Catalogue of the Officers and Students Eastern Michigan University, 1897 Conservation in the Anthropocene Fred Van Dyke, 2025-03-06 This book provides a critical assessment of conservation in the Anthropocene grounded in the personal historical and cultural development of human interaction with nature The author argues that conservation can no longer be primarily about preserving nature but must adapt its efforts to promote changes through which humans create a landscape that is neither abandoned nor degraded but used well by humans and non humans alike The book first reviews the origin of ideas and conditions that have led to the concept and classification of the Anthropocene and explores how the author's own interactions with nature were shaped through his experience as a conservation biologist Next it considers how humans have come to be the primary drivers of ecological activity geological events and climate change Chapters then focus on the need for new conservation thinking regarding novel ecosystems urban conservation the role of Indigenous Peoples in conservation and the value of protected areas PAs parks and wilderness The book concludes by identifying strategies for effective conservation and argues for a new formulation of conservation values that redefine human relationships and interaction with nature Chapters are enlivened by the personal experiences of the author and the first person narratives of conservation activists and scientists throughout the world who are learning to practice and succeed in conservation efforts under Anthropogenic conditions Drawing on global examples this book will be of great value to students and scholars of biodiversity conservation and environmental science ready to consider a new way of looking at the care and nurture of nature in the Anthropocene Studies in the History of Educational Theory Vol 1 (RLE Edu H) G Bantock, 2012-05-16 This book examines key theorists in depth in order to give some insight into cultural change as reflected in their curricular recommendations and in the interplay they reveal between the two fundamental educational concepts of artifice and nature The essays on the various theorists Erasmus Vives Castiglione Elyot Montaigne Bacon Comenius Locke and Rousseau can be read separately but the book also forms an integrated whole with a continuity of themes explored from theorist to theorist The book not only charts a historical development but also reveals much that may deepen our understanding of contemporary educational dilemmas Department Bulletin United States. Department of Agriculture, 1928 Ideology and False Consciousness Christopher L. Pines, 1993-07-01 In this book Christopher Pines demonstrates that Karl Marx conceived of ideology as false consciousness He shows how the different meanings of false consciousness found in the writings of Marx and Engels reflect the influence of the views of the Baconian French Enlightenment and of Hegelian Feuerbachian philosophies Pines argues that for Marx the diverse senses of false consciousness all generally denote a social consciousness that takes certain false things to be true regarding matters of significance to class divided societies Catalogue Indiana University, 1890 The parables of our Lord explained and applied Francis Bourdillon, 1868 The Renaissance and 17th Century Rationalism Prof G H R Parkinson (Author), G.H.R. Annual Catalogue of Beloit College Beloit College,1895 American Sympathy Caleb Crain,2008-10-01 A friend in history Henry David Thoreau once wrote looks like some premature soul And in the history of friendship in early America Caleb Crain sees the soul of the nation s literature In a sensitive analysis that weaves together literary criticism and historical narrative Crain describes the strong friendships between men that supported and inspired some of America s greatest writing the Gothic novels of Charles Brockden Brown the essays of Ralph Waldo Emerson and the novels of Herman Melville He traces the genealogy of these friendships through a series of stories A dapper English spy inspires a Quaker boy to run away from home Three Philadelphia gentlemen conduct a romance through diaries and letters in the 1780s Flighty teenager Charles Brockden Brown metamorphoses into a horror novelist by treating his friends as his literary guinea pigs

Emerson exchanges glances with a Harvard classmate but sacrifices his crush on the altar of literature a decision Margaret Fuller invites him to reconsider two decades later Throughout this engaging book Crain demonstrates the many ways in which the struggle to commit feelings to paper informed the shape and texture of American literature Catalog of Copyright Entries.
