Better Red Constance Coiner, 1995 Better Red is an interdisciplinary study addressing the complicated intersection of American feminism and the political left as refracted in Tillie Olsen's and Meridel Le Sueur's lives and literary texts The first book length study to explore these feminist writers ties to the American Communist Party it contributes to a re envisioning of 1930s U S Communism as well as to efforts to promote working class writing as a legitimate category of literary analysis At once loyal members of the male dominated Communist Party and emerging feminists Olsen and Le Sueur move both toward and away from Party tenets and attitudes subverting through their writing formalist as well as orthodox Marxist literary categories Olsen and Le Sueur challenge the bourgeois assumptions often masked as classless and universal of much canonical literature and by creating working class women's writing they problematize the patriarchal nature of the Left and the masculinist assumptions of much proletarian literature anticipating the concerns of second wave feminists a generation later

The Same River Twice Alice Walker, 2011-12-29 The real story behind the making of THE COLOR PURPLE in the author's own words In the early 1980s The Color Purple was a runaway success it had won the Pulitzer Prize and Steven Spielberg was making the book into a film Yet behind all the critical success Alice Walker suffered an extreme backlash as she became the object of attacks both personal and political Her detractors claimed that she hated black men that her work was injurious to black male and female relationships and that her ideas about equality were harmful to the black community Such was the ferocity of these attacks that she left her own community north of San Francisco and sought refuge in Mexico On a personal level her mother had suffered a major stroke and now Alice Walker herself fell gravely ill with the extremely debilitating condition Lyme disease To add to the trauma her partner of many years announced he'd been having an affair In her heartfelt and extremely personal account of this time Alice Walker describes the experience of watching the film being made as she weathered the controversy surrounding it and came to terms with the changes in her own life

Orpheus in the Bronx Reginald Shepherd, 2008-01-03 Orpheus in the Bronx not only extols the freedom language affords us it embodies that freedom enacting poetry's greatest gift the power to recognize ourselves as something other than what we are These bracing arguments were written by a poet who sings James Longenbach A highly acute writer scholar editor and critic Reginald Shepherd brings to his work the sensibilities of a classicist and a contemporary theorist an inheritor of the American high modernist canon and a poet drawing and playing on popular culture while simultaneously venturing into formal experimentation In the essays collected here Shepherd offers probing meditations unified by a resolute defense of poetry's autonomy and a celebration of the liberatory and utopian possibilities such autonomy offers Among the pieces included are an eloquent autobiographical essay setting out in the frankest terms the vicissitudes of a Bronx ghetto childhood the escape offered by books and gifted status preserved by maternal determination early loss and the equivalent of exile and the formation of the writer's vocation With the same frankness that he brings to autobiography Shepherd also sets out his reasons for rejecting identity politics in poetry as an unnecessary trammeling of literary imagination His study of the urban pastoral from Baudelaire through Eliot Crane and Gwendolyn Brooks to Shepherd's own work provides a fresh view of the place of urban landscape in American poetry Throughout his essays as in his poetry Shepherd juxtaposes unabashed lyricism historical awareness and in your face contemporaneity bristling with intelligence A volume in the Poets on Poetry series which collects critical works by contemporary poets gathering together the articles interviews and book reviews by which they have articulated the poetics of a new generation

This Woman in Particular Stephanie Kirkwood Walker, 2010-01-27

What happens when an individual becomes the subject of many and divergent portraits Biography says Stephanie Kirkwood Walker is a deceptive genre Positioned between fact and fiction and elusive in its purposes biography displays an individual life an existence patterned by conventions that have also shaped the reader's experience In This Woman in Particular Walker explores versions of Emily Carr's life that have appeared over the last half century Walker contends that the biographical image of Emily Carr that emerges from an accumulation of biographies films plays and poetry as well as her own autobiographical writing establishes an elaborated cultural artefact an image that is bound by its very nature to remain forever incomplete and always elusive She demonstrates how changes in Carr's biographical image parallel the maturing of Canadian biographical writing reflecting attitudes toward women artists and the shifting balance between religion secular attitudes and contemporary spirituality And she concludes that biography plays a crucial role in all our lives in initiating and sustaining debate on vital personal and collective concerns
