Indigenous and Tribal Peoples and Cancer Gail Garvey, 2024-09-04 Although cancer survival has improved markedly in developed countries in recent decades not all groups have benefited equally In particular Indigenous and Tribal peoples continue to have poorer cancer outcomes than their non-Indigenous counterparts The available evidence suggests these disparities are linked to a complex combination of factors including higher incidence of cancers associated with a high case fatality later stage of diagnosis reduced access to cancer treatment and poorer overall health Much research is underway to explore approaches to improving health system responses for Indigenous and Tribal peoples A developing evidence base is supporting effective translation of knowledge into practice This book offers a global perspective on this evidence base written from Indigenous perspectives This book is the first comprehensive publication to report on cancer incidence mortality prevalence survival and inequities for Indigenous and Tribal peoples globally with the aim of enhancing global efforts to improve outcomes for these populations Its content and approach are led by Indigenous researchers with international reputations in health and cancer research Chapters provide important information and data to support Indigenous specific targeted cancer awareness and early detection campaigns This book goes beyond a discussion of the issues and challenges in Indigenous health with a strengths based approach to discussing successful health interventions research projects research translation and living well both with and beyond cancer This is an open access book Generative AI and Education B. Mairéad

Pratschke,2024-08-27 This volume addresses the gap in knowledge around generative AI and its applications in education It draws on the recent history of technological innovation and digital pedagogies locating generative AI in the contemporary discourse around education futures It argues that a new hybrid model of education is emerging requiring educational institutions to embed generative AI into course and programme design delivery and assessment It also proposes a shift from a focus on learning as output to learning as a process and explores what that shift might look like Grounded in educational theory it offers actionable pedagogy informed guidance on how to position AI as a collaborator in the construction of learning in a manner that is congruent with the values and aims of education It offers advice based on evidence based digital pedagogy including frameworks for effective teaching and learning with generative AI that enable educators and designers to put these ideas into practice The book also explores the wider context informing this shift connecting narratives from governments and industry leaders on the strategic importance of generative AI and lifelong learning learning agility and future skills that make the case for the integration of competency based assessment into mainstream education Finally going beyond pedagogy and practice it considers some of the broader issues including limitations and ethics and the implications of integrating generative AI into institutional planning and design and includes a sample roadmap for education leaders to start the process of integrating generative AI into their institutions This work approaches the topic of generative AI from the vantage point of educators by addressing themes and concerns that will resonate with professionals in the sector

Designing for Situated Knowledge Transformation Nina Bonderup Dohn,Stig Børsen Hansen,Jens Jørgen Hansen,2019-11-27 How can knowledge developed in one context be put to use in other contexts How can students learn to do so How can educators design for learning this These are fundamental challenges to many forms of education The challenges are amplified in contemporary society where people traverse many different contexts and where contexts themselves are continuously changing Designing for Situated Knowledge Transformation provides a structured answer to these questions through an investigation of the theoretical empirical methodological and pedagogical design aspects which they involve Raising profound questions about the nature of knowledge of situativity and of transfer transformation and resituation it calls for and provides extended empirical studies of the forms of transformation that knowledge undergoes when people find themselves in new contexts while relying on existing knowledge Considering many avenues of practical application and insight Designing for Situated Knowledge Transformation develops a coherent framework for developing learning designs for knowledge transformation that is crucial in today s educational settings Advances in Building Technology M. Anson,J.M. Ko,E.S.S. Lam,2002-11-14 This set of proceedings is based on the International Conference on Advances in Building Technology in Hong Kong on 4 6 December 2002 The two volumes of proceedings contain 9 invited keynote papers 72 papers delivered by 11 teams and 133 contributed papers from over 20 countries around the world The papers cover a wide spectrum of topics across the three technology sub themes of structures and construction environment and information technology The variety within these categories spans a width of topics and these proceedings provide readers with a good general overview of recent advances in building research

Adopting the Tune of Term: An Emotional Symphony within Basic Design Principles And Practice

In a world taken by screens and the ceaseless chatter of instant communication, the melodic splendor and emotional symphony developed by the prepared word frequently diminish in to the backdrop, eclipsed by the relentless noise and disturbances that permeate our lives. However, located within the pages of Basic Design Principles And Practice a stunning fictional value brimming with raw feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a masterful musician of language, this charming masterpiece conducts readers on a mental journey, well unraveling the concealed melodies and profound affect resonating within each carefully crafted phrase. Within the depths of this touching examination, we shall discover the book is main harmonies, analyze their enthralling writing fashion, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
