one of the cinema's greatest baroque stylists. His British films reflect on exile and the outsider's view of a class-bound society in crisis through a style rooted in the European art-house tradition of Resnais and Godard. Gardner employs recent methodologies from cultural studies and poststructural theory, exploring and clarifying the film's uneasy tension between class and gender and their explorations of fractured temporality.
