Guide to Historical Resources in the Regional Municipality of Waterloo Elizabeth Macnaughton, Pat Wagner, 2006-01-01
Guide to Historical Resources in the Regional Municipality of Waterloo identifies the archival collections of over one hundred and seventy five museums libraries archives government offices social agencies clubs and business in the Waterloo region and beyond It provides a comprehensive approach to surveying the community and should suggest to the creative research further avenues for investigation The guide will facilitate access to many areas of historical study and will be of interest to teachers students and researcher of local history as well as members of government and heritage organizations in the Waterloo region The survey of historical resources was a project of Doon Heritage Crossroads curatorial and research staff and was made possible by the work of dedicated volunteers and by the support of the Regional Municipality of Waterloo the Ministry of Culture and Communications and the Good Foundation

From Family Firms to Corporate Capitalism Kristine Bruland, Patrick O'Brien, 1998 What explains the growth of a business and more broadly the development or decline of a whole economy What role do particular entrepreneurs or indeed a culture of entrepreneurship play Does the evidence suggest that a particular structure or organizational form was or should be adopted to ensure best practice and commercial success These fundamental questions have long pre occupied business and economic historians With the current expansion of business and management education and training the investigations and findings of the historian may have wider significance and relevance This volume has been stimulated by the work of Peter Mathias one of the leading figures in this field in the post war period Here a number of his former students many now internationally distinguished historians pay tribute in a book that explores the move from family firms to corporate capitalism In a series of chapters they explore at the level of the firm the myriad of micro decisions that ultimately help to explain the overall performance of industries sectors and national economies as they evolve through time The contributors argue that sustained growth has never been a matter of a few spectacular technical breakthroughs Instead it rests on subtle economic and social transformations in cultures in economic organizations and in the roles of science and technology
