The Dynamic Dance Barbara J. King, Barbara J King, 2009-06-30 Mother and infant negotiate over food two high status males jockey for power female kin band together to get their way It happens among humans and it happens among our closest living relatives in the animal kingdom the great apes of Africa In this eye opening book we see precisely how such events unfold in chimpanzees bonobos and gorillas through a spontaneous mutually choreographed dance of actions gestures and vocalizations in which social partners create meaning and come to understand each other Using dynamic systems theory an approach employed to study human communication Barbara King is able to demonstrate the genuine complexity of apes social communication and the extent to which their interactions generate meaning As King describes apes create meaning primarily through their body movements and go well beyond conveying messages about food mating or predators Readers come to know the captive apes she has observed and others across Africa as well and to understand the process of creating social meaning This new perspective not only acquaints us with our closest living relatives but informs us about a possible pathway for the evolution of language in our own species King's theory challenges the popular idea that human language is instinctive with rules and abilities hardwired into our brains Rather The Dynamic Dance suggests language has its roots in the gestural building up of meaning that was present in the ancestor we shared with the great apes and that we continue to practice to this day

Vermeulen, 2015-07 The history of anthropology has been written from multiple viewpoints often from perspectives of gender nationality theory or politics Before Boas delves deeper into issues concerning anthropology's academic origins to present a groundbreaking study that reveals how ethnography and ethnology originated during the eighteenth rather than the nineteenth century developing parallel to anthropology or the natural history of man Han F Vermeulen explores primary and secondary sources from Russia Germany Austria the United States the Netherlands Hungary the Czech Republic Slovakia France and Great Britain in tracing how ethnography originated as field research by German speaking historians and naturalists in Siberia Russia during the 1730s and 1740s was generalized as ethnology by scholars in G ttingen Germany and Vienna Austria during the 1770s and 1780s and was subsequently adopted by researchers in other countries Before Boas argues that anthropology and ethnology were separate sciences during the Age of Reason studying racial and ethnic diversity respectively Ethnography and ethnology focused not on other cultures but on all peoples of all eras Following G W Leibniz researchers in these fields categorized peoples primarily according to their languages Franz Boas professionalized the holistic study of anthropology from the 1880s into the twentieth century

Centering the Margins of Anthropology's History Regna Darnell, 2021-05 The series Histories of Anthropology Annual presents diverse perspectives on the discipline's history within a global context with a goal of increasing the awareness and use of historical approaches in teaching learning and conducting anthropology The series includes critical comparative analytical and narrative studies involving all aspects and subfields of anthropology Volume 14 Centering the Margins of Anthropology's History focuses on the conscious recognition of margins and suggests it is time to bring the margins to the center both in terms of a changing theoretical openness and a supporting body of scholarship if not to problematize the very dichotomy of center and margins itself The essays explore two major themes of anthropology's margins First anthropologists and historians have long sought out marginalized and forgotten ancestors arguing for their present day relevance and offering explanations for the lack of attention to their contributions to theory analysis methods and findings Second anthropologists and their historians have explored a range of genres to present their results in provocative and open ended formats This volume closes with an experimental essay that offers a dynamic multifaceted perspective that captures one of the dominant if sometimes marginalized voices in history of anthropology

seines Werkes und versucht die Kernannahmen herauszuarbeiten die im Anschluss an die noch kaum erschlossenen Schriften aus der Dissertationszeit in den Wissenschafts und Technikstudien sichtbar werden und die schließlich zur Entwicklung der Akteur Netzwerk Theorie und zahlreichen allgemeinen philosophischen und soziologischen Beiträgen führen Aufbauend hierauf werden schließlich die jüngeren Werke von Latour diskutiert die sich in gesellschaftstheoretischer Absicht mit den Existenzweisen der Modernen oder wie in Kampf um Gaia mit der ökologischen Krise und den Möglichkeiten einer neuen Politik der Natur befassen Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2002
