Back Talk

Dwight B. Billings, Gurney Norman,
Katherine Ledford

Back Talk:

Back Talk from Appalachia Dwight B. Billings, Gurney Norman, Katherine Ledford, While writing his book Lost Mountain A Year in the Vanishing Wilderness Erik Reece spent a great deal of time studying strip mining and its effect on the environment and surrounding communities After a year of exploring the ugliness of a rapidly disappearing landscape Reece felt a strong need to celebrate the wonder the Eastern broadleaf forests still have to offer The result is a collection of poems by individuals who share Thoreau's belief that the natural world is an unroofed church a place of reverence Field Work Modern Poems from Eastern Forests seeks an answer to Frost's question What to make of a diminished thing by contemplating work from some of the twentieth century's greatest nature poets Reece frames contemporary American poems with a rich selection of Chinese poetry from the Tang Dynasty written by poets who produced what many consider the first great nature writing More than 1 300 years ago Li Po Tu Fu Wang Wei and Han Shan described a landscape in southern China remarkably similar in landscape and ecology to the forests of Appalachia Consequently their work has inspired many of the American poets featured in Field Work including Hayden Carruth Mary Oliver A R Ammons Jane Kenyon and Denise Levertov The modern poets in this collection share the eastern reverence for the natural world they desire to create a poetry of belonging of elemental contact with something much larger than the self These poems ask the reader to turn away from urban landscapes in an effort to better understand the natural world as a spectacular profound organism Wendell Berry for example praises the quiet and solitude of nature inspiring the reader to experience each poem in the setting for which it was written In Field Work Reece brings together a collection of poetry that calls readers out of doors as these poems become gateways to a natural world we are often too distracted to see

End Your Child's Disrespectful Back Talk and Abusive Behavior Today Susan Zeppieri, 2022-01-28 Raising a child to be respectful is a full time job It can be difficult to balance the overwhelming love you feel for your child and the need to discipline them It is more beneficial for your child when you are a parent that sets boundaries and holds yourself to enforcing the rules Parental authority describes the responsibilities and duties that a parent has to their child until they reach the age of maturity 18 Parental authority grants you the opportunity to have the final say in what happens to your child and how they will be raised as well as a promise to watch out for their safety and well being Parental authority also carries the weight of the decisions the parent must make to help their child grow up and navigate the world around them and to become a productive member of society Raising children to become adults who will be responsible and treat others with respect and kindness is the goal of every parent which is why it is crucial to know how to bring up well balanced children who know how to respect you This book provides struggling parents with some insights and strategies into how to address a disrespectful child and how to raise children who know how to listen and follow through
