Bastard Out of Carolina Dorothy Allison, 2012-08-02 About as close to flawless as any reader could ask for The New York Times Book Review For anyone who has ever felt the contempt of a self righteous world this book will resonate within you like a gospel choir For anyone who hasn't this book will be an education Barbara Kingsolver Carolina in the 1950s and Bone christened Ruth Anna Boatwright lives a happy life in and out of her aunt's houses playing with her cousins on the porch sipping ice tea loving her little sister Reece and her beautiful young mother But Glen Waddell has been watching them all wanting her mother too and when he promises a new life for the family her mother gratefully accepts Soon Bone finds herself in a different terrible world living in fear and an exile from everything she knows Bastard Out of Carolina is a raw poignant tale of fury power love and family This edition contains an introduction by the author Dorothy Allison was awarded the 2007 Robert Penn Warren Award for Fiction and has been likened to Flannery O'Connor William Faulkner and Harper Lee

New York Magazine, 1996-12-16 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea

The World Is Our Home Jeffrey J. Folks, Nancy Summers Folks, 2014-07-15 Since the early 1970s southern fiction has been increasingly attentive to social issues including the continuing struggles for racial justice and gender equality the loss of a sense of social community and the decline of a coherent regional identity The essays in The World Is Our Home focus on writers who have explicitly addressed social and cultural issues in their fiction and drama including Dorothy Allison Horton Foote Ernest J. Gaines Jill McCorkle Walker Percy Lee Smith William Styron Alice Walker and many others The contributors provide valuable insights into the transformation of southern culture over the past thirty years and probe the social and cultural divisions that persist The collection makes an important case for the centrality of social critique in contemporary southern fiction

The Spaces of Violence James Giles, 2006-04-09 Probes the interrelationship of violence and space in 10 contemporary American novels James R. Giles examines 10 novels for the unique ways they explore violence and space as interrelated phenomena These texts are Russell Banks's Affliction Cormac McCarthy's Outer Dark and Child of God Lewis Nordan's Wolf Whistle Dorothy Allison's Bastard Out of Carolina Don DeLillo's End Zone Denis Johnson's Angels Sherman Alexie's Indian Killer Robert Stone's Dog Soldiers and Bret Easton Ellis's American Psycho These stories take place in settings as diverse as small towns college campuses suburbs the brokerage houses and luxury apartments of Wall Street football stadiums Appalachian hills and America's no man's land of Greyhound bus stations and highways Violence Giles finds is mythological and ritual in many of these novels whereas it is treated as systemic and naturalistic in others Giles locates each of the novels he studies on a continuum from the mythological to the naturalistic and argues that they represent a fourthspace at the margins of physical social and psychological space a territory at the cultural borders of the mainstream These textual spaces are so saturated with violence that they suggest little or no potential for change and affirmation and are as degraded as the physical social and mental spaces out of which they emerge A concluding chapter extends the focus of The Spaces of Violence to texts by Jane Smiley Toni Morrison Edwidge Danticat and Chuck Palahniuk who treat the destructive effects of violence on family structures Haunted Bodies Anne Goodwyn Jones, Susan Van D'Elden Donaldson, 1997 In Haunted Bodies Anne Goodwyn Jones and Susan V Donaldson have brought together some of our most highly regarded southern historians and literary critics to consider race gender and texts through three centuries and from a wealth of vantage points Works as diverse as eighteenth century court petitions and lyrics of 1970s rock music demonstrate how definitions of southern masculinity and femininity have been subject to bewildering shifts and disabling contradictions for centuries Literary Trauma Deborah M. Horvitz, 2000-11-02 Examines representations of political psychological and sexual violence in seven novels by American women Encyclopedia of Feminist Literature Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2014-05-14 An accessible one volume encyclopedia this addition to the Literary Movements series is a comprehensive reference guide to the history and development of feminist literature from early fairy tales to works by great women writers of today Driving Women Deborah Clarke, 2007-04-15 Publisher description Law and Literature Brook Thomas, 2002 The New Southern Girl Caren J. Town, 2015-01-24 Much has been written about America's troubled teens particularly endangered teenage girls Works like Mary Pipher's Reviving Ophelia and many others have contributed to the general perception that contemporary young women are in a state of crisis Parents educators social scientists and other concerned individuals worry that our nation's girls are losing their ambition moral direction and self esteem as they enter adolescence which can then lead them to promiscuous sex anorexia drug abuse and at the very least declining math scores In spite of evidence to the contrary in life and literature this bleak picture is seldom challenged but a good place to begin may be with recent literary representations of young women fictional and autobiographical which show proud young women who are highly focused and use their brains and good humor to work toward satisfying adult lives This book addresses the ways in which 12 women writers use their heroines stories to challenge commonly held and frequently damaging notions of adolescence femininity and regional identity The book begins with a chapter on sociological and literary theories of adolescent female development This chapter also includes theoretically informed discussions of young adult fiction and Southern literature Chapters that follow focus on adolescent heroines in the novels and autobiographies of the contemporary Southern women writers Anne Tyler Bobbie Ann Mason Josephine Humphreys Dorothy Allison Kaye Gibbons Tina Ansa Janisse Ray and Jill McCorkle and young adult writers Katherine Paterson Mildred Taylor and Cynthia Voigt Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Women's Studies Quarterly (98:1-2) Renny Christopher, Lisa Orr, Linda J. Strom, 1998-06 This vital and engaging collection expands and builds upon

Women's Studies Quarterly's groundbreaking 1995 volume honored with an award from the Council of Editors of Learned Journals. The poetry testimony analysis history and theory collected here which includes works by Patti See and Janet Zandy not only suggests connective threads for understanding working class experiences and literatures but also explores intersections of race ethnicity gender sexual orientation and class. Such explorations are arranged around the issue's four themes: family education the workplace and identity. From South African sexual relationships to teaching Medieval studies to working class students to the politics of a deaf workers publication to poems written in prison this issue testifies to the growing depth and scope of working class studies. Essential reading for all interested in the field this issue offers an invaluable framework for discussing working class literature culture and artistic production while also attending to the material conditions of working class peoples lives.

Embodied Shame J. Brooks Bouson, 2010-07-02 How does physical emotional and sexual abuse shape women's perceptions of their bodies and identities? How are women's psyches affected by the sexual racial and cultural denigration that occurs when women's bodies are represented as defective spoiled damaged or dirtied? Embodied Shame skillfully explores these questions in the context of recent writings by North American women contributing to work in shame theory and to feminist analyses of the intersections of theories of the body affect emotions narrative and trauma. By examining popular contemporary fictional and nonfictional texts including Alice Munro's Lives of Girls and Women Dorothy Allison's Bastard Out of Carolina Toni Morrison's The Bluest Eye Edwidge Danticat's Breath Eyes Memory and Lucy Grealy's Autobiography of a Face J. Brooks Bouson illuminates how deeply entrenched bodily shame continues to operate in contemporary culture even as we celebrate the supposed freeing of the female body from the social and cultural constraints that have long bound it.

Witnessing Sadism in Texts of the American South Claire Raymond, 2019-10-28 Looking at works by Carrie Mae Weems Toni Morrison Emily Dickinson Flannery O'Connor Dorothy Allison Carson McCullers and Zora Neale Hurston Claire Raymond uncovers a pattern of femininity constructed around representations of sadistic violence in American women's literature and photography from the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Dickinson's poetry is read through its relationship to the Southern Agrarian critics who championed her work. While the representations of violence found in Carrie Mae Weems's installation From Here I Saw What Happened and I Cried Morrison's Beloved Dickinson's poetry O'Connor's A View of the Woods and A Good Man Is Hard to Find Allison's Bastard Out of Carolina McCullers' Ballad of the Sad Café and Hurston's Mules and Men are diverse in terms of artistic presentation all allude to or are set in the antebellum and Jim Crow South. In addition all involve feminine characters whose subjectivity is shaped by the practice of seeing acts of violence inflicted where there can be no effective resistance. While not proposing an equivalence between representing violence in visual images and written text Raymond does suggest that visual images of violence can be interpreted in context with written evocations of violent imagery. Invoking sadism in its ethical sense of violence enacted on a victim for whom self defense and recourse of any kind are impossible Raymond's study is ultimately an
