Handbook of School Violence and School Safety Shane Jimerson, Amanda Nickerson, Matthew J. Mayer, Michael J. Furlong, 2012-03-12

The Handbook of School Violence and School Safety International Research and Practice has become the premier resource for educational and mental health professionals and policymakers seeking to implement effective prevention and intervention programs that reduce school violence and promote safe and effective schools. It covers the full range of school violence and safety topics from harassment and bullying to promoting safe, secure, and peaceful schools. It also examines existing school safety programs and includes the multi-disciplinary research and theories that guide them. Examinations of current issues and projections of future research and practice are embedded within each chapter. This volume maps the boundaries of this rapidly growing and multidisciplinary field of study. Key features include Comprehensive Coverage. The chapters are divided into three parts: Foundations, Assessment and Measurement, Prevention and Intervention Programs. Together they provide a comprehensive review of what is known about the types, causes, and effects of school violence and the most effective intervention programs that have been developed to prevent violence and promote safe and thriving school climates. Evidence-based Practice. Avoiding a one-size-fits-all approach to prevention and intervention, the focus throughout is on the application of evidence-based practice to address factors most commonly associated with school violence and safety. Implications for Practice. Each chapter bridges the research-to-practice gap with a section delineating implications for practice of the foregoing research. Chapter Structure. To ensure continuity and coherence across the book, each chapter begins with a brief abstract and ends with a table showing the implications for practice. International Focus. Acknowledging the fact that school violence and safety is a global concern, this edition has increased its focus on insights learned from cross-national research and practice outside the USA. Expertise. The editors and authors are experienced researchers, teachers, practitioners, and leaders in the school violence field; their expertise includes their breadth and depth of knowledge and experience bridging research, policy, and practice, and representing a variety of international organizations studying school violence around the world.

Optimizing Student Success in School with the Other Three Rs Robert J. Sternberg, Rena F. Subotnik, 2006-06-01. The Other Three Rs model began as an American Psychological Association (APA) initiative sponsored by Robert J. Sternberg, IBM Professor of Psychology and Education at Yale University and Past President of the APA. For both this initiative and this edited volume, Sternberg assembled a diverse team of experts who identified reasoning, resilience, and responsibility as three learnable skills that when taken together have great potential for increasing academic success. The authors of this volume present in detail their evidence-based arguments for promoting TOTRs in schools as a way to optimize student success.

children Building Blocks Gene I. Maeroff, 2025-09-23 A student's entire journey along the educational spectrum is affected by what occurs and crucially by what does not occur before the age of eight or nine. Yet early learning has never received the attention it deserves and needs. In his latest book, education expert Gene Maeroff takes a hard look at early learning and the primary grades of schooling. Building Blocks offers a concrete and groundbreaking strategy for improving early education. Filled with colorful descriptions and anecdotes from Maeroff's visits to schools around the country, Building Blocks creates a rich portrait of education in America, ranging from math lessons imported from Singapore in Massachusetts to serious but joyful kindergartens in California. He speaks of the need for schools to prepare for the burgeoning enrollment of youngsters from immigrant families and for all children to acquire the habits and dispositions that will make them committed and productive students. Maeroff issues a call to action for policy makers and parents alike.

Somebody Knows, Somebody Cares Kirsten Hutchison, Tricia McCann, 2015-06-25 Somebody Knows Somebody Cares: Reengaging Students through Relationship explores approaches to engaging young people in schooling through advocacy models of student support. In Australia, as in many nations, increasing social, cultural, and linguistic diversity in school populations is producing complex challenges for education systems, schooling, teaching, and learning. This book shares research-informed insights into the multi-layered approaches required to support vulnerable students and sustain school-based mentoring programs. This edited collection covers theoretical and empirical perspectives on student disengagement from schooling through these key ideas: The benefits of advocacy and mentoring programs on learning and school culture, particularly for students who are at risk of disconnection from learning; Transforming schooling from the bottom up by listening to students, teachers, and principals; and supporting educators in the development of situated and dynamic conditions for learning through school-university partnerships. The centrality of positive, caring teacher-student relationships, foregrounding emotional connection as a key component of effective learning, derived from the person-centred theory articulated by Carl Rogers. Written by a team of academics, teachers, and school principals, Somebody Knows Somebody Cares: Reengaging Students through Relationship is a valuable resource for teacher-educators, principals, teachers, student welfare counsellors, and counselling practitioners.
