A Chinaman's Chance Liping Zhu,1997 Writers and historians have traditionally portrayed Chinese immigrants in the nineteenth century American West as victims For them the American frontier was a place that offered no more than a Chinaman s chance By examining the early history of the Boise Basin Idaho Liping Zhu challenges the stereotypical image of the Chinese pioneers Looking at various aspects of their experience he takes an entirely new approach to the study of this ethnic minority Between 1863 and 1910 a large number of Chinese immigrants resided in Idaho s Boise Basin searching for gold As in many Rocky Mountain mining camps they comprised a majority of the population Unlike settlers in many other boom and bust western mining towns the Chinese in the Boise Basin managed to stay there for more than half a century Like other pioneers the Chinese immigrants in this unique Rocky Mountain mining region had equal access to the pursuit of happiness Their basic material needs were guaranteed and many individuals were able to accumulate a considerable amount of wealth and climb up the economic ladder The Chinese equality was also seen in frontier justice To settle the disputes they frequently challenged white opponents in the various courts as well as in gun battles Thus the Chinese played all the stereotypical frontier roles victors victims and villains Despite occasional conflicts and personal rivalries race relations between the Chinese and Euroamericans were relatively good cultural accommodation not confrontation was the predominant theme The Idaho Chinese actually received opportunities far beyond what has been assumed
