Surrender Jessica Restaino, 2019-02-01 Winner CCCC Outstanding Book Award 2020 One of Library Journal's Top 20 Best Selling Language Titles of 2019 In an ethnographic study spanning the last years of research collaborator and friend Susan Lundy Maute's life with terminal breast cancer, author Jessica Restaino argues the interpretative challenges posed by research and writing amid illness and intimacy demand a methodological break from accepted genres and established practices of knowledge making. Restaino searches their experiences recorded in interviews, informal writings, and correspondence to discover a rhetoric of love and illness. She encourages a synthesis of methods and the acceptance of a reversal of roles: researcher and researched, writer and written about, and emphasizes the relevancy of methodological diversity, the necessity of the personal, and the analytical richness of unpredictability and risk in being who we are in our scholarship at any given moment. Bringing together critical analysis, qualitative style, research methods, close reading, Surrender: Feminist Rhetoric and Ethics in Love and Illness resists traditional ideas about academic writing and invites others to pursue collaborations that subvert accepted approaches to representation, textual production, and subjectivity. Restaino demonstrates a way of writing the rendering of the academic text itself that suggests how we do our work has resonance for what we produce. She offers framing questions for use by others interested in doing similar kinds of scholarship that may frighten, overwhelm, or confound. This book deepens our understanding of subjectivity and the gains made by feminist resistance to conventional concepts of objectivity in research collaborations.

The World's Greatest Books Volume 02 An enterprise such as THE WORLD'S GREATEST BOOKS is to be judged from two different standpoints It may be judged with respect to its specific achievement the material of which it consists or it may be judged with regard to its general utility in the scheme of literature to which it belongs In an age which is sometimes ironically called remarkable for its commercialism nothing has been more truly remarkable than the advancement in learning as well as in material progress and of all the instruments that have contributed to this end none has been more effective perhaps than the practical popularisation of literature In THE WORLD'S GREATEST BOOKS an attempt has been made to effect a compendium of the world's best literature in a form that shall be at once accessible to every one and still faithful to its originals or in other words it has been sought to allow the original author to tell his own story over again in his own language but in the shortest possible space However we are aware that even THE WORLD'S GREATEST BOOKS will not escape the criticism of a small class of people who will profess to object to this as to any kind of interference with an author's original in reply to which it can only be said that such objections are seldom if ever made in the true interests of learning or in a genuine spirit of inquiry and too often only proceed from a knowledge of books or love of them which goes no deeper than their title page The selections in THE WORLD'S GREATEST BOOKS have been collected and are alphabetically arranged in ten different divisions namely Fiction Lives and Letters History Religion Philosophy Economics Science Poetry and Drama Travel and Adventure and Miscellaneous Literature An important additional feature of the work is the brief yet highly critical biographical and bibliographical note which accompanies every author and every selection throughout the twenty volumes To this must be also added the not less important Introductions and other explanations written by experts which often accompany the selections in the text cardinal examples of which will be found in particular in the section of
