Back To Bataan:

Multiculturalism and Representation John Rieder, Larry E. Smith, 1996-01-01 The Star-entangled Banner Sharon Delmendo, 2005 This work looks at the problematic relationship between the Philippines and the US It argues that when faced with a national crisis or a compelling need to reestablish its autonomy each nation paradoxically turns to its history with the other to define its place in the world The Bataan Death March Robert Greenberger, 2009 Discusses the Bataan Death March of April 1942 in which tens of thousands of American and Filipino prisoners of war were forced to march miles under brutal conditions to a prison camp World War II in the Pacific Stanley Sandler, 2003-12-16 Stanley Sandler one of America's most respected and best known military historians has brought together over 300 entries by some 200 specialists in the field to create the first encyclopedia specifically devoted to the Pacific Theatre of World War II Extending far beyond battles and hardware the coverage ranges from high policy making grand strategy and the significant persons and battles of the conflict to the organization of the Allied and Japanese divisions aircraft armor artillery psychological warfare warships and the home fronts covering the interactions of each topic along the way Best Years Charles Affron, Mirella Jona Affron, 2009-08-14 Americans flocked to the movies in 1945 and 1946 the center point of the three decade heyday of the studio system's sound era Why Best Years is a panoramic study shining light on this critical juncture in American history and the history of American cinema the end of World War II 1945 and a year of unprecedented success in Hollywood's Golden Age 1946 This unique time the last year of war and the first full year of peace provides a rich blend of cinema genres and types from the battlefield to the home front the peace film to the woman's film psychological drama and the period's provocative new style film noir Best Years focuses on films that were famous infamous forgotten and unforgettable Big budget A films road shows and familiar series share the spotlight From Bergman and Grant in Notorious to Abbott and Costello in Lost in a Harem Charles Affron and Mirella Jona Affron examine why the bond between screen and viewer was perhaps never tighter Paying special attention to the movie going public in key cities Atlanta New York Boston Honolulu and Chicago this ambitious work takes us on a cinematic journey to recapture a magical time Inside the Bataan Death March Kevin C. Murphy, 2014-10-27 For two weeks during the spring of 1942 the Bataan Death March one of the most widely condemned atrocities of World War II unfolded The prevailing interpretation of this event is simple American prisoners of war suffered cruel treatment at the hands of their Japanese captors while Filipinos sympathetic to the Americans looked on Most survivors of the march wrote about their experiences decades after the war and a number of factors distorted their accounts The crucial aspect of memory is central to this study how it is constructed by whom and for what purpose This book questions the prevailing interpretation reconsiders the actions of all three groups in their cultural contexts and suggests a far greater complexity Among the conclusions is that violence on the march was largely the result of a clash of cultures undisciplined individualistic Americans encountered Japanese who valued order and form while Filipinos were active even ambitious participants in the drama We'll Always Have the Movies Robert L. McLaughlin, Sally E. Parry, 2006-03-03 We'll Always Have the Movies explores how movies made in Hollywood during World War II were vehicles for helping Americans understand the war Far from being simplistic flag waving propaganda designed to evoke emotional reactions these films offered audiences narrative structures that formed a foundation for grasping the nuances of war These films asked audiences to consider the implications of the Nazi threat they put a face on both our enemies and allies and they explored changing wartime gender roles We'll Always Have the Movies reveals how film after film repeated the narratives character types and rhetoric that made the war and each American's role in it comprehensible Robert L. McLaughlin and Sally E. Parry have screened more than 600 movies made between 1937 and 1946 including many never before discussed in this context and have analyzed the cultural and historical importance of these films in explaining the war to moviegoers Pre Pearl Harbor films such as Sergeant York Foreign Correspondent and The Great Dictator established the rationale for the war in Europe After the United States entered the war films such as Air Force So Proudly We Hail and Back to Bataan conveyed reasons for U.S. involvement in the Pacific The Hitler Gang Sahara and Bataan defined our enemies and Mrs. Miniver Mission to Moscow and Dragon Seed defined our allies Some movies The Miracle of Morgan's Creek Hail the Conquering Hero and Lifeboat among them explored homefront anxieties about the war's effects on American society Of the many films that sought to explain the politics behind and the social impact of the war and why it concerned Americans Casablanca is perhaps one of the most widely recognized McLaughlin and Parry argue that Rick's Café Américain serves as a United Nations sheltering characters who represent countries being oppressed by Germany At Rick's these characters learn that they share a common love of freedom which is embodied in patriotism from this commonality they overcome their differences and work together to solve a conflict that affects them all As the representative American Rick Blaine Humphrey Bogart cannot idly stand by in the face of injustice and he ultimately sides with those being oppressed Bogart's character is a metaphor for America which could also come out of its isolationism to be a true world leader and unite with its allies to defeat a common enemy Collectively Hollywood's war era films created a mythic history of the war that even today has more currency than the actual events of World War II The Star-spangled Screen Bernard F. Dick, The American World War II film depicted a united America a mythic America in which the average guy the girl next door the 4 F patriot and the grieving mother were suddenly transformed into heroes and heroines warriors and goddesses The Star Spangled Screen examines the historical accuracy or lack thereof of films about the Third Reich the Resistance and major military campaigns Concerned primarily with the films of the war years it also includes discussions of such postwar movies as Battleground 1949 Attack 1956 The Bridge on the River Kwai 1957 and Patton 1970 This revised edition includes a new afterword that covers more recent films such as Sophie's Choice 1982 Biloxi Blues 1986 and Schindler's List 1993 The Star Spangled Screen makes a major contribution to popular culture by recreating an era that for all its tragedy was one of the most creative in the history of American film John
