Edward Gross, Robert Greenberger

Alien Terminator:

Alien Woman Ximena Gallardo-C., Jason Smith, 2006-09-01 Across three decades and four films Lt Ellen Ripley's struggle with the fierce and terrible Alien and the powers that desire it traces the arc of women's struggles in America Bad Girls A. Susan Owen, Leah R. Vande Berg, Sarah R. Stein, 2007 Bad Girls examines representational practices of film and television stories beginning with post Vietnam cinema and ending with postfeminisms and contemporary public disputes over women in the military The book explores a diverse range of popular media texts from the Alien saga to Ally McBeal and Sex and the City from The Net and VR5 to Sportsnight and G I Jane The research is framed as a study of intergenerational tensions in portrayals of women and public institutions in careers governmental service and interactions with technology Using iconic texts and their contexts as a primary focus this book offers a rhetorical and cultural history of the tensions between remembering and forgetting in representations of the American feminist movement between 1979 and 2005 Looking forward the book sets an agenda for discussion of gender issues over the next twenty five years and articulates with authority the manner in which transgression itself has become a site of struggle Women of Blaxploitation Yvonne D. Sims, 2015-03-26 With the Civil Rights movement of the sixties fresh in their perspective movie producers of the early 1970s began to make films aimed toward the underserved African American audience Over the next five years or so a number of cheaply made so called blaxploitation movies featured African American actresses in roles which broke traditional molds Typically long on flash and violence but lacking in character depth and development this genre nonetheless did a great deal toward redefining the perception of African American actresses breaking traditional African American female stereotypes and laying the groundwork for later feminine action heroines This critical study examines the ways in which the blaxploitation heroines of the early 1970s reshaped the presentation of African American actresses on screen and to a certain degree the perception of African American females in general It discusses the social political and cultural context in which blaxploitation films emerged The work focuses on four African American actresses Pam Grier Tamara Dobson Teresa Graves and Jeanne Belle providing critical and audience response to their films as well as insight into the perspectives of the actresses themselves The eventual demise of the blaxploitation genre due to formulaic plots and lack of character development is also discussed Finally the work addresses the mainstreaming of the action heroine in general and a recent resurgence of interest in black action movies Relevant film stills and a selected filmography including cast list and plot synopsis are also included Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Alien Constructions Patricia Melzer, 2010-01-01 An incisive critical work that looks at Octavia Butler's writing the movies of the Matrix and Alien series and more through a feminist lens Femspec Feminist thinkers and writers are increasingly recognizing science fiction's potential to shatter patriarchal and heterosexual norms while the creators of science fiction are bringing new depth and complexity to the genre by engaging with feminist theories and politics This book maps the intersection of feminism and science fiction through close readings of science fiction literature by Octavia E Butler Richard Calder and Melissa Scott and the movies The Matrix and the Alien series Patricia Melzer analyzes how these authors and films represent debates and concepts in three areas of feminist thought identity and difference feminist critiques of science and technology and the relationship among gender identity body and desire including the new gender politics of queer desires transgender and intersexed bodies and identities She demonstrates that key political elements shape these debates including global capitalism and exploitative class relations within a growing international system the impact of computer industrial and medical technologies on women s lives and reproductive rights and posthuman embodiment as expressed through biotechnologies the body machine interface and the commodification of desire Melzer s investigation makes it clear that feminist writings and readings of science fiction are part of a feminist critique of existing power relations and that the alien constructions cyborgs clones androids aliens and hybrids that populate postmodern science fiction are as potentially empowering as they are threatening

Space Sirens, Scientists and Princesses Dean Conrad, 2018-06-09 Women are now central to many science fiction films but that has not always been the case Female characters from their token presence or absence in the silent pictures of the early 20th century to their roles as assistants pulp princesses and sexy robots and eventually as scientists soldiers and academics have often struggled to be seen and heard in a genre traditionally regarded as of men by men and for men Surveying more than 650 films across 120 years the author charts the highs and lows of women s visibility in science fiction s cinematic history through the effects of two world wars social and cultural upheavals and advances in film technology

Manufacturing Desire Arthur Asa Berger, 2017-07-12 The average person in America watches four hours of television per day and spends the equivalent of nine years of his or her life in front of the television set If the attention most people devote to popular culture listening to the news watching soap operas reading the comics were added up it would reveal that most people spend an enormous amount of time with popular culture which becomes in large measure their culture Manufacturing Desire is a study of how the mass media broadcast or spread various popular arts further how the media and popular arts play a major role in shaping our everyday lives The television shows we watch the movies we see the radio programs we listen to and all the comic strips we read influence social behavior They give us ideas about what is good and evil about how to solve problems and about how we should relate to others If we understand this says Berger then the way we think about our media influenced culture will be far different than if we see popular culture as mindless entertainment Berger provides an analysis of the way popular culture and the mass media simultaneously reflect and affect various aspects of American culture and society He examines commercials television shows comics film humor and everyday life in terms of what beliefs and values are found in them what attitudes toward ourselves and our societies are contained in them how they achieve their effects and what they reflect about present day American culture and society This book is analysis of the impact mass media have across America cross culturally and internationally Manufacturing Desire will provide the general reader as well as specialists in communication and information sociology and psychology with a better understanding of the effects of mass media and popular culture on contemporary society High Contrast Sharon Willis,1997 In High Contrast Sharon Willis examines the dynamic relationships between racial and sexual difference in Hollywood film from the 1980s and 1990s Seizing on the way these differences are accentuated sensationalized and eroticized on screen most often with little apparent regard for the political context in which they operate Willis restores that context through close readings of a range of movies from cinematic blockbusters to the work of the new auteurs Spike Lee David Lynch and Quentin Tarantino Capturing the political complexity of these films Willis argues that race gender and sexuality as they are figured in the fantasy of popular film do not function separately but rather inform and determine each other s meaning She demonstrates how collective anxieties regarding social difference are mapped onto big budget movies like the Die Hard and Lethal Weapon series Basic Instinct Fatal Attraction Thelma and Louise Terminator 2 and others Analyzing the artistic styles of directors Lynch Tarantino and Lee in such films as Wild at Heart Pulp Fiction and Do the Right Thing she investigates how these interactions of difference are linked to the production of specific authorial styles and how race functions for each of these directors particularly in relation to gender identity erotics and fantasy
