Employment and Training Administration, 1978 American Indian Basketry Otis Tufton Mason, 1988-01-01 The origins of basketry are lost in the mists of prehistory but making baskets is certainly one of the oldest and most nearly universal crafts of mankind In the Americas basket artifacts found in caves in Utah have been dated at 7000 B C while twined baskets said to be at least 5 000 years old have been uncovered in Peru In the American Southwest an entire Indian culture ca 100 700 A D is known as Basket Maker because of the distinctive baskets it produced This exhaustive survey two volumes in one of American Indian basketry perhaps the finest book ever published on the subject documents basketmaking throughout the Americas in Eastern North America Alaska and the Pacific Northwest Western Canada Oregon California and the Interior Basin as well as Mexico Central and South America Spanning a wide range of indigenous cultures Aleutian Tlinkit Shoshonean Athapascam etc the detailed carefully researched discussions in this book offer a wealth of information about woven and coiled basketry watertight basketry materials basketmaking techniques and preparation ornamentation and symbolism as well as the uses of baskets as receptacles in preparing and serving food for gleaned and milled in mortuary customs in religion and social life in trapping carrying water and in many other areas of Indian life An interesting and informative chapter on collectors and collections and the preservation of baskets followed by a helpful biography rounds out the book In addition the author once Curator of Ethnology at the U S National Museum part of the Smithsonian Institution enhanced this encyclopedic study with over 450 excellent photographs and illustrations For collectors preservationists anthropologists students of crafts and culture modern basketmakers this is an indispensable reference a massively rich source of information about baskets the peoples who made them how they were made and their role in native American life and culture Bulletin ,1916 Register of the University of California University of California, Berkeley, 1923

It seems that Mauss's fame has grown in inverse proportion to knowledge of his actual writings. It should therefore be a matter of celebration that his occasional writings on techniques and technology have been published in English when we look more closely at what Mauss did and did not do his iconic status may be somewhat tarnished. But his general example still has the power to inspire and maybe that is what counts. JRAI The appearance of these two essays in English for the first time attests to the continuing interest in Marcel Mauss and the fact that re-readings of his work still provide not only fertile ground for new interpretations of the Durkheimian school in general but also a source of inspiration for scholars approaching Mauss as a remarkably contemporary voice still speaking in many ways to current issues in sociology and anthropology. Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute Marcel Mauss's writings on techniques and technology are at the forefront of an important anthropological and sociological research tradition and they also highlight the theoretical and ideological challenges surrounding this field of study. A selection of Mauss's texts including his major statements on methodology on body techniques on practical reason on nation and civilisation on progress and so forth are here translated and presented together for the first time with a discussion of their context impact and implications. This book will interest scholars and students dealing with the French sociological tradition and also more generally those concerned with technology and material culture studies in archaeological anthropological or contemporary settings. Nathan Schlanger coordinates the AREA project Archives of European Archaeology at the INHA Paris. He has published on prehistoric archaeology on the technological contributions of Mauss and Leroi Gourhan and on the history of archaeology in colonial African contexts.
