AB Bookman's Weekly, 1998 Witnessing Sadism in Texts of the American South Professor Claire Raymond, 2014-04-28 Looking at works by Carrie Mae Weems Toni Morrison Emily Dickinson Flannery O Connor Dorothy Allison Carson McCullers and Zora Neale Hurston Raymond uncovers a pattern of femininity constructed around representations of sadistic violence in American women s literature and photography Raymond explores the idea that a femininity constructed by the positioning of the feminine character as witness to sadistic acts is a phenomenon distinctly of the American South that is linked to the culture s history of racism Intersectional Trauma in American Women Writers' Incest Novels from the 1990s Marinella Rodi-Risberg, 2022-03-24 This book explores the intersections of sexualized gendered and racialized traumas in five US novels about father daughter incest from the 1990s It examines how incest can be connected to wider past and present structural oppression and institutional abuse and what fiction looks like that testifies against and references a historical background of slavery poverty settler colonialism annexation and immigration Investigating the means of resistance used against attempts at silencing and denial in these texts the book also shows how contemporary women s novels can propose social change Overall this study uniquely argues that the individual trauma of incest in these texts must be understood in relation to histories of and present collective wounding against marginalized communities By sitting at the intersections between trauma theory and US third world feminism it allows for theory to meet literary activism The Limits of Autobiography Leigh Gilmore, 2023-07-15 In The Limits of Autobiography Leigh Gilmore analyzes texts that depict trauma by combining elements of autobiography fiction biography history and theory in ways that challenge the constraints of autobiography Astute and compelling readings of works by Michel Foucault Louis Althusser Dorothy Allison Mikal Gilmore Jamaica Kincaid and Jeanette Winterson explore how each poses the questions How have I lived and How will I live in relation to the social and psychic forms within which trauma emerges First published in 2001 this new edition of one of the foundational texts in trauma studies includes a new preface by the author that assesses the gravitational pull between life writing and trauma in the twenty first century a tension that continues to produce innovative and artful means of confronting kinship violence and self representation Listen Here Sandra L.
