Adriana Teodorescu, 2019-03-13 The book tackles the challenging theme of death as seen through the lens of literature and its connections with history the visual arts anthropology philosophy and other fields in humanities It searches for answers to three questions what can we know about death how is death socialised and how and for which purposes is death aesthetically shaped Unlike many other publications the volume does not endorse the fallacy of over simplifying death by seeing it either in an exclusively positive light or by reducing it to a purely literary figure Using literature s potential to stimulate critical thinking many contemporary stereotypical configurations of death and dying are debunked and many hitherto unforeseen ways in which death functions as a complex trigger of meaning making are revealed The book proves that death is an inexhaustible source of meanings which should be understood as peremptorily plural discontinuous problematic competitive and often conflictual It offers original contributions to the field of death studies and also to literary and cultural studies

Italian Neorealism and Global Cinema Laura E. Ruberto, Kristi M. Wilson, 2007 This volume addresses the influence of Italian neorealist films on world cinema well beyond the post World War II period associated with the movement Despite its lack of organization and relatively short life span the Italian neorealist movement deeply influenced directors and film traditions around the world This collection examines the impact of Italian neorealism beyond the period of 1945-52 the years conventionally connected to the movement and beyond the postwar Italian film industry where the movement originated Providing a refreshing aesthetic and ideological contrast to mainstream Hollywood films neorealist filmmakers demonstrated not only how an engaging narrative technique could be brought to bear upon social issues but also how cinema could shape and redefine national identity The fourteen essays in Italian Neorealism and Global Cinema consider films from Italy India Brazil Africa the Czech Republic postwar Germany Hong Kong the United States France Belgium Colombia and Great Britain Each essay explores neorealism s complex relationship to a different national film tradition style or historical period illustrating the profound impact of neorealism and the ways it continues to complicate the relationship between ideas of nation national cinema and national identity Many of the essays identify similar themes or motifs adapted from neorealism and several essays address a politicized national film tradition that developed in opposition to a monolithic Western aesthetic In all Italian Neorealism and Global Cinema provides a novel critical understanding of the wide ranging international impact of a short period in Italian cultural history Film scholars and students of film history will appreciate this insightful text

French VII Bibliography 18 Modern Language Association of America. Bibliography Committee for

French VII (Contemporary Literature), French Institute in the United States, Mean Streets and Raging Bulls Richard Martin, 2000-01-01 Classic film noir was Hollywood's dark cinema of crime and corruption a genre underpinned by a tone of existential cynicism which stripped bare the myth of the American Dream and offered a bleak nightmarish vision of a fragmented society that rhymed with many of the social realities of forties and fifties America Mean Streets and Raging Bulls explores how since its apparent demise in the late fifties the noir genre has been revitalized during the post studio era The book is divided into two sections In the first the evolution of film noir is contextualized in relation to both American cinema's industrial transformation and the post Depression history of the United States In the second the evolution of neo noir and its relation to classic film noir is illustrated by detailed reference to representative texts including Chinatown Roman Polanski 1974 Night Moves Arthur Penn 1975 Taxi Driver Martin Scorsese 1976 Blood Simple Joel and Ethan Coen 1984 After Hours Martin Scorsese 1985 Sea of Love Harold Becker 1989 Reservoir Dogs Quentin Tarantino 1992 and Romeo is Bleeding Peter Medak 1994 Paris Under Construction Jacob Paskins, 2015-12-07 During the 1960s building sites in Paris became spaces that expressed preoccupations about urban transformation labour immigration and national identity As new buildings and infrastructure changed the city building sites revealed the substandard living and working conditions of migrant construction workers in France Moreover construction was the touchstone in debates about the dangers of urban life and triggered action in communities whose districts faced demolition Paris Under Construction explores the social political and cultural responses to construction work and urban transformation in the Paris metropolitan region during the 1960s This examination of a decade of intensive building work considers the ways in which the experience of construction was mediated produced and reproduced through a range of complex and sometimes contradictory representations The building sites that produced the new Paris are no longer visible and were perhaps never intended to be seen yet different groups closely observed and recorded construction giving it meanings that went beyond specific building activities The research draws extensively on French newspaper television and radio archives and delves into rarely examined trade union material Paris Under Construction gives voice to the witnesses of and participants in urban transformation who are usually excluded from architectural and urban history The Radical Faces of Godard and Bertolucci Yosefa Loshitzky, 1995 From the radical 1960s through the neo conservative 1980s and into the early 1990s the provocative cinematic careers of French director Jean Luc Godard and Italian director Bernardo Bertolucci have captured the imagination of filmgoers and critics alike Although their films differ greatly Godard produces highly cerebral and theoretical works while Bertolucci creates films with more spectacle and emotionalism their careers have sparked lively discussion and debate mostly centred around the notion of an Oedipal struggle between them European Film Noir Andrew Spicer, 2019-01-04 European Film Noir is the first book to bring together specialist discussions of film noir in specific European national cinemas Written by leading scholars this groundbreaking study provides an authoritative understanding of an important aspect of European cinema and of film noir itself for too long considered as a solely American form The Introduction reviews the problems of defining film noir its key characteristics and discusses its significance to the development of European film the relationship of specific national film noirs to each other to American noir and to historical and social change Eight chapters then discuss film noir in France Germany Britain and Spain analysing both earlier developments and the evolution of neo noir through to the present A further chapter explores film noir in Italian cinema where its presence is not so well defined Each piece provides a critical overview of the most significant films in relation to their industrial and social contexts European Film Noir is an important contribution to the study of European cinema that will have a broad appeal to undergraduates cinema film teachers and researchers
