Teacher's Guide for in the Shadow of Race: Growing Up As a Multiethnic, Multicultural, and Multiracial American Christine Clark, Teja Arboleda, 2024-02-02 This Teacher's Guide accompanies In the Shadow of Race: Growing Up as a Multiethnic Multicultural and Multiracial American by Teja Arboleda. It has a twofold purpose. First, it facilitates K-12 and university faculty in situating Arboleda's book within the fields of race relations, multicultural education, and related disciplines. Second, it is intended to critique and problematize the book's content so that it can be used to stimulate critical thought, debate, and action oriented toward increasing social justice among its readers both inside and outside of the classroom. To facilitate use of In the Shadow of Race as a course text, topics for discussion included in this Teacher's Guide include the social construction of race, racial separatism versus diversity, racial/ethnic and cultural identity development, the politics of racial categorization, mixed race peoples' cultural identity vs. identity by heritage, the concept of a cultural home and changing identities within cultures. The Teacher's Guide is free to college faculty who adopt Arboleda's In the Shadow of Race.

Identifying Race and Transforming Whiteness in the Classroom Virginia Lea, Judy Helfand, 2004 As educators, how do we challenge and interrupt the social construction of whiteness in ourselves in the classroom in schools and in the wider society? Coming from diverse backgrounds, the contributors in this volume draw on their own well-examined experiences of race, racism, and whiteness in developing effective antiracist pedagogies and classroom activities that interrupt and contest whiteness. They have explored their own lives from the selective position of their own memories and have traced the ways in which their assumptions, which they use to mediate and interpret the world around them, have been constituted by public ideological forces. They have collaborated with others in building alternative pedagogies and support systems, enabling them to teach and at the same time reflect on the assumptions behind and the effects of their teaching. The result is the work collected here.

Unhooking from Whiteness Cleveland Hayes, Nicholas D. Hartlep, 2013-11-19 The purpose of Unhooking from Whiteness: The Key to Dismantling Racism in the United States is to reconsider the ways and strategies in which antiracist scholars do their work as well as to provide pragmatic ways in which people White and of color can build cross-racial, cross-communal, and cross-institutional coalitions to fight White supremacy. Employing the methodology of autoethnography, each chapter in this book illustrates the individual journey that the chapter contributor took to unhook him or herself from Whiteness. Unhooking from Whiteness explains Whiteness in ways never conceptualized before. The chapters suggest approaches to unhooking from Whiteness while sharing the authors' continual struggles to identify and eradicate the role of Whiteness in education and society in the United States The contributors to Unhooking from Whiteness offer us the invaluable gift of their stories humble reflections on commitments to racial justice and complicities with racial injustice But they aren't merely stories and this is the brilliance of the book they are invitations into a reconsideration of the common sense discussions about the nature of white privilege the possibility of white anti racism and the pervasive tug of whiteness This is the rare book that shifts the angle and changes the conversation Paul Gorski Coordinator of the Social Justice Concentration George Mason University

Whiteness and Racialized Ethnic Groups in the United States Sherrow O. Pinder, 2012-01-01 Whiteness and Racialized Ethnic Groups in the United States in order to account for the never ending discrimination toward racialized ethnic groups including First Nations blacks Chinese and Mexicans revisits the history of whiteness in the United States It shows the difference between remembering a history of human indignities and recreating one that composes its own textual memory More specifically it reformulates how the historically reliant positionality of whiteness as a part of the everyday practice and discourse of white supremacy would later become institutionalized Even though whiteness studies with the intention of exposing white privilege has entered the realm of academic research and is moving toward antiracist forms of whiteness or at least toward antiracist approaches for a different form of whiteness it is not equipped to relinquish the privilege that comes with normalized whiteness Hence in order to construct a post white identity whiteness would have to be denormalized and freed of it of its presumptive hegemony

The Abolition of White Democracy Joel Olson, 2004 Racial discrimination embodies inequality exclusion and injustice and as such has no place in a democratic society And yet racial matters pervade nearly every aspect of American life influencing where we live what schools we attend the friends we make the votes we cast the opportunities we enjoy and even the television shows we watch Joel Olson contends that given the history of slavery and segregation in the United States American citizenship is a form of racial privilege in which whites are equal to each other but superior to everyone else In Olson's analysis we see how the tension in this equation produces a passive form of democracy that discourages extensive participation in politics because it treats citizenship as an identity to possess rather than as a source of empowerment Olson traces this tension and its disenfranchising effects from the colonial era to our own demonstrating how after the civil rights movement whiteness has become less a form of standing and more a norm that cements white advantages in the ordinary operations of modern society To break this pattern Olson suggests an abolitionist democratic political theory that makes the fight against racial discrimination a prerequisite for expanding democratic participation

Handbook of Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer, Bernardo P. Gallegos, Annette Henry, Mary Bushnell Greiner, Paula Groves Price, 2011-07-05 This groundbreaking volume helps readers understand the history evolution and significance of this wide ranging often misunderstood and increasingly important field of study

Undoing Privilege Professor Bob Pease, 2013-04-04 For every group that is oppressed another group is privileged In Undoing Privilege Bob Pease argues that privilege as the other side of oppression has received insufficient attention in both critical theories and in the practices of social change As a result dominant groups have been allowed to reinforce their dominance Undoing Privilege explores the main sites of privilege from Western dominance class elitism and white and patriarchal privilege to the less examined sites of heterosexual and able bodied privilege Pease points out that while the vast majority of people may be oppressed on one level many are also privileged on another He also demonstrates how members of privileged groups can engage critically with their own dominant position and explores the potential and limitations of them becoming allies against oppression and their own unearned privilege This is an essential book for all who are concerned about developing theories and practices for a socially just world

Back to the Drawing Board Njoki Nathani Wane, Katerina Deliovsky, Erica Lawson, 2002 What are the fundamental tenets of African Canadian feminism What are the elements of feminist theory that have contributed to African Canadian feminist thought African American feminists have influenced thinking and writing in Canada As well Black Canadian feminists have published on a wide range of issues relating to Black women's lives history and experience Back to the Drawing Board builds on this existing literature and maps out a new space in which to articulate a stronger vision of African Canadian feminism While the essays focus on key concepts and debates that underlie Black feminist theory and challenge the dominant structures that continue to exclude Black women the objective is to bring the plurality of African Canadian women's voices and experiences into the centre of analysis To accomplish this the editors draw on different theories and insights The fourteen contributors come from different race and gender backgrounds and are committed to creating an empowering space where Black women can speak to and about each other and find a home for their words They write on the subjects of Black Canadian feminist thought African Canadian feminist historiography Black feminist political activism white mainstream feminism as a liberatory movement Black women in the white feminism and anti racist education Native education and spirituality that form and shape identity how the media and law construct Black identity the social consequences of interracial relationships Includes a Glossary Bibliography and Index Back to the Drawing Board initiates a dialogue critical for defining feminisms that validate the contributions and experiences of African Canadian women Transforming the Multicultural Education of Teachers Michael J. Vavrus, 2002-09-06 Recognizing the responsibility institutions have to prepare teachers for today's diverse classrooms Vavrus shows us how to incorporate transformative multicultural education into teacher education curriculum pedagogy and evaluation Placing race racism antiracism and democracy at the center of his analyses and recommendation this volume provides Concrete structural suggestions for including transformative multicultural education in higher education and K 12 in service programs A multicultural critique of new NCATE accreditation standards for teacher education programs that offers reconceptualized assessment procedures The historical roots of transformative multicultural education that incorporates issues of white privilege and racialized color blindness anti racist pedagogy racial identity among teachers and critical race theory A discussion of globalization that emphasizes its contemporary economic effects on social and educational inequities      Racialized Correctional Governance Claire Spivakovsky, 2016-05-23 Racialized Correctional Governance examines problems in the relationship between criminology and racialized issues. It questions current models for discussing issues of race in criminal justice systems and asks why a comprehensive theory of race and criminal justice has yet to develop in the discipline. It takes into account the full nature of problems facing racialized peoples in criminal justice systems, the developments and tensions in criminological theory and practice as well as the scope of racialized criminal justice issues and where they occur. Suggesting that current explanations for the over representation of racialized peoples in the criminal justice system are inadequate, the book explores the mutual constructions of race and criminal justice. It examines the shortcomings of current discourse, giving an account of how race, criminal justice, and criminology are interrelated. Aiming to provide criminology with tools to engage with issues of race and criminal justice, the book develops and applies a set of rules to a series of case studies and proposes ideas for transforming institutional practice.

Embracing Cultural Competency Patricia St. Onge, Beth Applegate, Vicki Asakura, Monika K Moss, 2009-07-10 Start the Conversation No how to manual exists on cultural competency. And compared to other topics in nonprofit management, little exists on the skills and strategies needed to address racism and inequity. Building cultural competency is an ongoing journey that nonprofit leaders choose to take because they know the end result will be a more inclusive, connected, and effective organization. Patricia St. Onge and her contributing authors help readers grapple with the urgent issues that can transform capacity builders into change agents in the nonprofit sector. Embracing Cultural Competency starts the dialogue on how organizations can start building capacity. Nonprofit capacity builders will discover a framework to help discuss issues related to cultural competency, learn about methods, practices, and values that define cultural competency, and culturally based work in nonprofit capacity building. Understand the complexities within ethnic communities, gain insights into the nature of institutionalized racism. Through a range of methods: literature review, personal interviews, peer dialogue, insights of contributing authors, readers get a mosaic of perspectives that surround cultural competency. Plus, the book presents the insights of authors who represent five major ethnic communities in the United States: Asian, Pacific Islander, American Indian, African American, White, and Latino.

International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Social (In)Justice Ira Bogotch, Carolyn M. Shields, 2013-11-11 The International Handbook on Educational Leadership and Social In Justice creates a first of its kind international forum on conceptualizing the meanings of social justice and leadership research approaches in studying social justice and combating social injustices, school, university, and teacher leadership for social justice advocacy, and advocates for social justice, socio-cultural representations of social injustices, global policies, and leadership development as interventions. The Handbook is as much forward looking as it is a retrospective review of educational research literatures on social justice from a variety of educational subfields including educational leadership, higher education, academic networks, special education, health education, teacher education.

professional development policy analyses and multicultural education The Handbook celebrates the promises of social justice while providing the educational leadership research community with concrete contextualized illustrations on how to address inequities and combat social political and economic injustices through the processes of education in societies and educational institutions around the world      Black Colleges Across the Diaspora M.
