Basic Drafting With Computer Graphics:

Basic Drafting James H. Earle, 1987 Computer-aided Drawing and Design Davies, 2012-12-06 This book is intended for engineers computer scientists managers and all those concerned with computer graphics computer aided design and computer aided manufacture While it is primarily intended for students lecturers and teachers it will also appeal to those practising in industry Its emphasis on applications will make it easier for those not currently concerned with computers to understand the basic concepts of computer aided graphics and design In a previous text Engineering Drawing and Computer Graphics two of the authors introduced the basic principles of engineering drawing and showed how these were related to the fundamentals of computer graphics In this new text the authors attempt to give a basic understanding of the principles of computer graphics and to show how these affect the process of engineering drawing This text therefore assumes that the reader already has a basic knowledge of engineering drawing and aims to help develop that understanding through the medium of computer graphics and by the use of a number of computer graphics exercises The text starts by giving an overview of the basics of hardware and software for CAD and then shows how these principles are applied in practice in the use of a number of graphics packages of different levels of complexity The use of a graphical database and the implications for computer aided design and manufacture are also discussed This book is unique in its applications approach to computer graphics University of Michigan Official Publication , 1967 Solving Mechanical Design Problems with Computer Graphics Jerome Lange, 2021-06-30 This book acquaints the reader with interactive computer graphics and how they are being used in the analysis of mechanical design problems It covers four mechanical design topics the graphics model mass properties stress and strain and kinematic and kinetic analysis E - Learning Modules Dan Ryan, 2012-06-20 The term e Learning is a neologism for CSCL systems that came about during the emergence of website e learning modules From an e learning perspective conventional e learning systems were then based on instructional packets which were delivered to students using assignments Assignments were evaluated by the instructor In contrast the new e learning places increased emphasis on social learning and use of social software such as blogs wikis podcasts and virtual worlds such as Second Life This phenomenon has also been referred to as Long Tail Learning E learning by contrast to e learning systems not based on CSCL assumes that knowledge as meaning and understanding is socially constructed Learning takes place through conversations about content and grounded interaction about problems and actions Advocates of social learning claim that one of the best ways to learn something is to teach it to others However it should be noted that many early online courses such as those developed by Murray Turoff and Starr Roxanne Hiltz in the 1970s and 80s at the New Jersey Institute of Technology courses at the University of Guelph in Canada the British Open University and the online distance courses at the University of British Columbia where Web CT now incorporated into Blackboard Inc was first developed have always made heavy use of online discussion between students Also from the start practitioners such as Harasim in 1995 have put heavy emphasis on the use of learning networks for knowledge construction long before the term e learning let alone CSCL was even considered There is also an increased use of virtual classrooms online presentations delivered live as an online learning platform and classroom for a diverse set of education providers such as Minnesota State Colleges and Universities and Sachem MN School District In addition to virtual classroom environments social networks have become an important part of e learning Social networks have been used to foster online learning communities around subjects as diverse as test preparation and language education Mobile Assisted Language Learning MALL is a term used to describe using handheld computers or cell phones to assist in language learning Some feel however that schools have not caught up with the social networking trends Few traditional educators promote social networking unless they are communicating with their own colleagues DLR Associates consulting group first became interested in e learning modules at the annual Distance Learning Conference held at the University of Maine I decided to offer e learning services since we were already evolved with computer assisted education techniques DLR Associates had been involved with CAE since computers were first used in engineering education It was our hope a trend could be started towards blended learning services where computer based activities were integrated with practical or classroom based situations Dan Ryan Professor Emeritus Clemson University
