Alternative Worship:

Theorizing Faith Arweck, Martin D. Stringer, 2002-05-31 All but the final paper in this collection of nine essays was read at a June 1999 conference of the same title as the book held at the U of Birmingham UK The conference was organized by the Worship in Birmingham Project bringing together established scholars and research students to discuss the Popular Music in Evangelical Youth Culture Stella Lau, 2013-05-07 Christian churches and groups within Anglo American contexts have increasingly used popular music as a way to connect with young people This book investigates the relationships between evangelical Christianity and popular music focusing particularly on electronic dance music in the last twenty years Author Stella Lau illustrates how electronic dance music is legitimized in evangelical activities by Christians discourses and how the discourses challenge the divide between the secular and the sacred in the Western culture Unlike other existing books on the relationships between music cultures and religion which predominantly discuss the cultural implications of such phenomenon Popular Music in Evangelical Youth Culture examines the notion of spirituality in contemporary popular electronic dance music Lau s emphasis on the sonic qualities of electronic dance music opens the door for future research about the relationships between aural properties of electronic dance music and religious discourses With three case studies conducted in the cultural hubs of electronic dance music Bristol Ibiza and New York the monograph can also be used as a guidebook for ethnographic research in popular music Curating Worship Jonny Baker, 2012-04-10 Curation is a term usually used in the art world for the role of imagining and overseeing an exhibition or art experience However the word is now being adopted by people in alternative worship as it affords a very different and inventive way of thinking about how to lead a service or praise event Rather than simply presiding over liturgy or fronting a band curation involves negotiating between institutions and artists and making do with what is to hand to create something brilliant The hope is that moments of epiphany will be experienced as God is invited to be and breathe in the space and people make connections with their own lives and stories Curating Worship is in two parts The first considers the kind of thinking skills and disciplines involved in good curation The second consists of in depth interviews which tease out from people who have curated amazing worship experiences around the world the ideas and theories behind their approaches and the practical processes involved

Connecting the Dots Peter Rudowski, 2009-04-09 We have learned from nature that animal and plant life thrives when all the systems of their surroundings are in harmony The same can be said for human institutions When the organizational systems of human institutions are in harmony the organization thrives This book identifies the interaction of eight organizational components that promote creative ministry in the Christian church setting The author combines biblical study management theory and hard earned experience to help church leaders understand and use organizational systems to maximize their ministry Connect the dots of these eight components for effective ministry in the 21st century The Gospel after Christendom Ryan K. Bolger, 2012-11-01 Emerging and missional church movements are an increasingly global phenomenon they exist as holistic communities that defy dualistic Western forms of church. Until now many of the voices from these movements have gone unheard. In this volume Ryan Bolger assembles some of the most innovative church leaders from around the world to share their candid insider stories about how God is transforming their communities in an entirely new era for the church. Bolger's new book continues the themes that he and Eddie Gibbs established formally in their critically acclaimed Emerging Churches and situates new church movements within this rubric. It explores what's happening now in innovative church movements in continental Europe, Asia, and Latin America, and in African American hip hop cultures. Featuring an international cast of contributors, the book explores the changes occurring both in emerging cultures and in emerging and missional churches across the globe today.

In Spirit and Truth Benny Thettayil, 2007. In the context of his conversation with the Samaritan woman, the Johannine Jesus says the true worshipers will worship the Father in Spirit and truth (4:23). In this monograph Benny Thettayil undertakes a detailed exegetical study of the fourth evangelist's understanding of worship in Spirit and truth. Part One is devoted to a detailed exegetical analysis of John 4:19-26, focusing on the relationship between Jews and Samaritans, the meaning of pneuma and aletheia, as well as the question whether Jesus reveals himself as the Messiah to the Samaritan woman. In Part Two, Thettayil offers an extensive study of the replacement theme in the Fourth Gospel. He studies this issue in connection with the Johannine community and with the presentation of Jesus as the fulfilment of the temple. In his final chapter, Thettayil enters into the difficult field of Johannine Replacement Theology, taking up the challenge of confronting the theological implications of the way the fourth evangelist presents Judaism.

Emerging Churches Eddie Gibbs, Ryan K. Bolger, 2005-12. Provides a comprehensive examination of the emerging church phenomenon, considering emerging patterns in leadership, worship, mission, spiritual practices, and cultural engagement.

The Art of Curating Worship Mark Pierson, 2012. Mark Pierson is a strikingly original thinker and practitioner whose influence on alternative worship and emerging church forms has spread worldwide. Whatever our church tradition—liturgical, evangelical, charismatic, or alternative—Mark's challenge is clear: tired patterns of worship do not engage with people beyond the regular congregation, and sometimes not even with them. The last place that many genuine spiritual seekers would try is church. He shows a way of thinking about and practicing worship where real connection with God can happen. The idea of curating rather than leading worship invites a potentially huge mind shift about worship practice. Leading worship is not about staying in control of content or delivery but about exploring creatively the riches of our traditions—the arts, our buildings, music, and language—to offer worship that better reflects the glory of God. This inspiring practical book raises the bar in terms of what we expect from worship and then gives us the courage, vision, and resources to bring it about.

Spinks,2011-02-01 Religion today is in competition with the leisure and entertainment industries Gen Y the postmodern generation is open to spirituality but most of today's young adults have not been born into faith communities where they feel any lasting allegiance Studies suggest that for the young belief in God is an optional matter a virtual consumer choice As a result different trends in worship and worship styles are offered by different churches to suit lifestyles attitudes and personal taste Orthodox Anglican Identity Charles Erlandson,2020-04-28 While the postmodern world we inhabit is highly fragmented contested and conflicted we all have one thing in common we are experiencing identity crises Religious traditions are not immune to these crises and orthodox Anglicans have been experiencing their own issues with identity since the 2003 consecration of an openly homosexual man Orthodox Anglicans want to say who they are as both orthodox and Anglican but they are also finding it difficult to articulate a clear and coherent identity especially an Anglican one This orthodox Anglican pursuit of a renewed sense of self in a complex and fragmented world is a microcosm of our postmodern context and an examination of their quest holds enticing clues to our own urgent searches for meaning and identity Think of this book as a kind of story the story of a worldwide church who when its identity was threatened took counsel together to renew and revitalize its sense of self In the process it not only faced many dangers and difficulties but also learned much about who it was and who it wanted to be An Interweaving Ecclesiology Mark Scanlon, 2021-11-30
