

Autobiography

My name is Michael Smith and I was born on the 30th of August, 1967 in Long Beach, California. My parents were Eddie Smith and Joan Smith. Both of my parents are deceased. My mom died at the age of 57 in 1994 from lung cancer which was the result of smoking her whole lifetime. My father died at the age of 69 in 2006 from a massive heart attack, which was also the likely result from a lifetime of smoking. Fortunately I have been smart enough to avoid that bad habit.

My early childhood was a typical middle class environment circa the 1960's. My dad worked for Simpson Buick as a parts salesman and my mom was a stay at home mother. I had a happy, normal childhood as an only child, leaving me somewhat spoiled. My mom and dad divorced when I was eight years old and both remarried within a year or so of the divorce. My dad remained married to my stepmom Bev until his death. My mom would marry two more times. My first stepdad Vince became a big part of my life and I maintained close contact with him until his death in 2006, two days after my real dad died. Yes, that was a very bad week, losing both of my dads.

Growing up with split parents was not especially difficult since each of my parents kept me out of their divorce and they got along fine at events where both of them were present. I lived with my mom until I was 16 and in high school. By my sophomore year in high school I had begun to hang around with friends that got me into a lot of trouble with a number of things including smoking pot and drinking. I was rapidly heading down a negative path, but was fortunate enough to notice it before I had done any serious damage. I moved in with my dad and changed high schools and friends.

Being For Myself Alone Marcus Moseley, 2005-06-13 This is a work of unprecedented scope tracing the origins of Jewish autobiographical writing from the early modern period to the early twentieth century Drawing on a multitude of Hebrew and Yiddish texts very few of which have been translated into English and on contemporary autobiographical theory this book provides a literary historical explanatory paradigm for the emergence of the Jewish autobiographical voice The book also provides the English reader with an introduction to the works of central figures in the history of Hebrew and Yiddish literature and it includes discussion of material that has never been submitted to literary critical analysis in English

Becoming Me George Edward Jardine, 2008 Merely Being There Is Not Enough Heike Mlakar, 2008 Despite the advent of second wave feminism in the late 1960s it took more than twenty years before feminist literary criticism started to pay attention to the complex role of women Beat writers Merely Being There Is Not Enough theorizes the memoirs of Diane di Prima Joyce Johnson Hettie Jones and Brenda Frazer and analyzes their contributions to the Beat movement Among the writings of female Beat authors the memoir has become the most commonly used literary genre At the height of the Beat movement Frazer published Troia Mexican Memoirs in 1969 the same year that saw the publication of di Prima's Memoirs of a Beatnik Most female Beat voices however remained astonishingly silent until 1983 when Johnson published Minor Characters A Young Woman's Coming of Age in the Beat Generation Johnson's long time friend Jones followed with How I Became Hettie Jones in 1990 The memoirs of Beat women chronicle the Beat 1950s and the intimate relationships with icons of the time Jack Kerouac Allen Ginsberg LeRoi Jones Amiri Baraka and Ray Bremser Being there at a crucial moment in history validates female Beats stories as indispensable social documents of the 1950s To make women Beat writers visible and to categorize their memoirs this work immerses in the almost paradoxical project of defining a category of female Beat writing when it is the nature of Beat literature and its rebellious aesthetics to dismiss any kind of labeling Women Beats unsettle the categories of Beat writing and culture Therefore a revision and re examination of Beat history is inevitable to understand the movement's literary expression Autobiography and Gender in Early Modern Literature Sharon Cadman Seelig, 2006-03-02 Early modern autobiographies and diaries provide a unique insight into women's lives and how they remembered interpreted and represented their experiences Sharon Seelig analyzes the writings of six seventeenth century women diaries by Margaret Hoby and Anne Clifford more extended narratives by Lucy Hutchinson Ann Fanshawe and Anne Halkett and the extraordinarily varied and self dramatizing publications of Margaret Cavendish Combining an original account of the development of autobiography with analysis of the texts Seelig explores the relation between the writers choices of genre and form and the stories they chose to tell Black South African Autobiography After Deleuze Kgomo M. autobiography as both the site and the limit of intertextual cultural memory Detailing the intertextual turn that is commensurate with belonging to the African world and its diasporic reaches through the Black Atlantic among others this book covers autobiographies from Peter Abrahams to Es kiah Mphahlele from Ellen Kuzwayo to Nelson Mandela It proceeds further to reveal wider dimensions of angst and belonging that attend becoming through transcultural memory Kgomo Michael Masemola successfully marshalls Deleuzian theories in a sophisticated re reading that makes clear the autobiographers epistemic access to worlds beyond South Africa

Reading Mina Loy's Autobiographies Sandeep Parmar, 2013-06-06 Mina Loy is recognised today as one of the most innovative modernist poets numbering Gertrude Stein Marcel Duchamp Djuna Barnes and T S Eliot amongst her admirers Drawing on substantial new archival research this book challenges the existing critical myth of Loy as a modern woman through an analysis of her unpublished autobiographical prose Mina Loy's Autobiographies explores this major twentieth century writer's ideas about the modern and how they apply to the modernist writer based on her engagement with twentieth century avant garde aesthetics and charts how Loy herself uniquely defined modernity in her essays on literature and art Sandeep Parmar here shows how ultimately Loy's autobiographies extend the modernist project by rejecting earlier impressions of avant garde futurity and newness in favour of a late modernist aesthetic one that is more pessimistic inward and interested in the fragmentary interplay between the past and present

Consuming Autobiographies Claire Boyle, 2007 Since 1975 French literary writing has been marked by an autobiographical turn which has seen authors increasingly often tap into the vein of what the French term criture de soi This coincides paradoxically with the death of autobiography as these authors self consciously distance themselves and their writings from conventional autobiography founding a nouvelle autobiographie where the very possibility of autobiographical expression is questioned In the first book length study in English to address this phenomenon Claire Boyle sheds a new light on this hostility toward autobiography through a series of ground breaking studies of estrangement in autobiographical works by major post war authors Nathalie Sarraute Georges Perec Jean Genet and Hélène Cixous She identifies autobiography as a site of conflict between writer and reader as authors struggle to assert the unknowableness of their identity in the face of a readership resolutely desiring privileged knowledge Autobiography emerges as a deeply troubling genre for authors with the reader as an antagonistic consumer of the autobiographical self
